BLOW AT DOMINION IS NOT PLAN OF GERMANS

Washington, Oct. 26.—Although Germany contends that Canada, by sending troops against Germany, has violated the spirit of the Monroe doctrine, Germany has no intention of attacking Canada nor attempting to colonize that dominion, according to this statement issued here today by the German embassy.

"The German point of view is that by joining in an European war Canada has put herself outside of the pale of the Monroe doctrine. But Germany has not the intention of attacking Canada, nor of colonizing Canada."

The statement was in amplification of the view expressed yesterday by Count von Bernstorff, the American ambassador, that by taking part in the war the Canadians had justified an aggressive campaign against themselves.

To further explain the reason that caused the German government in a formal note delivered to the state department on September 3 by Count von Bernstorff, voluntarily pledging Germany not to attempt colonial expansion in South America, no matter what the outcome of the war, the embassy issued this statement:

"The note was written at that time because Winston Churchill has said, in his message to the American people, that if Germany was victorious in the present war she would attack the Monroe doctrine."

Sir Cecil Spring Rice, the British ambassador, by instruction of Sir Edward Grey, issued a warning today to American shippers through the state department to consign all cargoes bound for neutral countries to the neutral government or a specific consignee.

German Property in France.

German property in France, taken over by the French government, has not been confiscated but merely taken into trusteeship for its protection, according to a statement at the French embassy today supplementing a dispatch from the foreign office at Bordeaux, describing seizure of French property by the Germans in Alsace-Lorraine. The dispatch follows:

"The German government, according to reports received from Switzerland, intends to seize personal and real estate belonging to the French in Alsace-Lorraine in reprisal for the seizure of German property in France. I consider it hardly necessary to state that the French official government circular of the 14th of October referred to by the Germans merely enforced protectionary measures for placing German property situated in France under trusteeship of the government."

ENGLAND EAGER FOR NEWS.

Progress of Germans After Crossing Yser is Unknown.

London, Oct. 26.—What progress, if any, the German right has made since crossing the Yser, between Nieuport and Dixmude, in Belgium on Saturday, stood today high above all other questions asked in England concerning the situation of the allied armies.

That the Germans crossed this barrier is admitted by both sides, but whether in crossing it they have been enabled to push forward or whether they have met such opposition from the British and Belgian armies as to be held from swaying beyond the western bank, is yet to be recorded in official statements.

The fight in this canal-webbed section of Belgium, to penetrate which and gain the channel ports, Germany has been sacrificing so many soldiers, covers a comparatively small area of the whole battle line in France and Belgium, but here unquestionably the dead lie thickest. This fact is due not only to the determined rush of the German forces, but also to the accurate fire of the British and French warships.

Blame It to Crown Prince.

According to the Star's Rome correspondent the German crown prince presided over the Austro-German council of war, held on Oct. 12, when the German advance on the Vistula was decided on which has met with such a decisive defeat.

According to the newspaper Handelsblat, the Belgian flag is now flying above Esschen, twenty miles north of Antwerp. All the German soldiers have been withdrawn.

Preparing for Defense.

The correspondent of the Times at Rotterdam sends the following:

"It is clear that the Germans are putting Antwerp in a state for defense. In most of the important forts the Belgian guns have been replaced with German fortress artillery of the latest type.

"The bridge between Antwerp and Pais de Waes, which the retreating Belgians damaged, had been repaired. Evidently the Germans are preparing a line of retreat from the Ostend-Dixmude line.

"The authorities have ordered the railroads to cease the free conveyance of refugees from Holland to Antwerp. Only a small garrison is at present in Antwerp, probably not more than 3,000 men.

England is now speculating on when the Germans, influenced by the presence of rival ships, will attempt to bring uits of their own navy into action off tthe Belgian coast.

Dodging Here and There.

German submarines have been dodging here and there off the coast during the past week. So far no successes have been credited them and it is contended here that the German people must be clamoring for naval retaliation. It would not surprise the British, therefore, is the sea phase of the struggle became more general and more pronounced in the near future, though nothing like a general naval action is expected.

There has been no marked change in the situation since the latest official communications were issued. The contending forces were at each others' throats today principally along that line stretching from Nieuport to the river Lys. A struggle violent, but perhaps less active, is raging thence southward to Arras.

DEAD MEN WERE NOT IDENTIFIED

Hicksville, Ohio, Oct. 26.—Without identification the bodies of two young men killed on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks, two miles east of here, have been buried in the Hicksville cemetery. When the fast New York and Chicago express train reached here Saturday morning the engineer reported that he had struck something east of town and asked that an investigation be made. Section men sent to the scene found the badly mangled remains of two men scattered along the track. Each was so badly cut up that recognition was impossible. Coroner Chapman came here from Defiance and finding identification impossible ordered the bodies buried. One of the men appeared to be about 24 years old and the other about 20. It is believed they were foreigners and were resting on the track and fell asleep.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The supreme efforts of the fighting men of five nations have failed to turn the tide of battle along the Franco-Belgian border. Latest reports today were that a struggle of unparalleled fury was still in progress along the North sea, where the Germans with reckless bravery are flinging their troops against the allied forces. The French official statement indicates that an attempt to cut off the German right wing had made some progress. If, as said, the allies have established a front from Ypres to Roulers, the German line has been thrust back in a sharp angle, the point of which is considerably to the northward of British forces on the shore of the North sea. The German movement across the Yser which presented a menacing aspect to the allies, has been checked, the French war office says.

All accounts agree that the toll of human life exacted in the crucial struggle is enormous. Three meadows near Ostend, a British correspondent reports, are heaped with German dead. From the remainder of the long line of battle stretching to the south and east across France to the edge of Switzerland, there is no word.

Reports from the eastern front indicate that the greatest battle of the war in that area is impending. Austria in its latest official statement makes the claim to having thrust strong forces across the Carpathians into the face of determined resistance.

German and Austrian forces, it is said, have now a strong wall of troops along a well established line which stretches from the northern shores of the Carpathians before the long disputed fortress of Przemysl and on into the district of Plock. Before this line is arranged the main army of the Russians now said to have been reinforced by troops from the Caucasus, Siberia and Turkestan. The Austrians claim successes in engagements to the northeast of Przemysl and on the lower San.

Latest dispatches from Petrograd say that the Germans are "continuing their precipitate retreat," and have evacuated Lodz, in Poland. An attempt by the Germans to check the Russian advance, it is said, was unsuccessful. No word has come of early afternoon fighting at Tsin-Tau where a small German garrison is attempting to stand off attacks by land and sea from the combined Japanese and British forces.

Holland Soldiers Care for Lost Belgian Babies

WILL DEPOSE FIRST CHIEF

Conference Soon to Oust General Carranza from Power.

SILLIMAN MAKES REPORT ON PLAN

Mexican Body Will Substitute a Provisional President.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Official reports received here today indicated that the Mexican national convention at Aguas Calientas would today or tomorrow depose Gen. Carranza as first chief and substitute a provisional president.

American Consul Silliman reported he was reliably informed of Gen. Carranza's intention to retire under conditions that no objections would be interposed to his candidacy at a regular election, and that the tenure of the provisional government should be short. Officials here believed that while Carranza refused to take the initiative in submitting his resignation, he would abide by the convention's decision should it vote to retire him. Evidence of that was contained in official advices which reported Carranza making no extraordinary military preparations.

Conflicting reports had been received by the state department as to Carranza's attitude. While no confirmation has been received of reported disturbances in Mexico City, official advices told of a general order by Carranza deposing many commanders who were Villa adherents at the convention and appointing others in their places.

Similarly a decree was issued by Carranza informing all chiefs throughout the republic that he was still first chief and to obey orders only from him instead of the convention. The convention has discussed that in secret session, but no report of the result of its deliberation has been received.

The war department received from Col. Hatfield, commanding American troops on the Arizona border, a message saying that Governor Maytorena, of Sonora, was slowly and reluctantly yielding and the Yaqui Indians were defiantly leaving Naco.

OHIO CASE IS ADVANCED.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Because of its importance the supreme court today advanced for hearing ono December 7 the Ohio National Guard case, involving the power of the president to order the national guard of the states to foreign territory without first having mustered them in as volunteers of the United States army. The New York Tribune case, involving the right of the government to compel a newspaper editor or reporter to divulge the source of his information and the Oregon minimum wage law cases also were advanced to that date.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Secretary of Agriculture Houston, who arrived here to address the convention of the National Dairy association show, said that the epidemic of mouth disease in southern Michigan and northern Indiana was not beyond control.

He said precautions now being taken, including the extermination of afflicted animals, probably would prevent the disease from further spread.

WILL MAP OUT NEW PROGRAM

Special Committee on Cotton Legislation Holds a Meeting.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Plans for the administration program at the December session of congress will be discussed by President Wilson and party leaders at a forthcoming conference. The president expects the house will be busy with appropriation bills until February and the senate meanwhile may busy itself with other measures—among them the Philippine bill.

The bill for the purchase of a government-owned merchant marine would be taken up, the president said, unless something more important commanded attention.

Cotton Committee Meets.

The special committee on cotton legislation named by the house just before adjournment of congress met today to consider the situation in the south brought about by the European war. The resolution provided that this committee make a thorough investigation of the subject and report possible measures for federal aid in the cotton crisis by December 15.

Nearly all the members of both houses of congress had left Washington today.

There was considerable discussion today regarding Representative Henry's statement that an extra session would be called in November, but those close to President Wilson are of the opinion that he is not considering taking any such action.

Remains in Washington.

President Wilson plans to remain in Washington this week, but to see as few callers as possible, that he may shape his program and keep in touch with affairs in Europe and Mexico. He will go to Princeton next Tuesday to vote.

Many invitations to spend a few days at different points in the south after election have come to the white house, but so far no intention of accepting any of them has been indicated. Today the president was invited to go to Trenton for a "home coming day" in January. He may accept the invitation.

GERMANY HOLDS MANY PRISONERS

London, Oct. 26.—(3:40 a. m.)—A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam says that according to Berlin newspapers received there the number of war prisoners in Germany up to October 21 aggregated 296,869, including 5,401 officers. Of these it is said that there are 2,472 French officers and 146,897 men; 2,164 Russian officers and 104,524 men; 547 Belgian officers and 31,378 men, and 218 British officers and 8,669 men.

The Times in an editorial today dealing with the censorship question, compares the treatment accorded The Associated Press correspondents by the English and German governments to the disadvantage of the former. It says further:

"Perhaps Premier Asquith and his colleagues never heard of the great American institution known as The Associated Press. It is the most wonderful news organization in the world and nothing in Europe can compare with it. Its statements are generally accurate and are implicitly trusted throughout North America."

MARSHALL IS IN COLORADO

Denver, Col., Oct. 26.—Vice President Marshall reached Colorado today to aid the democratic state and congressional candidates in their campaign for election.

The vice president will give a reception at the democratic club this evening, after which he will make a public address in the city auditorium.

Mrs. Marshall accompanied the vice president from Washington.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

Robbers Turn on Gas in Bed Room of Couple in Ossian.

Ossian, Ind., Oct. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glass, well known residents of this place, had a narrow escape from death by asphyxiation when robbers turned on the gas in their bed room in what is believed to have been an attempt to stupefy them so that the house might be safely robbed. The marauders removed a chandelier from the sleeping room and attached a rubber pipe leading from the kitchen. Mr. Glass was aroused by difficulty of breathing and discovered that the room was full of gas. It is not believed that murder was intended. Mrs. Glass was unconscious for an hour after her husband had discovered the escaping gas.

POLICE PROBE TWO THEORIES

Finding of Body in Vault at Island Park Develops Mystery.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 26.—In attempting to solve the mystery surrounding the murder of Hazel Macklin, the 15-year-old girl, whose body was found in a privy vault, on Island Park, an abandoned picnic ground, Sunday afternoon, the police today are following two theories, as follows:

First—that the man who murdered the girl on the night of Aug. 19, the day she left home, committed suicide by drowning in the St. Joseph river.

Second—that the murderer was a resident of South Bend, and not a farmer, as was at first supposed and that he was about forty years old, about five feet eleven inches tall and of about 165 pounds weight. The man is described as being rather dark and as having a small mustache.

Saw Her Enter Carriage.

The finding of an unknown man in the east race, off the St. Joseph river, on August 20, nine days after the girl's disappearance is responsible for the first theory. This view, however, has lost considerable weight because the description does not tally with that given to the police today by an acquaintance of the girl, who has told the detectives that she saw the young woman step into a carriage, driven by a man of the above description. The last seen of the couple was when they passed Ernsperger street at Vistula avenue. This was about 7:30 o'clock. It is presumed that the couple drove to Island park, just across the river from the vicinity in which the girl stepped into the carriage.

From Charles Miller, a mason contractor, and uncle of the girl, the police have learned that she left her home about 6:30 p. m., August 19, with the intention of meeting a farmer who had advertised for a girl to do light housework. She had previously arranged by telephone to meet the farmer at the Ernsperger street car stop at 7:30 p.

LAST-MINUTE NEWS

FRENCH DESTROY GERMAN AEROPLANES.

London, Oct. 26.—(3:50 p. m.)—According to the Paris correspondent of the Express, five German aeroplanes were destroyed by the French on Saturday. Two Taubes were brought down at Rheims by a single French aviator, he says, who succeeded in getting to a higher altitude than the Germans and then fired on them with a revolver. Two other German "birds" were hit by the guns of the Meharicourt forts near Montdidor. A fifth German airman was wounded by a rifle shot at Gravelines, a seaport 12 miles east northeast of Calais.

Charles Pfanschmidt, father of the accused; Mathilda Pfanschmidt, his mother; Blanche Pfanschmidt, a sister, and Miss Emma Kaempen, a school teacher boarder, were found dead in the ruins of the Pfanschmidt home, eleven miles southeast of Quincy, on Sept. 29, 1912. The bodies, although badly burned in the fire which destroyed the house, showed signs of having been beaten and chopped. Ray Pfanschmidt, then not 21 years of age and the only surviving member of the family, was accused. At the first trial in March, 1913, the state made an effort to prove that Pfanschmidt, heavily in debt and engaged to marry Esther Reeder, killed his father, mother and sister in order to inherit the estate.

The jury, on the first ballot, voted Pfanschmidt guilty and he was sentenced to be executed Oct. 15. A writ of supersedeas was granted and the [illegible]

MAY MARK NEW STEP IN "ON TO CALAIS"

London, Oct. 26.—(9:55 a. m.)—As claimed by Berlin and acknowledged by Paris, the Germans undoubtedly have crossed the Yser river between Duxmude and Nieuport, but whether or not this means a forward step in the "on to Calais" movement may depend on operations further eastward.

Rumors continue to reach London of the impending evacuation of Ostend and the reduction in strength of the German garrison in Antwerp. This does not necessarily imply preparations for a retreat, but it may mean that the Germans are throwing every available man against the allies left in their effort to conquerer the channel ports.

Along the Belgian littoral the allies' fleet continues its bombardment. The great shells, traveling three miles inland, evidently have proved very effective, judging from the tragic fate of Gen. von Tripp and the members of his staff, who were killed by a projectile from a warship.

All reports agree that the fighting in west Flanders has been terrible beyond any other during the war. Projectiles hurled from the land, the sea and the air are sweeping this flat, unprotected country, destroying villages and searching out the terror-stricken inhabitants, who delayed too long in getting out of the line of fire.

Allies Repulse Attack.

Paris reports that to the west and to the south of Lille fierce attacks by the Germans have been repulsed. The most significant part of the Paris official communication relates that the French, with their heavy artillery, now command the road which is one of the principal lines of German communication with St. Mihiel—the holding of which by the invaders has constituted one of the greatest menaces to the allied lines. Reports indicate that the French aerial service has responded to the demand for reorganization, which followed the storm of criticism levelled at it because of the ease with which German aeroplanes dropped bombs on Paris. No recent aerial attacks have been made on the French capital and it is announced along the battle front that five German aeroplanes have been destroyed by French airmen.

Without Definite Result.

Reports from Vienna indicate that along the battle line from the Carpathians to the Russian border, through Galicia, the fighting continues, but without any definite result. Petrograd claims that the Germans still are retiring from Warsaw in precipitate flight and that they are also evacuating Lodz. The Germans attempted to arrest the Russian offensive movement at Sakhatchoff, but were dislodged from their positions there with heavy losses. The question of the early return of the French government to Paris is being seriously considered. This indicates that the military situation is satisfactory from the standpoint of the allies, but the authorities believe the battle along the seacoast, because of the German advance near La Bassee will be more prolonged than was first anticipated. If the government does return to Paris, such a step undoubtedly will have a tremendous moral effect.

Essad Pasha, the chronic disturber of the peace of Albania, is said to have invaded northern Epirus. If this is true it may bring about the entrance of Italy into the conflict, according to opinion. Essad's activity may compel Italy to consider the necessity of occupying Avlona, a step which might not meet with favor in Austria-Hungary.

The unfortunate man had just climbed from the G. R. & I. train where he had repaired a broken brake beam and was starting for the crossing between the incoming freight and the siding and was leading his bicycle.

Watchman Bogart from the crossing tower saw the cars leave the rails and shouted a warning to Schallenberger, but before he could escape one of the wrecked cars struck him, dragged him over the street and tracks and crushed him against the train on the opposite track. Death, it is thought, was instantaneous.

The police department was notified of the accident and officials were accompanied to the scene by Coroner Kruse, who ordered the mangled body removed and taken to the Mungovan & Ryan undertaking parlors.

Traffic Is Delayed.

One freight car was entirely demolished and four others were badly damaged and as a result of the wreck traffic over the Pennsylvania and Wabash lines through the city was tied up for four hours. One of the Pennsylvania cars left the rails at the frog connecting the Pennsylvania and Wabash tracks and this caused the wreck.

The train was traveling at a rate of eight miles an hour at the time. It was in charge of Engineer F. W. Botteron, 511 Buchanan street, and Conductor W. C. Browne, 2437 Hanna street.

Was a Favorite.

Mr. Schallenberger was a favorite in local railroad circles and news of his horrible death has cast a spell of gloom in the local offices and shops of the company. He was a native of Germany, having been born in Hessen Darmstadt in 1862. He came to America at the age of twenty years and after living a short time in New York city came to Fort Wayne. This city had been his place of residence continuously ever since.

One year ago Mr. Schallenberger and his daughter Teresa paid a visit to his old home in Germany. He was a member of St. Peter's Catholic church and was active in the affairs of the Married Men's sodality in that congregation. He was also a member of the Holy Name society. He was also active as a member of the Pennsylvania Veterans' Relief association.

He and Mrs. Schallenberger were married February 14, 1888, and surviving besides the widow he leaves the following children: Misses Teresa, Mary and Mildred, Joseph, Leo, Lawrence, Edward and Clement Schallenberger, all residing at home. One brother survives and resides in New York city.

FRENCH LINE HOLDS FIRMLY, SAYS PARIS

Paris, Oct. 26.—(2:54 p. m.)—The French official communication given out this afternoon says that yesterday the French line between Nieuport and Dixmude was maintained.

"During the day of yesterday," says the report, "our front along the general line between Nieuport and Dixmude was maintained. The German forces which crossed the Yser between those two towns have not been able to progress."

The incessant alternatives of advance and withdrawal on the part of the allies and the Germans, particularly in the north, furnished early today no basis for a summing as a general result. The Germans, judging from their frightful sacrifices of men, seem determined to force the battle to an issue. Nevertheless the French public after analyzing the situation as indicated in the latest war office statements, continued optimistic. While awaiting further news from the front there is considerable interest in the action the institute of France will take regarding its German correspondents and associates.

The institute is expected to meet today. There has been a considerable difference of views among the members as well as the academies forming the institute, while the press has taken a large part in the discussion. The result of the statitory dispositions and decrees there has been some difficulty in reaching a decision. Incidentally one of the academicians has expressed himself in favor of returning all of the diplomats and titles received from Germany.

DEMOCRACY FAILS SAYS FAIRBANK

Former Vice President Out in Letter to Indiana Republicans.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 26.—"Democracy has been put to the supreme test. It has been given power to put its policies into effect and as usual has failed," declared Charles W. Fairbanks, former vice president, in an open letter to republicans, made public today. The letter goes on to say that under democratic rule, business has halted, the farmer has been injured and increased taxes or bonds have become necessary to preserve the public credit.

"Let us begin the work of restoring prosperity," Mr. Fairbanks concludes his letter, "by electing a senator and representatives in Indiana who will stand for republican policies and uphold the hands of a republican president who will be elected in 1916. We know full well that our cause is just and that justice will triumph. The people are aroused as they have not been in recent years, and if we shall continue to rally to our colors as we have been doing, we shall win a far reaching victory. We invite to the support of our causes all of those who may have disagreed with us heretofore."

Dr. Maurice I. Rosenthal will read a paper at the weekly meeting of the Fort Wayne Medical society in the assembly room of the court house Tuesday evening. Dr. H. A. Duemling and Dr. B. Van Swearingen will take up the discussion after the reading of the paper.

ANSWERS QUERY IN AFFIRMATIVE

Man Survives Death of His Physical Body, Says Theosophist.

Does the human being survive the death of his physical body? That was the question that L. W. Rogers, national lecturer of the Theosophical society, put to the audience last night in the Odd Fellows' hall and proceeded to answer in the affirmitive. He discussed in detail the experiments of Sir William Crookes, and in the efforts to prove that there is a life after bodily death, said that the English scientist had established three vital points: first, that there is such a thing as psychic force; second, that it is directed by intelligence, and third, that the intelligence is not that of living people. Crookes had succeeded, the lecturer said, in sending and receiving messages by the Morse telegraph code, using an inverted pencil to rap them out on the table.

After declaring that scientists of the highest standing, among whom are Crookes, Lodge, Wallace, Zollner, Lombroso, Barradue and Richet, have discovered facts that can be explained only by the hypothesis that the human being survives bodily death. Mr. Rogers cited various cases in the records of the Society for Psychical Research that corroborate the conclusions of the scientists.

Tonight Mr. Rogers will speak on "The Invisible World."

RESERVE BANKS WILL OPEN SOON

Washington, Oct. 26.—Steps to set in motion the machinery of the twelve reserve banks under the new banking system, the opening for business of which has been fixed officially by Secretary McAdoo for November 16, were being taken here today by the federal reserve board.

Confidence was expressed that the early opening of the reserve banks would go a long way toward relieving conditions in the south brought on by the European war and be of assistance in the general business situation throughout the country.

Emergency conditions in the south, in particular, prompted the secretary to designate an early date for the opening of the reserve banks.

JIM CROW LAW IS UP FOR ARGUMENT

Washington, Oct. 26.—The validity of the Jim Crow law of Oklahoma hangs on the outcome of the oral arguments today before the supreme court. William Harrison, for the negroes of the state, and S. T. Bledsoe came to Washington to argue the constitutionality of the law.

In addition to the usual "Jim Crow" requirements of separate cars and waiting rooms for the white and negro races, the Oklahoma statute permits the railroads to use chair cars, sleeping cars and dining cars exclusively for one race. The railroads contend that this is a justified distinction in service, as not enough negroes desire these facilities to pay the railroads for furnishing them separately.

The Buffaloes are making arrangements for a big banquet which they will give on Thanksgiving day. Each member of the lodge will be permitted to bring one friend to the feast.

The building committee of the new Hope hospital will meet Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. An architect will be chosen at the meeting to make plans and superintend the construction of the new building of the institution.

HEAR OF DELK'S ARREST.

Members of Church Say He Was Dismissed From Pulpit.

Indianapolis, Oct. 26.—Word of the arrest of Rev. John A. Delk, age 35, in Fort Wayne, yesterday, where Delk is held charged with issuing fraudulent checks, has been received here by members of the congregation of the "Christian Church of Indianapolis," believers in the "New Life" faith, Seventeenth street and Columbia avenue.

Delk was dismissed from the pulpit of the church several months ago, members say, for failure to pay debts which he had contracted with members of his congregation, and for other alleged acts not regarded proper by members of the congregation. Delk has recently been soliciting for a religious publication.

At the offices of the Fidelity Trust company it was said that about ten checks drawn on the bank had been returned during the last month. They amounted to about $50. The trust company officials said Delk had withdrawn his account about two months ago. Delk, according to a member of his former congregation, came to this city about two years ago from La Grange, Iowa, in response to a call.

MRS. CARMAN FREE ON $25,000 BAIL

Accused Woman is Released After Jury Fails to Reach Verdict.

New York, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, who was on trial in Mineola last week for the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey, was released on $25,000 bail by Justice Charles H. Kelby in the Kings county supreme court in Brooklyn this afternoon. Accompanied by her attorneys she started immediately for her home in Freeport.

MAY NEVER BE RETRIED.

Noted Case Is Now Likely to Be Dismissed by State.

Mineola, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Counsel for Mrs. Florence C. Carman, planned to appear in the supreme court today and ask that she be released on bail pending her second trial on the charge of murdering Mrs. Louise Bailey, or a decision to have the indictment against her quashed.

The jury which tried Mrs. Carman, wife of Dr. Edwin Carman, a Freeport physician in whose office Mrs. Bailey was shot and killed on June 30, could not agree yesterday after deliberating more than 13 hours. It was said the jury stood 10 for acquittal and two for conviction. The district attorney had announced that he would not seek to have Mrs. Carman tried again. Her own counsel, on the other hand, said he would demand a new trial as he would not permit the indictment to hang over his client.

Mrs. Carman was said to be in a state of collapse today as a result of the jury's failure to acquit her.

History of Noted Case.

Mrs. Carman went to trial charged with the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey, who was mysteriously shot in the consulting room of the accused woman's husband, a physician, June 30, last.

The death of Mrs. Bailey in the home of a widely known Freeport practitioner and within a few yards of the famous Merrick road, the main highway from New York to Montauk Point, excited the residents of this section to a high pitch, and today there was an enormous throng around the little red and white court house, several times as many as could possibly crowd into the room where Mrs. Carman's fate was to be decided.

Mrs. Bailey was the wife of W. D. Bailey, a well-to-d hat manufacturer. Their home life had been happy and they had two young children. On the fatal evening she had been visiting a friend and she stopped in Dr. Carman's office about 8 o'clock in the course of her trip home. There is some doubt concerning the nature of her illness. She had never consulted Dr. Carman before.

Shot While Leaving Office.

Her consultation finished, Mrs. Bailey rose to leave and Dr. Carman stepped to open the door. Just then there was a crash of glass at the window. Dr. Carman saw a revolver thrust through the hole and threw himself flat. A shot rang out. Mrs. Bailey sank to the floor, crying, "I'm shot!" and died in a few seconds.

Two men in the doctor's ante-room rushed in Dr. Carman said he looked out the window, but too late to see anyone. He then telephoned to a physician living across the street and half an hour later notified the coroner and the police. A search of the grounds disclosed no better clew than a safety pin and the fact that a piece of shingle had been used to prop up the screen of the window through which the shot had been fired, and this screen had been unfastened from the inside.

The physician's home is in a well populated district and many persons were about. But no one had seen the murderer. Hounds were put on the scent. They ran five miles to Lynbrook, but there lost whatever trail they were following.

Mystery Deepened by Dictagraph.

Then, after a period of great mystery, came the astonishing discovery that the doctor's wife had placed a dictagraph in his office seven weeks before. The wires led upstairs to the bedroom of Mrs. Carman.

Mrs. Carman is a fine, stately, intellectual woman, 46 years old. The Carmans have been married twenty years and have a daughter 12 years old. She had decided, however, after consultation with her mother, that certain stories about her husband should be investigated. She went to a company in New York, represented herself as a dressmaker, but afterward admitted that she was the wife of a doctor, and contrived to have the dictagraph installed while the doctor was absent.

Mrs. Carman declared that what she had heard over the dictagraph wires had assured her that the doctor was absolutely fatihful to her. She said she was upstairs lying down in her room at the time of the murder and had not used the dictagraph that day.

Mrs. Carman Jealous of Nurse.

Following the discovery of the dicat graph there were several stories told of seeing a woman in a white dress on the Carman lawn the night of the murder. There were various other conflicting rumors. One of them brought out the fact that Mrs. Carman had been jealous of a certain nurse to whom Dr. Carman had given money, and had struck this woman in the consulting room, where the murder occurred, a few weeks before the crime.

The versions of Mrs. Carman's movements were conflicting, too. Cecilia Coleman, the negro maid, became an important figure. According to one version, the Coleman girl admitted Mrs. Carman had run in the back door and through the kitchen just after the fatal shot, warning the maid not to tell anyone of what she had seen.

Mrs. Carman was held in such high esteem that the authorities did not wish to take hasty action against her. She appeared at the coroner's inquest and testified in a composed voice. From many angles her story of her movements on the night of the murder was attacked.

The case was brought before the grand jury, which brought in the surprising verdict of manslaughter against Mrs. Carman. Later the state laid new evidence before the grand jury and a superseding indictment of murder in the first degree was brought in.

Mrs. Carman was much affected by her incarceration in Mineola jail, and several times was reported desperately ill. Her husband has stuck to her through thick and thin.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

11 Chronicles 23:1-11.

1 And in the seventh year Jehoiada strengthened himself, and took the captains of hundreds, Azariah the son of Jeroham, and Ishmael the son of Jehohanan, and Azariah the son of Obed, and Maaseiah the son of Adaiah, and Elishaphat the son of Zichri, into covenant with him.

2 And they went about in Judah, and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Judah, and the chiefs of the fathers of Israel, and they came to Jerusalem.

3 And all the congregation made a covenant with the king in the house of God. And he said unto them, Behold, the king's son shall reign, as the Lord hath said of the sons of David.

4 This is the thing that ye shall do; A third part of you entering on the Sabbath, of the priests and of the Levites, shall be porters of the doors;

5 And a third part shall be at the king's house; and a third part at the gate of the foundation: and all the people shall be in the courts of the house of the Lord.

6 But let none come into the house of the Lord, save the priests, and they that minister of the Levites; they shall go in, for they are holy: but all the people shall keep the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Levites shall compass the king round about, every man with his weapons in his hand; and whosoever else cometh into the house, he shall be put to death: but be ye with the king when he cometh in, and when he goeth out.

8 So the Levites and all Judah did according to all things that Jehoiada the priest had commanded, and took every man his men that were to come in on the Sabbath, with them that were to go out on the Sabbath: for Jehoiada the priest dismissed not the courses.

9 Moreover Jehoiada the priest delivered to the captains of hundreds spears, and bucklers, and shields, that had been king David's, which were in the house of God.

10 And he set all the people, every man having his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the temple to the left side of the temple, along by the altar and the temple, by the king round about.

11 Then they brought out the king's son, and put upon him the crown, and gave him the testimony, and made him king. And Jehoiada and his sons anointed him, and said, God save the king.

Providing More Money for Business.

The announcement by Secretary McAdoo that the twelve federal reserve banks of the new financial system will be opened for business on November 16 is one of unusual importance to the American business world, for it will mark the beginning of a new era in finance from which much is expected. Its first effect will be to provide an immense additional fund which may be used to carry on the business of the country.

Four hundred millions of dollars now held by national banks as reserves will be released for use when the new banking system goes into operation, and the loaning power of the banks will be largely increased, so that legitimate demands which can not now be taken care of may be met with safety. It is expected that this will provide leeway for an immediate expansion of business that will show its effects quickly in every section of the country.

Mr. McAdoo makes it clear that the opening of the banks has been set forward some weeks in order to aid in every way possible the extraordinary situation in the south, as well as in other sections, occasioned by the European war. Business, with exports cut down to the minimum by the turmoil across the seas, has been clamoring for additional funds with which to carry forward its operations. Under the new system the secretary of the treasury can also with prudence place on deposit over the country more generally what is known as the general fund of the United States treasury, and this will also become avaiable for legitimate business uses. The country has waited in eager expectancy for the operation of the federal reserve system, and it is building tremendous hopes upon its success as an aid to business. The nearness of the date on which it is to come into actual existence will be greeted with much acclaim by the business interests of the country.

It must be admitted that the railroads in their new plea for permission for an advance in freight rates have made an impressive showing of the need for increased revenues, and in the face of it it is difficult to see how it can be refused. The Sentinel has an impression that it will be granted and trusts it may be so. The American people are always fair, and they will insist that corporations be accorded exact justice as they claim it for individuals. There is no desire to cripple the railroads, and they should have without question what they have shown they are fairly entitled, under changing conditions, to receive.

Political experts of the Chicago Tribune, which is regarded universally as the most prominent and most influential exponent of the progressive party in the middle west, forecast a continuance of democratic control in the new congress to be elected next week. The Tribune believes that while the present top-heavy democratic majority will undoubtedly be reduced somewhat, the people are so thoroughly in accord with President Wilson and his efforts that they will not permit his hands to be tied by an adverse majority in congress.

The democratic ticket in Allen county invites your support at the polls next week on the basis of its manifest capability for high-grade public service and careful attention to official duties. It is one of the strongest tickets presented to Allen county voters in many years, and The Sentinel believes its triumph will spell efficiency, economy and fine business sense in the administration of county affairs.

Congressman Cline, returning from his work in Washington for a few addresses before the close of the campaign, is being warmly greeted by his constituents. The real expression of appreciation of Congressman Cline's services, however, will come in the substantial plurality which they will give him at the polls next week.

Lost Eddie, California Lad, is Called the Boy Without a Soul

(By Jack Jungmeyer.)

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 2.—"Lost Eddie" killed a man without knowing why he did it. Then he mutilated him, with fiendish wantonness. That, too, he can not explain. Something merely blazed red in his stupid brain, and he expressed his brutishness with club and razor. There was no motive. There is no remorse.

That's why he has been called "the man without a soul."

"Lost Eddie," who has been locked away for life in Folsom penitentiary, was a tramp when he committed his atrocious crime. It was the "monacher" given Emmett Coll, 18-year-old son of a Nevada mining man, by his fellow vagabonds, because he was always slipping away from his companions of the road getting lost. His victim was "The Kansas City Kid," a 17-year-old wanderer whom he had known perhaps an hour before killing him.

A man without a soul is an enormity, an incomprehensible being. I talked with this soulless boy of 18, as he was characterized by Superior Judge Ogden when sentenced to life imprisonment. I left "Lost Eddie" an hour later, peering through the bars, feeling that Judge Ogden was almost right. Once, I believe, Emmett Coll had a soul; but today he has little of it left.

Sometimes Nature seems to get tired of keeping her creatures up to concert pitch. She has a lapse. She allows a wolfish whelp to appear in a litter of high-bred dog puppies. She draws the zebra stripe down the back of a blooded Norman colt. She creates a man without a soul, as she did in "Lost Eddie's" case. They are outcasts. They are erratic. Often they run amuck.

Vaguely "Lost Eddie" knows that something is lacking in him. He calls it being "thick in the head."

"I can't seem to get things through my head," he says. "I never could learn. And what I do learn I can't remember. Only thing I've done all my life is to raise hell." And he grinned again, as if seeking approbation.

"My mother died when I was three years old. I was sent to private school. Always I was running away. Books and learning made things buzz in my head. I only cared for devilment, and would follow whatever the other boys dared me to do.

"Later, when I went to work—and I never liked work—I was always getting 'canned' because I couldn't do the job right. Once in the woods where I worked for two months the boss fired me because I wouldn't get up in the morning. I was too sleepy. Again I was fired from a job as sheep killer because I wasn't butchering them right.

"Then I became a cowpuncher on a California ranch. I liked that because I could ride wild horses and tear across the prairies after running cattle. But by and by something told me to cut loose and wander, and I ran away again. For two years then I was on the road—in Nevada, Oregon, Dakota, California."

Being "thick in the head," "Lost Eddie" can not comprehend the finer considerations in human intercourse. He's an anarchist. He wants to be alone, to hide from his kind, to penetrate deep into the untrodden forest or far out on the desert wastes, where "he can do just as he pleases."

"I think I was not made to travel with other people," he says. "There's men like me that ought to be away from other folks. That's why I was a lone 'bo when I was on the road."

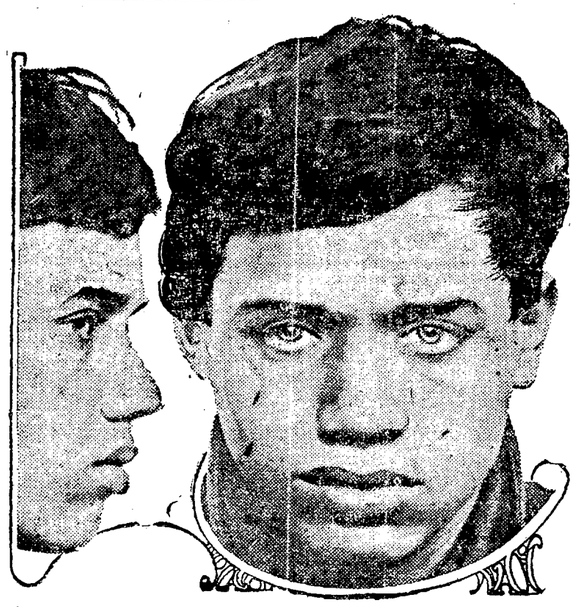
The state of California has recognized what "Lost Eddie says. It has taken him away from his kind; penned him up in stone and steel for life.

"I can not see how a man, even when inflamed with liquor, can perpetrate what you did and still possess a soul," Judge Ogden had said, as he pronounced sentence. "You seem to be one who represents the waste material of life."

Somewhere in "Lost Eddie's" lineage some one must have broken the commandments, just have outraged nature, to produce such apparently utter degeneracy as his crime upon his victim revealed. It shows in the boy's face, as well as in the foul doggerel he writes as his jail amusement—a heavy, flaccic face with the venomous look of a Gila monster, and whitish eyes that are almost opaque. It is a face to puzzle a Lombroso.

And so "Lost Eddie" has "raised hell" all his life with the hulking body where the soul-kernel never developed beyond the stage of the boy who dismembers grasshoppers and frogs without compunction and without knowing why.

It wasn't all "Lost Eddie's" fault; his perhaps least of all.



"Lost Eddie" Coll, the boy "without a soul," showing the brutish physiognomy of the fiendish criminal who killed and mutilated without reason or motive, and who, while regarded as sane, feels neither remorse nor fear.

THE DRY AREA.

(Newark News.)

Two dry strips are notable features of the liquor maps of the United States, now that Virginia has gone for prohibition. One runs from the Atlantic to New Mexico, taking in the states of North Carolina, Tennessee, Arkansas and Oklahoma, with Mississippi serving as an extension to the Gulf of Mexico, and Kansas making a bulge to the north. The second strip is composed of the states of Virginia and West Virginia, North Carolina and Georgia, making a sweep of the Atlantic coast from Washington to Florida, with the exception of the break along the seashore produced by South Carolina. The two others of the eleven prohibition states, Maine and North Dakota, stand out all by their lonesome like foreign fortresses in a hostile territory, but there will be a desperate effort not only by the "drys" to protect them and annex more territory, but also by the "wets" to reduce them. With a number of elections this year on the saloon question, the liquor map of this country may undergo as considerable changes as the map of Europe at the close of the war.

THE HOMICIDE RECORD.

Much interest and curious information is contained in the homicide record of American cities as presented by the Spectator, a New York insurance publication, which makes a specialty of vital statistics. Pittsburgers will be interested in learning that this city stands eighteenth in a list of 30 leading cities in the matter of homicides. The average rate per 100,000 of population was for ten years 7.5, while Pittsburg had but 5.1, and for the last year 8.7 for all, and but 6.6 for Pittsburg. Still it is rather disconcerting to find that Pittsburg is charged with 37 homicides last year as against but 44 for London and 36 for Berlin, although Paris had 98 and New York 281. It may, however, be consoling to know that homicide is one thing Cleveland leads us in, with 40 last year.

Comparisons of the rates for the 30 cities from 1884 show that for the first 20 years the average remained about the same, but that in the past decade there has been an increase. This increase, however, is probably due to better methods of registration, tabulation and death certification. No effort has been made to differentiate between excusable, justifiable or felonious homicide so that the estimate of 6,250 deaths due to homicide in 1912 can hardly be set down as reflecting accurately the range of murder. Taken as a whole, the figures indicate that if homicide is not decreasing it is, at least, not materially increasing.

Some of the curious facts shown is that one woman is a victim for every four men, that most victims were between 20 and 29, and next between 30 and 40. Memphis leads all cities with a rate of 58.3 homicides per 100,000 population in the decade, and last year the rate had jumped to 68. Seven southern cities lead the list, probably due to racial differences. Milwaukee is apparently the safest city with a 10-year rate of but 2.2 per 100,000.

The weapons or methods used as tabulated show that 62 per cent of the men victims were slain with firearms and 53 per cent of the women; knives and cutting or piercing instruments killed 16 per cent of the men and a little over 12 per cent of the women. Poison and other methods were used more generally against women than men, the rates being about 33 per cent to 22. These details are adduced to show the importance of effective regulation against the sale or possession of dangerous weapons or dangerous drugs, which the statistician thinks is the chief hope of reducing America's unenviable record of having probably the highest homicide rate of any civilized country in the world. This, however, was before Europe resorted to the present homicide by wholesale.

WHY INDIANA Needs a New CONSTITUTION

FACT NO. 8.

Protection of the workingman and his dependents from the hazards of industry through so-called workmen's compensation acts is now accepted as one of the prime essentials of a well ordered society. This principle has long been recognized in adequate legislation in European cities. It has now become an established fact in twenty-four states of this country. Eight other states are giving the subject serious consideration. These include every state of the north having any considerable industrial development, except Indiana and Pennsylvania.

Workmen's compensation assures certain and prompt relief to the injured workingman and his family without resort to the courts. In practical effect, society takes over the burden hitherto carried by its weakest members—the dependent family of the dead or injured workman. The broken workman is put on the same basis in industry as the broken machine.

Under the old system, it is estimated that not more than one-third of the compensation for death or injuries awarded the workingman or his family by the courts ever reached their hands. The rest was divided between the lawyers and the cost of litigation.

Indiana is clear out of harmony with her sister states in this matter of protection to her working classes. The remedy can only come through a new constitution.

CASCARETS CURE HEADACHE, COLDS, CONSTIPATION

Get a 10-cent box.

Take a Cascaret tonight to cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headaches, coated tongue, a bad cold, are bilious, nervous, upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.—Adv.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

What The Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

G. W. Boerger has returned from Adams county, where he attended the Christian-Boerger nuptials.

The cells of 700 convicts in the Northern Indiana penitentiary at Michigan City are now illuminated by the Jenney electric light made in Fort Wayne.

Owing to complications presented by the Indiana laws with reference to the garnishment of wages a number of cases have been sent from this city to Chicago for collection.

The members of the city council have accepted the invitation of General Manager Saul, of the Muncie road, and will go to Cincinnati next Tuesday to inspect different kinds of street pavement.

William Korte and Henry Hagerman, employed in the Bass foundry, were terribly burned when struck by globules of molten iron thrown by the explosion of a pot of the metal which they had sought to cool by dropping a piece of cold iron into it.

John Barrett, the convicted wife murderer, is very ill at the jail and may never be taken to prison to serve his sentence of twenty-one years. Barrett has displayed many eccentricities since his conviction. He wants his son to sleep with him, has insisted on a fashionable suit of clothes and sent one of the jail attendants to purchase him a fine bed room suit to furnish his cell at the prison.

The following officers have been chosen by the local camp of the Union Veteran legion, which has just completed organization: Colonel commanding, James E. Graham; lieutenant colonel, Loudin P. Huntoon; major, S. L. Lewis; quartermaster, S. W. Stirk; officer of the day, W. H. McClelland; surgeon, Dr. John Seaton; chaplain, A. Dougherty; officer of the guard, W. S. Bidwell; adjutant, Robert H. Ellis.

The trotting race at the fair ground between Rockhill brothers' "Lorna Doone" and S. B. Bond's "Susie B." was won by Bond's little mare. The first heat was won by "Lorna Doone" in 2:36½ and the other three by "Susie B." in 2:36, 2:37½ and 2:39. The race was for $100 a side and the judges were Henry Brown, A. C. Perrin, of this city, and John Adams, of Columbia City. George Brown and Emmett Powers were timekeepers.

SISTER IS BENEFICIARY.

Settlement Made for Accidental Death of Louis Nussbaum.

Miss Mary Nussbaum, a sister, was named as beneficiary by Louis Nussbaum, the young man whose recent death followed a broken neck, sustained in a diving accident at Rome City during the summer. M. J. Blitz, district manager of the Preferred Accident, has just made a settlement on the policy carried by Mr. Nussbaum. Under its terms the sister has received $5,810.71 in cash and will receive a further sum of $10 weekly for the next ten years.

THE STOCKING

GERMAN AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK

The stocking has been called the first national bank. This is only partly true, for people began saving before they began wearing hosiery. But the day of the stocking bank is past. It never was very safe and it never paid any interest. A real bank with burglar-proof vaults is a great improvement. Then, too, a real bank pays a liberal rate of interest on your deposits. THE GERMAN-AMERICAN is a REAL BANK, and will take even small savings and pay you 4 per cent. interest on them. Try it.

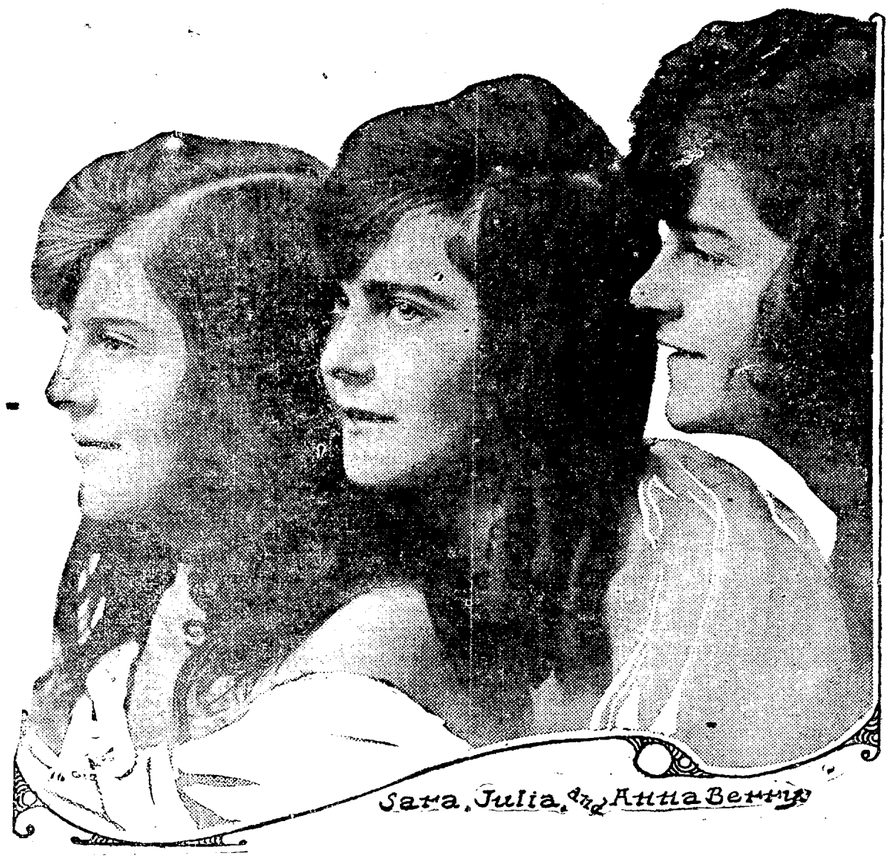
PICK A BERRY—WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THEM—BERRY SISTERS ONLY TRIPLETS ON STAGE.



New York, Oct. 26.—My, oh my! The New York stage door Johnnies are having one fierce time these days!

No, it's not the war, nor the high cost of loving that's making their champaign lives one endless existence of trouble and worry and fret.

For once they have a job—a man-sized job it is, too. They have to—

Pick a Berry!

That's it—pick a Berry. To you and us that may seem easy enough, this picking a berry; it's only when you spell it with a big "B" that the job looks big.

And such Berrys—three of 'em—a regular measure of triplets, Sara and Julia and Anna!

The Berry triplets bobbed up on the New York stage when the new Montgomery & Stone company was being organized. At the first rehearsal the Berry triplets tripped in. They were minus on stage experience, but they had a Jim Patten corner on good looks and curls and 'figgers.'

Quicker than it takes to tell it the Berry sisters landed in "The Ballet of Youth," one of the features of "Chin-Chin."

Then Percy and Carol and Reginald and the restovem got into the running.

They began passing up the other chorus beauties for a Berry, and there never being more than three in a set of triplets—you may well imagine the scramble for a Berry.

Of course, always there is a whole sidewalk of handy supper-buyers ready to do the "picking."

But—take a slant at the picture of these Berrys. If you had to pick the prettiest Berry of the set, which would it be? And if you had to do your picking in competition with a regiment of other pickers, wouldn't that be some job?

Percy and Carol and Reginald think so, too.

The Great Emancipator

said—"You can't fool all of the people all of the time."

For a good many years a lot of people have been fooled in the belief that coffee was good for them—that it was harmless or even a beneficial drink.

It was only when the scientific research of the medical profession began to lay bare the bones of the coffee skeleton, that people awoke to the fact that much of the Nervousness, Indigestion, Heart Disturbance, Short Breath, Headache, Biliousness, Sleeplessness, etc., were directly due to coffee drinking.

The proof came to those people when they tried the easy test of quitting coffee for a while and used

POSTUM

If you are a coffee drinker and feel aches and ills you can't account for, try the simple experiment for ten days. Then you'll know the way to comfort.

"There's a Reason"

Coffee contains "caffeine" and "tannin," two dangerous drugs that vitally affect nerves, stomach, heart, liver and kidneys. Efforts to eliminate these drugs from the coffee berry, except in part, have proven futile.

Postum made from prime wheat and a small per cent of wholesome molasses, roasted like coffee, and so processed as to create a mild Java-like flavour, is absolutely pure and free from the coffee drugs, "caffeine" and "tannin" or any other harmful ingredient.

Elkhart, Ind., Oct. 26.—Sentence has been passed upon Floyd Fifer in the Elkhart superior court for the killing of Emanuel A. Fink. His punishment was formally announced by the court to be imprisonment in the Indiana reformatory not less than two years, nor more than twenty-one. Present in the court room with the convicted boy were his counsel, Mr. Stookey, his father and mother. Mrs. Fifer then hysterically embraced her boy and covered his tear-stained face with kisses. Fifer then walked up to the courts bench and shook hands with Judge Harman. He next stepped to where Deputy Prosecutor Schwartz was sitting and clasped hands with him.

MUNCIE OIL COMPANY SUED.

Portland, Ind., Oct. 26.—The Clifton Oil company, a Muncie concern, has been made defendant in a damage suit filed by the J. E. A PERTINENT QUESTION.

The question has been asked, "In what way are Chamberlain's Tablets superior to pills?" The answer is, "They are more mild and gentle in effect and more reliable. Besides they improve the appetite, cleanse and invigorate the stomach, correct disorders of the liver and leave the bowels in a natural and healthy condition, while the use of pills, owing to their drastic effect, is often followed by constipation." A garment member is obligated to give two new articles each year of either children's clothing, bedding, or suitable things for use of a visiting nurse, hospital, etc. The stipulation is that each gift must be entirely new and unworn. Every member of the guild is asked to attend the tea on Thursday afternoon and to bring a guest. There will be a program of interest and a social hour will follow. Tailor-Made Girls Right Up to Date

The "tailor-made girl" keeps right up with the fashionable procession. The "cape-skirt" and the much-frilled street suit make no appeal to her. She ignores the "latest fashions" and clings to her tailored coat with its straight lines, to the simple skirt trimmed only with patch pockets.

The model illustrated is one of the new tailored suits. It's made of navy blue serge with a hair line of white. The buttons are white pearl.

Woman's League Board Meets.

A meeting of the executive board and of the lecture course committee of the Woman's league is called for tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in the First National bank.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"East Lynne" at the Majestic.

Starting today for an engagement of two days with matinees daily "East Lynne," one of the most popular dramas the stage has ever known, will be presented by Louise Dunbar and her company of players who during the past two weeks have won a large following with local theater-goers.

Additional interest centers in this engagement owing to the fact that it will mark the return of Eugene Curtis, one of the most popular members of Our Own Stock company which played here four seasons ago. During the life of that company, which played at the Majestic for two seasons, Miss Curtis made many friends by her clever work in the many roles assigned to her. For the past two seasons she has been with the Keith Stock company in Toledo, and it was just a stroke of luck that brought her back to this city. With Miss Dunbar, Miss Curtis and Mr. Preston in the present company it looks like the old days of stock at the Majestic theater.

"Husarenfieber" (The Dancing Hussars) at Majestic Wednesday.

The first act plays in a small village on the Russian frontier where a whole regiment of Hussars from the colonel down to the last private is desperately trying for new inventions with which to pass the time, especially the young lieutenants, who are so desperate that they appreciate the chasing of flies, a sensational change in the monotony of their daily lives. Unexpectedly the order is received that the regiment has been transferred to Kirchhain, a town of 28,000 inhabitants, a "city" that not only boasts of factories millionaires, a theater, but also of girls, really "young girls." The officers becomes almost hysterical with pleasure and celebrate the glad news in the merriest way. The three acts that follow play in Kirchhain, where the spirit of the "Dancing Hussars" soon begins to catch the society of the ladies and the elderly gentlemen. Everybody falls in love with the irrisistible blue Hussars from the "Kommerzienratin" down to the cook and the chambermaid, with the exception of the "Margarine Manufacturer" Nippes, who in his jealousy is trying the funniest schemes to ridicule the "winning ways" of the dashing Hussars. In the play, of course, the Hussars score a complete victory on the whole line and everything ends well with a number of engagements.

AT THE TEMPLE.

TEMPLE'S BARGAIN.

Show House Will Operate With Slashed Prices.

The Temple today inaugurated its popular priced scheme of vaudeville, with the same high grade line of all-Keith acts and motion pictures at popular prices. The daily dime matinees, with evening performances at ten and twenty cents will be features of the Temple's new plan. In the evening two shows will be staged on the continuous plan with the patrons coming and going as they please.

Tomorrow afternoon will be ladies' day at the theater and every woman in the city will be afforded an opportunity of witnessing the big current bill for a nickel. The bill is a jimdandy. Harry Gibbs and Edna Colwell present their laugh-sketch, "Via the Gas Route," in which two actors, gone broke in New York, hand you many a laugh in starting to go through with a suicide pact. Joe Burns and Murray Kissen's rendition of their own latest and most popular song hits is another feature of the bill. Emmett's trained dogs, Little Miss Jean, the diminutive comedienne, Grace Carlisle and Jules Romer in "Just a Song at Twilight," a different kind of musical act with the great Strand war pictures complete this wonderful bill of entertainment and amusement.

AT THE EMPRESS.

A miniature musical comedy of distinct class—an act that boasts of beautiful scenery, a big cast, many changes of costume, an interesting and coherent plot, plenty of laughs and the catchiest of songs—is "Love in a Sanitarium," which is headlining the bill at the Empress for the first half of the week. Twelve people appear in this delightful musical offering and ten of them are charming young misses.

Two other distinct novelties appear on this bill in addition to other acts that are of unusual excellence. The Rose Troupe of marvelous acrobats puts on a novelty in "The Rising Generation," in which the members of the family rise from a very lowly position to a place among the clouds. The Purcella Brothers, dancers of class, do a novelty dance while their ankles are shackled together.

La Doines, a young French actress, is doing imitations of Anna Held, Eva Tangary, Ruth St. Denis and Adeline Green.

THE ORPHEUM.

THE ORPHEUM ORCHESTRA.

The Wonderful Organization is to Be Permanent.

To those people of Fort Wayne who do not understand, it may be of much interest to know that the Orpheum orchestra, one of the best musical organizations this city has ever known, is to be a permanent attraction here.

Manager Brentlinger says that he is constantly receiving the most flattering comments concerning the orchestra, and to the thousands who attend the popular playhouse.

Today's Program.

A play from old Ireland, with some of the most beautiful and picturesque scenery ever filmed, entitled "The Lass of Kilkarnkee," will be the big attraction today. The story, told in two reels, is from the Victor studios, which insures its perfection.

The other offering on today's program is an Imp drama entitled, "The Gates of Liberty," with Little Matty Roubert, the Universal Boy, in the leading role.

"Trey O' Hearts."

There will be shown tomorrow the seventh installment of the thrilling serial, "Trey O' Hearts," entitled, "Stalemate." The situations in this installment are fully as thrilling as in any previous episode. The other offering will be an Eclair comedy entitled, "Smallpox on Circle U," with Mildred Bright, Wm. Scheerer and Stanley Walpole heading the cast.

Dainty Frock Shows Embroidered Sash

An attractive feature of the new frocks is the sash caught up to the corsage in front, its ends dropping gracefully almost half way to the knee.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

"OUR MUTUAL GIRL."

Makes Her Debut at the Jefferson Together With a Strong Drama of the Scottish Highlands.

"Our Mutual Girl," the pampered sweetheart of a whole nation, pays her first visit to the Jefferson today, and gives a preliminary glimpse over that marvelous chain of adventures, through the vicissitudes of which she is about to lead us. During the course of this very entertaining story, this lovely heroine meets dozens of noted celebrities throughout America, the action of the story transpires upon and against famous backgrounds, and many of the separate episodes are written by well known authors, with the Mutual Girl as the central figure. James Montgomery Flagg, Billie Burke, Pennryn Stanlaws, Mayor Mitchell and Ex-Mayor Gaynor are a few of the notables that will appear with this charming little lady during the course of the story.

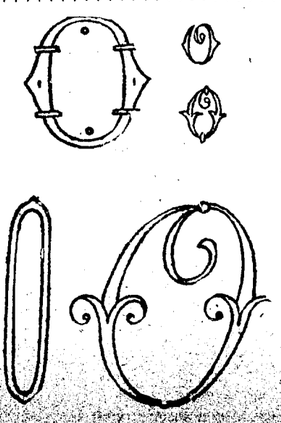
The other attractions listed show a good deal of diversity and diversity of a pleasing kind. "Black Roderick," a highly dramatic subject and a release of a London concern, provides novelty in the fact that the scenes of the story are laid in the Highlands of Scotland. "A Sheriff for an Hour" produces some excellent farcical situations, keeping the spectator in a constant uproar of laughter.

Tomorrow, Tom Terriss, the greatest impersonator of Dicken's roles in the world, comes to the Jefferson in "The Chimes," one of the best known and most beloved of all the great master's works. Wednesday and Thursday bring the mighty spectacle drama, "Julius Caesar."

AT THE LYRIC.

The Lyric management certainly turned over something when it landed the vaudeville combination that is running for the first half of the week in connection with the daily change of pictures. Each of the three vaudeville attractions is real. The Rice Brothers, former musical comedy stars, have shifted into vaudeville and their German dialect act is a riot. They get their tongues and ideas twisted in a manner that is ludicrously funny. Grace Golden, a sweet voiced chit, who might have got her name from her stage presence and the color of her hair, has a group of character songs that have already won her a home in Fort Wayne. Martinetti's comedy juggling is a mighty pleasing act.

FOR YOUR SEWING BASKET.



"Izzy and the Bandit" is the comedy-suggesting title of the humorous picture the Reliance people have furnished the Lyric for today. A dramatic offering with plenty of thrills is the two-reel Thanhouser. "The Jailbirds." A young attorney shoots a client in self defense and is convicted of murder. He escapes to New York where he finds a young artist he had advised to go to the metropolis, in the snares of a band of yeggmen. He succeeds in protecting her but is forced to disclose his own identity. He is pardoned on his return west with his artist-fiancee.

Little Economies That Really Count

Little economies count in these days of high prices- it pays to watch the little leaks in the household expenses.

What do you suppose your cheese cloth, dust cloths and window cloths cost a year? Whatever it is, it may be saved. Use all old soft curtains, cut these into squares, hem and find a dust cloth that will not shed lint and is soft enough to reach all cracks and corners.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

When grease or oil is spilled on the carpet, spread fine meal over the spot it will absorb the grease.

A teaspoonful of vinegar added to the water in which black stockings are rinsed will keep them a good color.

Vinegar heated to the boiling point will soften paint brushes that have become dry and hard.

"Second Mother to Men" is Doing Notable Work in New Jersey.

Whiting, N. J., Oct. 26.—How more than 7,000 "failures"—men whom drink had ruined—have been born to a new life in the strange home colony at Keswick, near here, has just been revealed for the first time by Mrs. Dora Raws, "second mother to men," whose patience and loving care has made the place a success.

Eighteen years ago her husband, William Raws, was reformed.

He had squandered their entire fortune in drink. But the couple were so thankful for the new strength that had been given him that they resolved to devote themselves to the care and reformation of other down-and-out drunkards. With only $1.87 in the world, they started to work. Today their colony has grown to an estate of 600 acres, with many modern buildings and equipment.

It is the love and devotion of the "mother" of the colony which has made this possible.

Almost daily despairing derelicts of men drift into the Keswick colony. All are accepted. There are bankers and beggars, doctors and even thieves among them.

"But we have to take them all in," explained Mrs. Raws. "One's heart would have to be of stone to refuse some of these poor fellows, who often have tramped all the forty miles from Philadelphia, in rain or snow, to seek refuge here.

"We put no restrictions upon them. They can come and go as they please. But we give them plenty of work to do, and make sure that happy brotherhood and democracy prevail among them. When they are cured they leave. I am even now receiving letters from successful doctors, ministers, lawyers and have one here from a mayor of a big city. All were once my patients."

The big main building of the colony was once a hotel at Tom's River, N. J. The members of the colony moved it piecemeal to Keswick and set it up again there. They have built all the other buildings on the grounds. They work like beavers just to please their "second mother," and though when they are that one of her 7,200 "children" has ever cured they drift far away from her all over the country, the memory of her care keeps them straight.

Mrs. Raws has never received word fallen from grace again.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT?

People often accept statements with a sort of mental reservation as much as to say, "I am not convinced," which leads us to remark that there is nothing that will so thoroughly satisfy you of the excellence of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as a personal trial. Mrs. John Fishton, Peru, Ind., who used this remedy in her family for the past ten years, says of it: "I always give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to my children when sick with coughs or colds. I like it better than any other because they take it willingly and it is free from narcotics. It has never failed to give immediate relief." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

D'YE THINK YOU HAVE TROUBLES?

Consider Lot of Mayor in Town Seized by Invading Armies.

Epernay, France, Oct. 26.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Some idea of the trials and troubles of the civil authorities while a town is in the possession of an invading army is given by the mayor, Maurice Tol Roger, of this city, which was in the hands of the Germans for a week.

When the Germans entered the town late in the afternoon the mayor was summoned before the commandant, General von Plattenberg. This first interview, according to the mayor, was marked by courtesy on both sides, but that evening the mayor received a violently worded protest from the general, who complained that the water, gas and electric supply had been cut off. The mayor was told that if these were not restored at once he would be hanged. This arose because the inhabitants leaving their houses had shut off the gas, water and electricity. The mayor gave the necessary orders to have the services restored, but with other town officials he was arrested and held in the town hall as a hostage, and when a fire broke out that night the general sent word that if a second outbreak occurred he would have the mayor shot.

The next day a food requisition was made and when it was not raised in time the town was fined 176,550 francs. Then to add to his troubles the mayor was summoned to explain the shooting of a German soldier, who had been wounded in the leg by a revolver shot, and when the town's chief executive declared that the accident took place on a different street from that given in the German report, he was accused of having concealed the fact that a second German had been wounded and made way with. After this incident was cleared the mayor was taken before a group of German officers, including Prince Adelbert, son of the German emperor, and accused of having replaced the German flag on the station with a French tricolor. When threatened with a heavy war indemnity on the town because of this incident the mayor protested that the railway station was private property and therefore the town had nothing to do with any flag that might have been placed there. The mayor was then ordered to make a German flag and unfurl it from the town hall. He was told that if this flag was touched he would be shot and the town looted and burned. The mayor manufactured a German flag by using part of a French flag for the white and blue, and the black apron of the town hall housekeeper for the black stripe. This flag evidently led to an era of good feeling, for the 176,550 francs fine was repaid to the town by the Prussians, who stated that they did so out of gratitude for the kindly manner in which their wounded had been treated.

One ounce of epsom salts added to a gallon of water makes an excellent rinsing mixture for colored blouses and washing dresses.

(By Morton Williams).

"Cap'n" Rockne was afraid to trust his Silver Edge football squad to defeat the Friar eleven and with the same true sportsmanship that has always characterized South Bend in athletics, he picked up as many Notre Dame players as could slip away from the university, and sent them against the local team.

Of course the Friars were beaten. They were not beaten, however, until they had shown the "cap'n" and his college players a good time and had demonstrated they have nothing to fear from any of the other independents in this part of the state nor from the Silver Edge club with its own men in the lineup.

In addition to the defeat the deplorable spectacle of an umpire being hauled off the ground by three policemen was one of the regretable features of the afternoon. Duggon was his name, and he was probably doing what he thought was right but the rooters rode him and finally one fellow tried to force his way out of the north stand to "get" him.

It's a pity he didn't because this Duggon was a pretty game chap and it is likely that he wouldn't have been so easily "got." He went after the rooter after he had been pelted and if it hadn't been Sunday and he had used enough good judgment not to have clambed over some ladies in the front row and frightened a number of others, little blame could have been attached to him.

The Friars went down under superior playing and greater speed of the South Bend team 23 to 12 in the best played game of football seen at the local lot this season.

The visitors had every advantage over the home club in all departments of the play except line plunging; in forward passes and end runs they could not be excelled. Time and again they passed straight through the center of the line for fifteen and twenty yard gains and on end runs the locals seemed unable to stop them. The ball was for the most part in the visitors' possession and only four times did the Friars have a chance to score. Punting played an important part in yesterday's game, both sides using it almost to extreme.

In the first quarter both teams played well and the ball see-sawed back and forth almost the length of the field but neither could make a score. South Bend had one fine chance for a touchdown but when within ten yards of the goal the locals tightened up and held them steady and punted out of danger. The quarter ended with the score 0 to 0 and the ball in the visitors' possession on their twenty yard line. The second quarter had a little more of interest, for about half way through it Scott got the ball on a forward pass and ran fifty yards to the goal for a touchdown and a moment later Wood kicked goal. The Friars decided to receive but on their second down Smith intercepted a pass and scored another touchdown. Wood kicked goal. The period ended with the score 14 to 0 in favor of South Bend.

The third started with a short kick by Laird and South Bend's fumble and recovery of the ball. On the locals' first down McKay received a beautiful forward pass and made twenty yards before he was thrown. Line plunges gave no substantial gain and another pass to McKay netted the Friars a goal. Dennison missed the kick. South Bend tightened up and the play went up and down the field until the quarter ended with the Friars in possession of the ball on South Bend's forty yard line. On the getaway a pass to McKay gave thirty-five yards and a moment later the same play netted twenty more. Another forward pass, this time to Dennison, helped along with fifteen more and still a fourth pass to McKay gave the Friars their second touchdown. After the kickoff the locals were penalized fifteen for holding, and when the ball went over was only five yards from the visitor's goal. Laird, while attempting to make a forward pass, was downed back of South Bend's goal for a safety, giving Silver Edge two more. The last score was made by Smith, the visitor's quarterback, who got the ball on a fumble and with a clear field before him ran thirty yards to goal for six more points. Burns kicked goal. The game ended with the ball in the locals' hands in the middle of the field.

The star of the day was Smith, the Silver Edge quarterback, whom the locals seemed unable to stop. McKay was the Friar star of the game, having all the locals' points to his credit. The line-up and score:

EVERS IN CLASS WITH J. F. BAKER

Has Hit .300 or Better in Three of Title Base Ball Tilts.

(By Ernest J. Lanigan.)

J. Franklin Baker no longer can lay claim to being the only athlete in captivity who has batted .300 or better in three world's series, for Johnny Evers, by rapping the sphere for .437 in the recent argument between the Braves and the Athletics got into the mauling Marylander's class. The National league Chalmers car winner of 1914, in 1907 and 1908, ran up an average of .350 against Hugh Ambrose Jennings's slammers, his record against Bender Jones' artillerists in 1908 having been a miserable .150. Baker hit at a .429 pace in the 1910 world's series with the Cubs and his percentages against the Giants in 1911 and 1913 were, respectively, .375 and .450. Baker and Eddie Collins are the only pair of players who have twice batted over .400 in baseball's annual classic, the man who won the Chalmers car among the American leaguers this season being one of seven pastimers who have twice been members of the world's series society of the three hundred. The other six are "Chief" Meyers of the Giants, Frank Schulte of the Cubs, Frank Chance of California, Jack Barry of the White Elephants, and Lanny Murphy and Artie Hofman of the Brookfeds.

Not taking into consideration morning glory performers like Art Wilson, Olaf Henriksen and J. Weldon Wyckoff, the high batting percentages for world's series by positions are as follows:

Hall of the Red Sox, for the pitchers, with .750; Gowdy of the Braves, for the catchers, with .545; Chance of the Cubs, for the first basemen, with .421; Evers of the Braves, for the second basemen, with .437; Steinfeldt of the Cubs, for the third basemen, with .470; Barry of the White Elephants, for the shortstops, with .368; Sebring of the Pirates, for the left fielders, with .366; Cobb of the Tigers, for the center fielders, with .[illegible], and Schulte of the Cubs, for the right fielders, with .389.

FORT WAYNE SOCCERS WIN.

Beat Indianapolis In Fast Game at A. A. Baseball Park.

Fort Wayne soccer football players beat Indianapolis at the American association baseball park in Indianapolis on Sunday afternoon in the presence of a big crowd by a score of 3 to 2.

Capt. Pat Concannon and Coach Joe Pemberton had their Fort Wayne players in excellent shape for the game and they outplayed the Indianapolis crowd at every point. A Skevington starred for Fort Wayne and Leonard Hutson was forced out by injuries. H. Skevington scored the first point for Fort Wayne and the others were made by Ancton, the center forward of the club. The next game for the Fort Wayne club will be played at Kokomo on Nov. 8.

AUTO STRUCK BY INTERURBAN.

Mrs. George Lindemuth and Two Sons Slightly Injured.

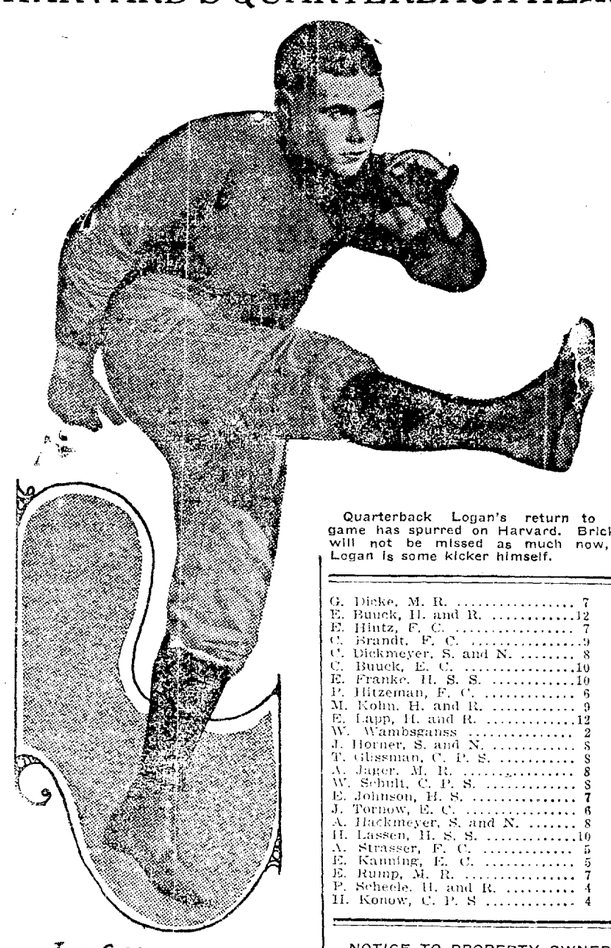
Mrs. George Lindemuth and sons Carl and Morris, who reside at 525 West Wildwood avenue, were slightly hurt Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock when their machine was struck by a west bound Ohio Electric car near New Haven on the Ridge road.

At this point the car track makes a very sharp bend and young Lindemuth drove the automobile upon the tracks before being aware of the approaching interurban. Fortunately the car was going slowly, due to the curve, and this fact probably saved the party from instant death.

The occupants of the car sustained a few bruises and received a bad scare. The machine was badly damaged.

The ladies' auxiliary to the letter carriers' association will give a progressive pedro in Buffalo hall, 120 West Berry street, Tuesday afternoon.

HARVARD'S QUARTERBACK HERO



Quarterback Logan's return to the game has spurred on Harvard. Brickley will not be missed as much now, as Logan is some kicker himself.

Blow at Dominions is Not Plan of Germans

manipulated by Gen. von Kluck came as a distinct surprise here. It was said last week that he had been superceded by Gen. von Ornim, but the latest version has him remaining on the Aisne while Grand Duke Albrecht, of Wuerttemburg, and others are guiding the destinies of the armies in Belgium. If this is true it robs the British writers of one favorite phrase—"Von Kluck's hard pressed right."

Of the dispatches unfavorable to the Germans was one saying that Antwerp was being put in a state of defense and entrenchments were being prepared to protect the road to Bruges. Among the reports held here to be ridiculous was that Germany was building huge submarine transports with which she hoped to land troops on British soil.

SAYS CITY NOISE MAKES CRIMINALS

Famous Specialist Places Blame in Entirely New Quarter.

New York, Oct. 2.—The needless roar and racket of a big city is a direct cause of the city's crime, according to Dr. John D. Quackenbos, of this city, a national authority on diseases of the ear and nervous system.

In a statement just issued he says: "There is no great difference between a bad soul and a bad cell. Noise, as I interpret it, makes a bad brain or nerve cell, and so is a direct contribution to moral deficiency. Noise helps to swell the ranks of our criminal classes by directly lowering the power to resist temptation. It thus represents an assault on the moral health of the nation, and from this viewpoint assumes an importance that cannot be ignored."

The manner in which the noise of cars, trains, gongs and whistles causes crime is explained by Dr. Quackenbos as follows:

"The jar of the brain, by reason of the continual reception of vibrations engendered by noises of this character, accounts in greater measure than is generally supposed for that irritability which impels to indulgence in alcoholic stimulants and drugs, for that unbalance, subconsciously wrought by subtle subtractions from the quality of brain protoplasm, which destroys susceptibility to moral control and so invites to crime. From a long experience in psychotherapeutics I have reached the conclusion that a criminal is a criminal by reason of some physical defect in the brain, invisible to the microscope and indistinguishable by chemical analysis."

HAS NOW ADDED A STENOGRAPHER

Adopted Family of Chicago Millionaire Grows Steadily.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Gordon Strong, Chicago millionaire who gained fame two years ago by originating the "bachelor-father" movement, has just added an adopted mother to his five adopted children.

The mother was Miss Louise Anne Snyder, the millionaire's stenographer. She is now Mrs. Gordon Strong, and she has a family of five adopted boys on her hands.

In 1912 Strong launched his "father" scheme. He asserted that all wealthy bachelors ought to adopt poor boys whose parents were in want, and give them a home and opportunity. He adopted Kenneth and Floyd Keefe, 2 and 6 years old, whose widowed mother worked in a big department store. Later he adopted three more children, and built a home for them at Dickerson, Md.

The new member of the family whom Strong has taken into his home showed from the beginning great interest in the millionaire's undertaking. Long consultations in his private office over ways and means for bringing up the children became more and more frequent. Finally the stenographer's desk was moved into the millionaire's office—and thus the progress of the courtship was moved out of the ken of the other employes.

But they have long expected the outcome, which has just been realized in the secret marriage of pretty Louise Anne Snyder to Millionaire Strong.

The will and the way. We have the "will" to sell you. You have the "Way." It leads to the "Big Store" on Court street. Thousands have found that "way." Have you? Foster's.

DIDN'T SAVE HIM.

GET REA TESTIMONY.

Head of Pennsylvania Talks Before Commission About Rates.

Local officials of the Pennsylvania company have received copies of the official testimony of Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania system before the interstate commerce commission in the matter of increased freight rates. Mr. Rea devoted considerable time to the discussion of railroad conditions in this country because of the European war and among other things said:

"The abnormal conditions brought about by the war affecting so directly the ability of any borrower to secure new capital, and requiring forcible reduction of all expenses and husbanding all resources, are strong reasons for remedying at least in part, and doing so as quickly as possible, the fundamental unsoundness—war or no war—that had been previously shown to exist in the railroad industry.

"In the fiscal year of 1914 the decrease in the volume of business of these carriers was only about 3½ per cent. from the highest level in their history, viz., in 1913. Yet at the end of 1914 the owners of these properties find the return upon their property investment at the lowest figure for fifteen years, lower than in 1900, when the industry was lifting its head after that great depression of the nineties; lower, indeed, than in the two years 1898 or 1899, which the commission in its recent report excluded from comparison on the ground that those were years of business depression. A record such as this clearly indicates something radically wrong with the underlying conditions of the railroad business."

Lieutenant U. H. Strasser, of the Pennsylvania police force, has returned from Columbia City where he went to obtain a detailed report of the alleged robbery there when a foreigner was assaulted in a Pennsylvania box car Friday night. He says the foreigner was actually assaulted and bdly beaten, but the man had no valuables on his person. The three who attacked him jumped from the train at Larwill and no trace of them has been uncovered.

FT. WAYNE LOSES 1916 CONVENTION

After Long Struggle Muncie is Selected as Next Meeting Place.

The delegates from this city to the biennial convention of the Christian Endeavor societies of the state of Indiana, held at Logansport last week, returned late Sunday evening and announced that after a long and hard struggle Muncie was selected as the next meeting place in 1916.

Fort Wayne delegates did everything in their power to land this meeting and it would have been awarded to them had the committee not considered the relative strength of the two cities. Considering that Muncie was one of the weakest organizations in the state and that it would be a good chance to build it up at the convention in 1916, it was awarded the honor of entertaining the next meeting.

At the beginning of the meeting Muncie, Fort Wayne, Peru, Marion and Terre Haute were contestants, but after the first day the last three dropped out. Telegrams, fourteen in number, were sent from this city to the convention church asking for the 1916 convention. The spirit in which the Fort Wayne delegation took the defeat was commented upon by the assemblage.

While W. H. Schanfelberger, yell leader for Muncie, was thanking the convention people for the next meeting, the Fort Wayne people presented him with a large bouquet of chrysanthemums bearing a card on which was written: "Compliments from the Fort Wayne delegation to Muncie for the 1916 convention which we will help to make the largest meeting of the C. E. societies ever held in the state of Indiana."

A mass meeting of the C. E. societies of this city will be held on November 17, at which time echoes of the convention will be given. Mrs. L. E. Seller, of Logansport, and W. H. Schanfelberger will be present and give talks.

EMMANUEL CONGREGATION CELEBRATES.

Rev. William Moll and Two Teachers Complete 25 Years of Service.

In honor of the completion of twenty-five years of service of Rev. William Moll and H. G. Nueffer and George Hormel, the members of the Emmanuel Lutheran church held an extensive celebration Sunday evening in the auditorium of the church and school hall.

The celebration opened with a parade from the parsonage to the church led by the deacons, elders and trustees of the church. Rev. Martin Luecke, president of the Concordia college, delivered the address of the evening in which he told of the many accomplishments of the church through the services of the three men in whose honor the celebration was being observed. At the close of the program a reception was held.

The ladies of the church were in charge of the reception and Henry Paul made the presentation speech when each man was presented with a silver token. The Young people also presented Rev. Moll with a silver present.

Rev. Moll has completed his eleventh year as pastor of the church; H. G. Nueffer has been a teacher at the parochial schools of the church for the past three years and George Hormel has taught for the past twenty-one years. All three men are held in high esteem by their acquaintances.

New Officers Chosen by Lutheran Walther League

FRIEDA WERMUTH. OTTO BREIMEIER. CHARLES DICKMEYER. PAUL NEITER.

The annual election of officers of the Lutheran league was held Sunday afternoon at Concordia Lutheran church and the result was as follows: President, Charles Dickmeyer; vice president, Otto Breimeier; secretary, Frieda Wermuth, and treasurer, Paul Neiter.

Reports of officers read at the convention disclosed the fact that there are now over 1,200 members in the league and that all committees, as well as the treasury, is in good condition. A vote of thanks was given to the outgoing officers who rendered valuable service during the past year.

Donations were voted to the German Red Cross fund, the Indianapolis Lutheran Orphans' home, the deaf mute institution at Logansport and the poor students' fund of Indiana. The scope of new work for the coming year was discussed and the executive committee was instructed to take up the matter of the official emblems in the near future.

Robert Kramer, the retiring president, gave an address at this meeting in which he thanked the league for the support given him and the other officers during their administration and he also urged that more interest should be taken in the league and its work.

TRIO OF MOTOR DRIVERS FINED

Two Were Drunk and One Was Speeding and Each Pays $50 and Costs.

A trio of automobile drivers were arraigned in the city court Monday morning and on pleas of guilty, each paid a fine of $50 and costs—two of them for driving motor vehicles while drunk and the other for speeding.

Charles F. Leonard, who stated his home was in Paulding, O., was cutting some fancy figures with his car and endangering other traffic when Officer Godfrey took him off the street. Albert Hutchison, who also claim to hail from Ohio, was unfit to be in charge of a car and was taken in after hitting things up about Fort Wayne streets. In assessing the $50 fines in these cases Judge Kerr expressed his regret that he could not proceed against the two culprits to have their licenses revoked.

Charles Krick was doing thirty miles an hour when Motorcycle Officer Dan Kintz "clocked" him. Krick's only excuse was that he had no speedometer on his machine and did not know how fast he was going. Krick resides in Monroeville.

Spring Record on Thief.

After Prosecutor Callahan had flashed some police records on him, Charles Williams admitted that he had been arrested many times instead of one or two, and on his plea of guilty to petit larceny Judge Kerr took the case under advisement until Tuesday morning. Williams stole seven boxes of cigars from the Wayne Tobacco company and two boxes from G. H. Bursley & Co. a week ago and was arrested while trying to peddle them to dealers on Calhoun street. Williams says he is 21 years old and that he has been a student in Butler university at Irvington, near Indianapolis, and at Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y. That he is thoroughly confirmed in wrongdoing is proved by his record. He was arrested several times in Indianapolis.

Negro Will Claim Self-Defense.

The case of George H. Lockhart, colored, for assault and battery with intent to kill John Jackson, another colored man, was continued a week to await the outcome of Jackson's injuries, who is confined in St. Joseph's hospital with one rib broken by Lockhart's knife. The fight took place late Saturday afternoon on a West Main street-East Lewis street car in front of No. 7 engine house on West Main street, and was the result of bad blood brewed in a crap game at the laborers' camp on the Portage avenue paving job. Lockhart says Jackson lost $7 a week ago and then at the point of a revolver got his money back. He returned Saturday for another game and Lockhart refused to play. Jackson followed onto the car and the quarrel was continued. Lockhart says Jackson drew a knife and began to trim his finger nails, continuing to make threats, and that in self-defense he drew his own knife and used it only after the other negro had first aimed a blow at him. Lockhart has a cut on his thumb from Jackson's knife. There was a panic among the few passengers on the car. The police were called and the men were arrested. Jackson's chances for recovery are fair.

Other City Court Cases.

James Freeman, a youth who drew a revolver on Patrolman Lawhead, of the Pennsylvania railway police Aug. 14, and threatened to kill him, was bound over to the circuit court under $1,000 bond on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill.

The following drunks were disposed of: Lucas Aurantz, $5 and costs; Thomas Mosier, $1 and costs; Albert Oit, $5 and costs; John Schlerts, $1 and costs; Ray Kelly, $1 and costs; William Schomeyer, $1 and costs; William Knepper, $1 and costs; Paul McBride, $5 and costs; Jack Duffy, Henry Brown, George Stanton, Joe Morgan and John Nieman, turned loose, and Charles Buckley, continued until Tuesday.

Sam Ray and Claudia Rhoades, a colored pair arrested for living in adultery, were fined $15 and costs and given fifteen days each in jail. The woman, who is married, ran away from Dayton, O., with Ray.

Alex Ponaska was drunk and abusing his wife at Hayden and Chute streets, when his two brothers gave him a beating and then turned him over to the police. He drew $1 and costs on a disorderly charge.

Paul Liebenguth pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct. He followed a young woman from Calhoun street to her home and when she refused to have anything to do with him he persisted. Her father came out, gave him a punch in the face and Officer Ward Hall arrested him. He got $5 and costs.

Charles Young, a negro, created a disturbance at the Weber hotel restaurant when he was refused service, said he could do things to Officer Collins, and was arrested. He was turned loose.

Andon Meloff, proprietor of a poolroom, was fined $10 and costs for carrying concealed weapons. He had tried to have another man arrested on the same charge when it was found he was armed.

Ray Freeland, a train climber, who was well dressed and of uncommon intelligence for a hobo, was released, and Thomas Jones, a loiterer, was held until Tuesday under bond.

At Foster's they have the largest Carpet Department in the city.

Two Paragraphs in Strike Injunction Petition Dismissed.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 26.—Two paragraphs in the petition, asking for an injunction to prevent a strike of the street car men in this city, were dismissed today when the hearing on making the injunction permanent was begun before Federal Judge A. B. Anderson.

A law put on the statute books in 1793 during the presidency of George Washington was the basis for the dismissal of the two paragraphs in the complaint. One paragraph charged a conspiracy among labor leaders to arouse the dissatisfaction of the members of the local street car men's union and the other charged a conspiracy to harrass and to weaken the street car company during the strike last year by filing a suit for receiver against the company.

Suit for the injunction was filed about a month ago by the Guaranty Trust and Safe Deposit company of Philadelphia, which holds a number of bonds of the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company, which operates the street car system here. Later the street car men asked an injunction which virtually calls upon Judge Anderson to interpret the contract and award of the Indiana public service commission, which held a hearing on the difference between the men and the company under the agreement which terminated the strike of last November. In addition to lengthy arguments by the attorneys for both sides, a number of witnesses have been summoned to testify at the hearing, which probably will occupy at least three days. W. H. Latta for the company, spoke this morning.

FIRST SNOWFALL IN FORT WAYNE

The first distinct fall of snow for the present season came in Fort Wayne shortly before 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. Earlier in the day dispatches had noted the presence of snow in Chicago.

Early risers Sunday morning saw the ground covered with hoar frost. The temperature Saturday night fell low enough to cause the formation of the minute ice crystals, which covered the ground during the early hours of Sunday morning. It was the first of the season.

The late frost caused an unusual growth of vegetables, according to reports of different farmers. Green corn was on sale on the market as late as last week.

Boys will be busy for the next couple of weeks harvesting nuts, for it is the old tradition that after the first frost is the best time to do it.

PRISON AUDITOR IS SENT TO JAIL

New York, Oct. 26.—John J. Malloy, auditor of Sing Sing prison, was committed to jail today in contempt of court for refusing to answer questions before the grand jury investigating automobile rides and other favors alleged to have been granted to David A. Sullivan, an inmate of Sing Sing.

Sullivan is serving a term in prison for wrecking the Union bank of Brooklyn of which he was president. Complaints that he had been transacting his private business from the prison, had collected money which belonged to the assets of the bank and that he had been taken on automobile rides about the country while he was supposed to be in prison caused an investigation by District Attorney Cropsey, of Brooklyn.

SCHOOL HEAD IS RAPPED BY COURT

Guilty of Contempt Unless He Reinstates Six Teachers.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 26.—J. M. Frederick, superintendent of the Cleveland schools, today was found guilty of contempt of court by Judge William B. Neff, of the Cuyahoga county court, and ordered to reinstate within a week six teachers whom he failed to reappoint last spring because, it was alleged, of their activity in the "teachers' union."

Superintendent Frederick was accused of contempt for violating an injunction issued June 9 last restraining school heads from refusing to reappoint pro-union teachers. Attorneys for the teachers assert that the decision paves the way for the unionization of teachers in all the larger cities of the state and will result in higher and more uniform wages. If Superintendent Frederick reinstates the six teachers he will clear himself of the contempt charge, the court intimated, in finding the superintendent guilty. Superintendent Frederick, however, is cited to appear Friday for sentence.

TO ACT BEFORE ASSEMBLY MEETS

Board of Works to Forward State Street Paving Project.

The board of works at a very early day will adopt a resolution and order plans for the paving of State street, from the St. Joe river to the point where it becomes State boulevard and passes under park board jurisdiction. The procedure must be hastened, contract awarded and temporary assessment rolls prepared in order that the trustees of the state home for feeble minded youth may know what sum they must ask the legislature to appropriate to pay the state's share of the improvements. The state property has a frontage of about 2,000 feet on State street and its assessments will be quite heavy. The board also intends to provide for the building of sidewalks on the street, which is to be widened from the St. Joe east. The state school authorities will have to obtain authority from the legislature to yield the strip of ground necessary for the widening along the state frontage and for building the sidewalk. The board purposes to establish the sidewalk lines on the north side of the street so that the outer row of fine maple trees will be preserved. This will bring them between two rows of trees.

LAYING CONCRETE ON ONEIDA.

Final Operations on First of This Type of Pavement in City.

Mayor Hosey and the members of the board of works watched with much interest the pouring of concrete for the Oneida street pavement in Lakeside Monday morning by the Moellering Construction company. This will be the first pavement of this type to go down in Fort Wayne. The mayor has strongly favored the laying of some pavement of cheaper grade than asphalt and brick and kindred sorts in order to determine if it will not answer quite as well for the less traveled streets as the more expensive kinds of improvements. The Moellering company expects to have the street completed at an early day.

OFFER SITE FOR BATHING POOL.

The board of park commissioners will have for consideration soon the offer of Ephraim Arter and L. H. McAfee the offer of a site 300x150 feet in dimensions as the site of a bathing pool. The land lies north of Fourth street between Spy run and Lawton park. Messrs. Arter & McAfee have told President W. A. Bayer, of the city council, and Secretary C. J. Stelss, of the park board, that they will donate the land.

WITH NEW PAIR OF GAS PLIERS

Joe Was "a Bad Guy from Montana" Until the Cops Came.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. [illegible].—"One side! One side! I'm a bad guy from Montana!" announced Joe Long last night as he marched down Main street. He accompanied his remarks with a whoop that was surcharged with wild western atmosphere. When the curbing occupants noticed a glittering object in his right hand he got the room and consideration he demanded.

A policeman found Joe delivering a pre-funeral oration to five shivering hoboes who adhered industriously to a wall while Joe strode up and down and declared agreeably:

"I'm goin' ta bore you full of holes. I'm always borin' bums full of holes. I do it reg'lar. I'm a bad guy from Montana."

Joe and the policeman left together for headquarters, leaving five heartfelt sighs of relief behind them.

"Where's that gun?" demanded the booking sergeant.

"Huh?" inquired Joe, placidly. "Zish whatchu mean?" He held up a new pair of gas pliers.

"Do you mean to say you held up five men with these things?" asked the sergeant.

"I'm a bad guy from Montana," answered Joe, proudly, as he started for the holdover.

Why buy an unknown make of a Base Burner when at Foster's you can get a Jewel?

PRETTY GIRL'S PICTURE ONLY ADDRESS ON LETTER SENT TO NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, Oct. 26.—Postmaster Voegtle, of New Orleans, and assistants, just now are busy hunting for a certain very pretty girl among 375,000 people here.

It's a pleasant task, this scrutinizing faces of all the pretty girls, but it's a rather dangerous and tedious task.

The postmaster fears he may be taken for a masher!

The photograph of a pretty girl is the only address on a letter the postmaster received the other day from Savannah, Ga.

"It beats anything that we have ever gone up against," said Postmaster Voegtle. "I wonder if the sender thinks the postmaster is going to stand on the street corners and scrutinize every woman and that passes for the purpose of finding the one pictured on the envelope. A pleasant task, no doubt, especially in the south—but, well, I guess I'll leave most of that to my assistants."

On the envelope is written:

"Mr. Postmaster: Kindly endeavor to have the letter delivered to the lady for whom it is intended. Otherwise return to M. D., Box 1172, Savannah, Ga."

The postal authorities here, of course, don't know what's in the letter—whether it's a proposal from a rich old bachelor who's suddenly fallen in love, or whether it's from a handsome young man with a lot of romance in his veins.

DESTRUCTION OF LIFE FRIGHTFUL

Air Engines, Land Engines, Sea Engines Sweeping East With Death.

London, Oct. 26.—(4:40 a. m.)—The correspondent of the Daily News, who has been in an armored train to the banks of the Yser, gives a good description of the battle in the northwest. He says:

"The battle rages along the Yser with frightful destruction of life. Air engines, sea engines and land engines death-sweep this desolate country vertically, horizontally and transversely. Through it the little frail human engines crawl and dig, walk and run, skirmishing, charging and blundering in little individual fights and tussles, tired and puzzled, ordered here and there, sleeping where they can, never washing and dying unnoticed. A friend may find himself firing on a friendly force and few are to blame.

"Thursday the Germans were driven back over the Yser, Friday they secured a footing again and Saturday they were again hurled back. Now a bridge blown up by one side is repaired by the other; it is again blown up by one side, is repaired by the other; it is again blown up by the first or left as a death trap till the enemy is actually crossing.

"Actions by armored trains, some of them the most reckless adventures, are attempted daily. Each day accumulates an unwritten record of individual daring feats, accepted as part of the daily work. Day by day our men push out on these dangerous explorations, attacked by shell fire, in danger of cross fire, dynamite and ambuscades, bringing a priceless support to the threatened lines. As the armored train approaches the river under shell fire, the car cracks with the constant thunder of guns aboard. It is amazing to see the angle at which the guns can be swung.

"And overhead the airmen are busy venturing through fog and puffs of exploding shells to get one small fact of information. We used to regard the looping of the loop of the Germans overhead as a hair-brained piece of impudent defiance to our infantry fire. Now we know it means early trouble for the infantry.

"Beside us as we crawl up snuffing the lines like dogs on a scent, grim train loads of wounded wait soundlessly in the sidings. Further up the line ambulances are coming slowly back. The bullets of machine guns begin to rattle on our armored coats. Shells we learned to disregard, but the machine gun is the master in this war.

"Now we near the river at a flat country farm. The territory is scarred with trenches and it is impossible to say at first who is in them so incidental and separate are the fortunes of this riverside battle. The Germans are on our bank inflading the lines of the allies' trenches. We creep up and the Germans come into sight out of the trenches, rush to the bank and are scattered and smashed. The allies follow with a fierce bayonet charge.

"The Germans do not wait. They rush to the bridges and are swept away by the deadliest destroyer of all, the machine gun. The bridge is blown up, but who can say by whom? Quickly the train runs back.

"'A brisk day,' remarks the correspondent. 'Not so bad,' replies the officer. So the days pass."

Chicago, Hamilton and Dayton trains out of Fort Wayne inaugurated a ten-minute change in time Sunday. The train reaching here in the past at 11:05 is now scheduled at 11:15 and the train that has been leaving at 12:45 now departs at 12:55. The local freight, also carrying passengers, continues to leave at 6:45 o'clock in the morning.

This N. Y. Heiress Has Work to Do

Miss Barbara Rutherfurd

New York, Oct. 26.—Miss Barbara Rutherford, daughter of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, is one of the richest and one of the busiest girls in New York.

Society claims very little of Miss Rutherford's time; she declines invitations for cotillions and teas to visit the model tenements her mother has erected on the east side, or to help carry on the work of the Big Sisters society.

Miss Rutherford has a talent for music and if she were not heiress to a fortune she would probably be a star in grand opera.

Prof. Ross Predicts Rush as Result of War in Europe.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 26.—"It is likely that the immigration at the close of the war will include more of the weak, unfit and aged than hitherto," is the assertion of Prof. Edward Alsworth Ross, the great sociologist of the University of Wisconsin, whose recent book, "The Old World and the New," has aroused much discussion.

Ross advocates new restrictions on immigration in order to guard the American people against the lasting harm which he predicts as a result of this after-the-war immigration. But he sees some promising elements in the new influx from Europe.

"Undoubtedly America will receive a stream from Belgium. In view of the advancement of the Belgians in civilization this influx will be very desirable," he says.

"Again, we might expect a renewal of that German immigration which practically came to an end twenty years ago. The sweeping of Germany's foreign commerce from the ocean has been such a shock to manufacturing industries that nothing but a complete triumph of German arms can brighten her economic prospects after conclusion of peace sufficiently to keep her industrial population at home. On the other hand, if there is great destruction of life, there may be a dearth of men in the more agricultural parts of Europe, so that the outflow from Slavic countries may actually lessen.

"And here is a very significant possibility," continued Professor Ross. "In the past, men have greatly preponderated in the new immigration. I now look for a rapid increase in the immigration of women—widowed or otherwise bereaved by the war. This may have a serious and lasting influence upon the social position of women in this country. Such an influx might break down barriers the trades unions have tried to maintain against the employment of women in 'men's work.' From the standpoint of the employer, bereaved immigrant women, lashed by hard necessity, would be quite ideal strike breakers."

MISSOURI TO TRY NEW PLAN.

Columbia, Mo., Oct. 25.—The 'eye of the camera" will be fixed on Missouri ballot boxes on next election day. And the man who votes twice, and the man whose vote is "fixed" may expect to find his picture in the suffragists' "rogues' gallery" the day after election.

In their efforts to check fraud at the ballot boxes when the suffrage amendment is voted on in November, the women suffragists have organized camera squads of women; they will be stationed at every voting booth, and every man who shows evidence of slipping from the straight path of political righteousness will be "snapped," and his picture kept for future reference.

Mrs. Walter McNab Miller, of Columbia, and president of the Missouri Equal Suffrage league, declares that victory for the suffragists is assured, and the camera squad is going to do a lot to secure a full vote and an honest one.

UNCLE SAM'S LAW FREES TWO CHINESE DOMESTIC SLAVES.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 26.—The first Pacific coast conviction on a charge of peonage, a new federal statute, came in Federal Judge Dooling's court here when Mrs. Wong Sam was held guilty of slavery.

Mrs. Wong was accused of holding Chinese girls as domestic slaves. The girls, Loy Kum and Tom Sun Ying, were lured to San Francisco from China on promise of wealthy marriages and were then smuggled into the Chinese quarter and sold as domestic slaves.

Upper: Tom Sun Ying, domestic slave, and, below: Mrs. Wong Sam and Loy Kum.

They were rescued by Donaldina Cameron, head of the Chinese Presbyterian Mission, and the police after a raid in which the doors of the den where they were confined were battered down.

But Loy Kum fell into the clutches of the Chinese again, for her owner was able to prove by perjury that the girl was American born.

"I was sold then," said Loy Kum, "to Wong Sam and I saw her pay my former owner $3,800 for me. I tried to send word for the immigration authorities to come and rescue me, as I was afraid of my life."

Finally another police raid resulted in the freeing of the girl and the arrest and final conviction of her Chinese mistress.

FATHERS HAVE CLUB IN IOWA

No Longer Mere Family Figureheads in Hawkeye State.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Oct. 23.—"What kind of a father are you?"

It was Stymest Stevenson, a Council Bluffs business man, who put this question squarely up to the heads of families in Council Bluffs, a year ago last May, when he invited them to help him organize the Fathers' club, the first organization of its kind in the world.

Less than thirty fathers accepted Stevenson's invitation to meet him at the Madison avenue school and talk over the importance of being fathers.

Every one of the fathers admitted that they had been leaving the business of bringing up the children to the mothers and the teachers; they sort of thought that if they earned the money that paid for the shoes and the clothes the youngsters wore, and the food they eat they were doing their whole fatherly duty. But after they talked it over they agreed that too much family responsibility had been placed on "mother's" shoulders and it was up to the men folks to be real heads of the families, and not merely providers of clothes and food.

It was then the Fathers' club was founded. Now there are fourteen clubs of fathers in Council Bluffs with an average membership of fifty. Last July the clubs united as the Federated Fathers' clubs.

The federation's motto is "Make the indifferent different." Some of the topics the members debate at their monthly meetings are "How Can Home and School Be More Closely United?" "Choosing a Vocation." "The 'Gang' and Boys' Club," and "Should We Have More Men Teachers?"

Mothers are occasionally invited to the fathers' meetings, but they take no part in the programs.

SAYS SCALES DEFRAUD.

Nearly Half in Error, Is Declaration After Investigation.

New York, Oct. 26.—That nearly 45 per cent. of the scales which weigh out to the American housewife her groceries and other necessities are in error from 3 to as high as 12 per cent. develops from a nation-wide investigation recently conducted by the federal bureau of standards.

Because of these and other grave variations which permit of a very general defrauding of the consumer, the convention of commissioners on weights and measures, which will be held here shortly, attended by delegates from more than a dozen states, will recommend federal regulation of weights and measures. The United States today is the only one of the great nations which does not enforce a uniform standard for weighing and measuring instruments.

"The public seems to enjoy being defrauded," said Dr. Lomis A. Fischer, of the bureau of standards, discussing the investigation. "Scales were found which had been manufactured purposely to defraud the buyer; while an endless variety of measures with false bottoms and false interiors were discovered."

The Ashbrook bill, now before congress, would give the government authority to enforce a single standard throughout the nation.

DOESN'T LOOK FOR TROUBLE.

Diplomatic Exchanges Over Tank Steamers Are Friendly.

Washington, Oct. 26.—President Wilson expressed confidence today that the American steamer Brindilla, captured by a British cruiser, soon will be released. He said satisfactory progress was being made in the negotiations over the Platuria another captured steamer, but that he did not know what the outcome would be.

The president described the diplomatic exchanges with Great Britain over the tank steamers as friendly and said he was satisfied that the situation would be cleared up.

ORIENTAL MAID GOES 6,000 MILES TO WED SWEETHEART WITH PRICE ON HEAD.

TOM GUNN, CHINESE AVIATOR, AND HIS SWEETHEART, LILLIE TONG, CHINESE BELLE.

San Francisco, Oct. 26.—The fact that Tom Gunn, the revolutionary Chinese aviator of this city, has a price of $5,000 on his head, offered by Yuan Shi Kai, and that she would probably share his fate if captured, will not deter Lillie Tong, his sweetheart, from traveling 6,000 miles to join him at Manila.

They plan to be married at the island capital, Gunn having established headquarters there in order to be near the scene of probable future revolutionary activities. He conducts an aviation school there.

Lillie Tong is the belle of Chinatown here. Gunn's prowess as a daring aviator won her heart instantly. The peril in which her lover finds himself now has but served to strengthen the bonds.

Tom Gunn left this country some time ago as head of the Chinese army aviation corps, upon invitation of Gen. Lan Tien Wei while the latter was visiting here. Before Gunn reached the orient, however, the administration changed in China and instead of being received as a hero, he had a price placed upon his head.

Yuan Shi Kai feared that Gunn was one of a conspiring body of celestial aviators who were believed to be planning the destruction of Peking by bombs. Gunn has been active in connection with Dr. Sun Yat Sen and other Chinese revolutionists.

HAS VERY BIG JOB ON HANDS

The American Embassy in France Looks After 80,000 Aliens There.

Paris, Oct. 26.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The American embassy, under its obligations to represent German and Austrian interests in France, is looking after about 80,000 persons who are detained as alien enemies in eleven localities in France. These were Germans and Austrians living in the country at the outbreak of the war. The French government provided special trains going to neutral frontiers for two days after hostilities had begun, and all those remaining within France after those days were obliged to report themselves to the police and go to those towns in France to which they were assigned.

The state department at Washington has attached H. Percival Dodge, formerly minister to Panama, to the embassy here as special agent to have charge of German and Austrial affairs. The third floor of the embassy office building is taken entirely for this work and a considerable staff of secretaries and interpreters are at work.

The reason that France holds 80,000 civilians as prisoners of war appears to be as hostages for the proper treatment of French citizens who are similarly held in Germany and Austria, and to have in hand a means of reprisal should there be any ill-treatment of French soldiers captured by German and Austrian armies. The most distinguished prisoner is probably Count Pejacsewich, member of the Hungarian cabinet for Croatia, Slavonia and Dalmatia. He happener to be at Vichy taking a cure when the war began. He is allowed to remain in his hotel and has entire freedom of movement within the town. A good many hundreds of German and Austrian subjects have been allowed to remain where they were, in each case because of special reasons; other hundreds upon the representation of the American embassy, have been allowed to leave the country, in each case also for special reasons, usually those of ill-health. But there are still about 80,000 who had to go to the detention camps. These are usually in barracks formerly occupied by troops. There is a good deal of crowding and the food is probably about what French soldiers receive. There appears to be every intention on the part of the French government to treat these involuntary hostages as well as they can under the necessities of war. There is in France a great deal of suffering among French people. It is likely that millions are less well fed than the German and Austrian prisoners. Nevertheless these prisoners, being forced to live away from their own homes, find life difficult and full of inconveniences. They are allowed to receive money and spend it as they please. They also write and receive letters freely except that they are all read by censors.

Switzerland has undertaken to conduct the exchange of prisoners and among the first that are being exchanged are French people caught in Germany and Austria by the war, and Germans and Austrians detained in France. Germans and Austrians are taken by French police to the Swiss border and turned over there to Swiss agents, who in turn transfer French citizens to the French representatives.

Few Folks Have Gray Hair Now

Druggist Say Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compopnd," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—Adv.

WAR WILL RESULT IN UPBUILDING OF U. S. COTTON INDUSTRY.

Two Fair Employes of the California Cotton Mills, Who are Doing Their Share to Built up the Cotton Industry of the United States.

Oakland, Cali., Oct. 26.—With European and English mills closed to the cotton crop of the United States since the outbreak of the war, the California Cotton Mills of this city, the only mill of its kind on the Pacific Coast, is working to capacity, doing its share to consume the vast amount of cotton turned out from the plantations of the great cotton centers of this country.

Five hundred employes are turning the spindles of the extensive Oakland plant, which covers eight acres, manufacturing towels, table-cloths, comforters and all sorts of twine. All of the fish cord used in the great Alaska salmon fisheries industry and the greater portion of the hop twine, of which the factory makes 8,000 pounds each season, is turned out by this extensive plant.

"Now is the time," say officials of the California Cotton Mills, "for the U. S. to build up her cotton industry. The war shows how dependent this country has been on European mills for its cotton cloth."

RESTRICTS USE OF WHIP.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 26.—Corporal punishment has been abolished in the public schools here, except for extraordinary cases, as a result of the petition of George E. Dieckmann, chairman of the Humane society executive committee, who maintained that St. Louis was the only one of the big, progressive cities in which this "brutal and ineffective punishment" was preserved.

The new regulation adopted by the board of education provides that corporal punishment may be administered only in incorrigible cases, with the consent of the parent and in the presence of the principal. A thin rattan is to be used. Slapping, shaking and boxing the child's ears are all absolutely prohibited.

To the Public.

"I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy last winter for a severe bronchial cough and can conscientiously say that I never took a medicine that did me so much good," writes Mrs. G. W. Andrews, Andrews, Ind. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

U. S. VETERINARIAN FINDS CHOLERA AT POST-MORTEM HERE

Dr. Paul A. Mollan, United States veterinarian co-operating with Purdue university, yesterday found hog cholera when he held a post-mortem at the farm of Paul Zink, residing five mills east of New Haven. The examination was witnessed by fifty farmers in the neighborhood.

Dr. Mollan was assisted by County Agent Henry. When the men arrived at the farm they found several sick hogs penned for the "post." One of the hogs was killed and dissected. The lungs, kidneys, bladder and intestines were found spotted as in the case of cholera. The official spent some time in demonstrating the effects of cholera on the hog and told how the disease may be found in a pen of hogs. Following the examination Dr. Mollan had each farmer present disinfect his shoes with a wash prepared. This was done to prevent carrying disease germs to farms where there is no cholera.

Arrangements are now being made to have Dr. Mollan here within the next two weeks to give a number of illustrated lectures throughout the county on disease prevention. The dates for these have not yet been set.—Fort Wayne Journal-azette, October 18, 1914.

Many reports reach us of cholera among hogs in this vicinity.

Government inspection is the only guarantee the people have that the meat they buy is from animals that were free from dangerous disease at time of slaughter.

We operate the only packing house in Fort Wayne or Allen county under government inspection. Three government experts, employed and paid by the United States government, constantly supervising and inspecting from start to finish.

CLINE HERE TO ENTER CAMPAIGN

Congressman to Speak at Court House This Evening.

Hon. Cyrus Cline, congressman from the Twelfth district, arrived in Fort Wayne Monday from his home at Angola and placed his services at the command of the Allen county democratic committee, which had already booked him for a meeting on Monday night at the assembly room of the court house.

HON. CYRUS CLINE.

Detained in Washington by his duties as a member of the lower house, Mr. Cline has had no opportunity to take an active part in the campaign in the district and he stated on his arrival that, while he felt the importance of being out among the voters, he realized that the important matters before congress made it more important for him to remain at his post.

He will make as many speeches as are demanded of him and will close in the district with a big meeting at Angola on next Saturday night. His first address was that of Monday at the Bowser plant, where he and Judge H. A. Kerr, of the city court, were the speakers. R. Earl Peters, Mr. Cline's secretary, returned from Washington with him and will remain until after the election.

The Jefferson drum corps will participate in the Cline parade and will meet at democratic headquarters on East Main street at 7:30 o'clock. Democratic meetings scheduled for the week are as follows:

Tuesday noon—Pennsylvania shops, Lafayette street; speakers, Hon. Cyrus Cline, Guy Colerick, Hon. J. M. Robinson and Harry Kennerk.

Wednesday—Packard Organ factory; Mr. Cline and Fred E. Zollars.

Thursday—Wayne Oil Tank factory; speakers, same.

Friday—Indiana Road Machine works; speakers, Mr. Cline and Harry H. Hilgemann.

Van Arman's—Speakers, Maurice Niezer and Judge Kerr.

Tuesday evening—St. Joe Athletic club; speakers, Robinson and Groves and Cline.

Monday evening—Iroquis club, Hanna street—Speakers, Niezer, Cline, Zoercher and Groves.

Coming to Marshall Meeting.

Big delegations are expected from the adjoining counties for the meeting Saturday night of this week when Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall will be the chief speaker.

Columbia City will be largely represented and O. H. Downey, of Churubusco, has announced that forty automobiles have been engaged to bring the crowd here from his town. Decatur, Bluffton and Huntington will also send big parties to the speaking.

COMMITTEE HOLDS MEETING.

Arrangements Made for the Reception of Vice-President Marshall.

Edward C. Miller, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the reception of Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall, called a meeting for Monday afternoon to complete the details. Other members of the committee are William C. Schwier, W. A. Johnson, George W. Lindemuth, Martin B. Luecke, Louis S. C. Schroeder and Maurice Niezer. Congressman Cyrus Cline and Edward C. Hoffman, district chairman, met with the committee and decided to make the meeting the biggest of the campaign.

Mr. Marshall will be met on his arrival in Fort Wayne and will hold a reception at the Anthony hotel prior to the speaking.

REPUBLICANS TO HEAR FURNAS.

Miles J. Furnas will conduct a speaking campaign for the local republicans on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Meetings will be held Tuesday at the Southside Storage and Van company's barn, 2147 Fairfield avenue; Weick's livery barn, 1017 Hanna street, and at the Brown Trucking company's barn on Wells street.

Wednesday evening the meetings will be at the Bowser barn, Hayden park and the old Baptist church, Cottage and Indiana avenues. Charles R. Lane, republican candidate for congress, will speak at each of the meetings.

Peninsular Base Burners Cut Fuel Bills

Peninsular base burners are not just stoves for heating purposes like so many heating stoves of inferior quality. The Peninsular is built upon a plan and method of scientific heat producing qualities from the least amount of fuel and with the least care and attention. Every door, draught, flue, etc., etc., has a purpose to perform in the general scheme of fuel economy productive of the greatest amount of heat. This is why Peninsular base burners HAVE BEEN PROVEN to give more heat from less coal than any other base burner made. Not only are Peninsulars the stoves to save money, but they are attractively built and elegantly finished. Do not fail to investigate the Peninsular before you buy a heating stove.

A Penny Saved Is a Penny Earned $38.25 Save Your Dimes the Dollars will Take Care of Themselves

Peninsular Combination Coal and Gas Range

The same scientific principles of fuel economy and convenience are carried out in Peninsular ranges, as have been developed in the base burners. This combination range burns both coal and gas and will furnish you with betterbaki ng, cooking and kitchen heating with less fuel than any other range on the market. With it you can cook and heat with the same fuel during cold weather, and during the summer use the gas burners while having the advantage of all the features of sanitation and convenience of the entire range. This is the same one that made such a hit during our recent practical cooking demonstration. Come in and see it. You will find it just the one you contemplated buying and embodying more desirable exclusive features than any other range ever shown you, no matter what the price.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Free selling led by one of the largest concerns here, more than counteracted in the wheat market today the influence of bullish cables. After opening ¼c to ⅞c higher the market receded below Saturday night's level.
The close was steady at ⅝c decline.
Clear, cold weather that favored the curing and shipment of corn, made the market for that cereal weak. The opening, which varied from ⅛@¼c off to ⅛c up, was followed by a decided general sag.
The close was unsettled at ⅝@¾c to 1@1⅛c under Saturday night.
Oats traders took their cue from the action of wheat and corn. Business lacked volume.

m., and from that point drive to the farmer's home.
The girl, although only fifteen years old, was unusually well developed for her age and had the appearance of a girl of eighteen. Both relatives and police today refuted any statement that she was inclined to be wayward and her habits bear out the statement that she was of excellent moral character.

Shirt Knotted About Neck.

Around the neck of the corpse was knotted a man's shirt. It is believed the girl was strangled to death and her body thrown into the vault.
The body was discovered by Lewis H. Murdock, who in looking into the vault saw a red waist. Calling a companion he made a closer examination and uncovered the body.
When the girl left home August 29 it was with the intention of meeting a farmer at Springbrook Park, opposite Island Park, with whom she was to spend the balance of the summer. It is known that she left a Mishawaka car at the park, but nothing more was heard of her until yesterday. The girl's relatives do not know the name of the man she was to meet, the arrangements for the meeting having been made over a telephone as the result of an advertisement which the girl's relatives had inserted in a newspaper. They desired that she get away from the city during the hot weather.
John Slick, who was passing Island Park on August 19, said that he heard a woman scream, but made no investigation as the cry was not repeated.
An examination of the girl's body disclosed the fact that rings and jewelry which she wore when she left home had not been stolen. Coroner T. J. Swartz and the police are greatly puzzled over the failure to find her dress suit case. They have searched every portion of Island Park for it without result.
That the murderer may have committed suicide was suggested to the police by newspaper men who recalled that on August 28 the body of an unknown man was found in the East race. It is thought that the suicide jumped into the St. Joseph river at Island Park and after drowning was carried by the current toward the dam and then into the race. All efforts to identify the suicide failed and he was buried in a pauper's grave.
The police do not accept this theory. Mrs. Charles H. Miller, aunt of the murdered girl, could not talk of the case last night because of her nervous condition. Mr. Miller, however, stated that the girl had lived with them since her parents separated some time ago.
Island Park, where the murder is thought to have taken place, was used for picnics some years ago, but it has been deserted and rarely visited except by an occasional wanderer. It is a very lonely place.
When the jewelry taken from the girl's body was examined, the initials "H. M." were found on a ring. The police went through their records and found that Hazel Macklin had been reported as missing about a month ago. Mrs. Miller was called and she identified the body by means of the clothing. It was learned that the disappearance was reported by the Macklin girl's Sunday school teacher, but it was not made public until yesterday when the body was found.
The girl's father is John Macklin, a traveling salesman of Hammond, Ind. Her mother lives at Bremen, Ind.

S. E. Mulholland was notified Monday that Samuel T. Murdock, president of the Indiana Lighting company, had submitted to an operation for appendicitis at Lafayette.

COMMENDS "TWILIGHT SLEEP."

New York, Oct. 2[illegible].—"The Freiburg method of producing that state of mind called twilight sleep is bound to become the method of the future in treating women in childbirth."

This is the opinion of Dr. William Wellington Knipe, professor at the New York Post Graduate Medical school, who has just returned from Freiburg, Germany, after making an exhaustive investigation of the marvelous new method of painless childbirth as practiced there.

Dr. Knipe went to Freiburg as an avowed skeptic, and hence American physicians consider his complete conversion extraordinarily significant. In an article in the current number of The Modern Hospital, the famous surgeon says: "It was only after repeated demonstrations of successful twilight sleep that at last I became a convert, and was forced to admit the poor results we had obtained previously were due to the fact that we did not follow the Freiburg method."

The doctor's article describes carefully the method of inducing the sleep by injection of scopolamine and morphine, and insists that the treatment will have to be carried out exclusively in a hospital.

South Dakota Man Says Farmers Lack Efficiency.

Such was the statement of Thomas Cooper, director of the South Dakota experiment station, made before the International Dry Farming congress here.

"Estimates indicate that the average farmer in this country receives 45 to 55 cents from each dollar expended by the consumer," he said, "while farmers in most European countries receive 60 to 65 cents.

"In an investigation of groups of farms located in townships in Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, it was found that one farmer out of every twenty-two received a labor income of more than $2,000 a year; one of every three paid for the privilege of working."

BLOW AT DOMINION IS NOT PLAN OF GERMANS

Washington, Oct. 26.—Although Germany contends that Canada, by sending troops against Germany, has violated the spirit of the Monroe doctrine, Germany has no intention of attacking Canada nor attempting to colonize that dominion, according to this statement issued here today by the German embassy.

"The German point of view is that by joining in an European war Canada has put herself outside of the pale of the Monroe doctrine. But Germany has not the intention of attacking Canada, nor of colonizing Canada."

The statement was in amplification of the view expressed yesterday by Count von Bernstorff, the American ambassador, that by taking part in the war the Canadians had justified an aggressive campaign against themselves.

To further explain the reason that caused the German government in a formal note delivered to the state department on September 3 by Count von Bernstorff, voluntarily pledging Germany not to attempt colonial expansion in South America, no matter what the outcome of the war, the embassy issued this statement:

"The note was written at that time because Winston Churchill has said, in his message to the American people, that if Germany was victorious in the present war she would attack the Monroe doctrine."

Sir Cecil Spring Rice, the British ambassador, by instruction of Sir Edward Grey, issued a warning today to American shippers through the state department to consign all cargoes bound for neutral countries to the neutral government or a specific consignee.

German Property in France.

German property in France, taken over by the French government, has not been confiscated but merely taken into trusteeship for its protection, according to a statement at the French embassy today supplementing a dispatch from the foreign office at Bordeaux, describing seizure of French property by the Germans in Alsace-Lorraine. The dispatch follows:

"The German government, according to reports received from Switzerland, intends to seize personal and real estate belonging to the French in Alsace-Lorraine in reprisal for the seizure of German property in France. I consider it hardly necessary to state that the French official government circular of the 14th of October referred to by the Germans merely enforced protectionary measures for placing German property situated in France under trusteeship of the government."

ENGLAND EAGER FOR NEWS.

Progress of Germans After Crossing Yser is Unknown.

London, Oct. 26.—What progress, if any, the German right has made since crossing the Yser, between Nieuport and Dixmude, in Belgium on Saturday, stood today high above all other questions asked in England concerning the situation of the allied armies.

That the Germans crossed this barrier is admitted by both sides, but whether in crossing it they have been enabled to push forward or whether they have met such opposition from the British and Belgian armies as to be held from swaying beyond the western bank, is yet to be recorded in official statements.

The fight in this canal-webbed section of Belgium, to penetrate which and gain the channel ports, Germany has been sacrificing so many soldiers, covers a comparatively small area of the whole battle line in France and Belgium, but here unquestionably the dead lie thickest. This fact is due not only to the determined rush of the German forces, but also to the accurate fire of the British and French warships.

Blame It to Crown Prince.

According to the Star's Rome correspondent the German crown prince presided over the Austro-German council of war, held on Oct. 12, when the German advance on the Vistula was decided on which has met with such a decisive defeat.

According to the newspaper Handelsblat, the Belgian flag is now flying above Esschen, twenty miles north of Antwerp. All the German soldiers have been withdrawn.

Preparing for Defense.

The correspondent of the Times at Rotterdam sends the following:

"It is clear that the Germans are putting Antwerp in a state for defense. In most of the important forts the Belgian guns have been replaced with German fortress artillery of the latest type.

"The bridge between Antwerp and Pais de Waes, which the retreating Belgians damaged, had been repaired. Evidently the Germans are preparing a line of retreat from the Ostend-Dixmude line.

"The authorities have ordered the railroads to cease the free conveyance of refugees from Holland to Antwerp. Only a small garrison is at present in Antwerp, probably not more than 3,000 men.

England is now speculating on when the Germans, influenced by the presence of rival ships, will attempt to bring uits of their own navy into action off tthe Belgian coast.

Dodging Here and There.

German submarines have been dodging here and there off the coast during the past week. So far no successes have been credited them and it is contended here that the German people must be clamoring for naval retaliation. It would not surprise the British, therefore, is the sea phase of the struggle became more general and more pronounced in the near future, though nothing like a general naval action is expected.

There has been no marked change in the situation since the latest official communications were issued. The contending forces were at each others' throats today principally along that line stretching from Nieuport to the river Lys. A struggle violent, but perhaps less active, is raging thence southward to Arras.

Holland Soldiers Care for Lost Belgian Babies

'oday's War News Given in Summary.

The supreme efforts of the fighting men of five nations have failed to turn the tide of battle along the Franco-Belgian border. Latest reports today were that a struggle of unparalleled fury was still in progress along the North sea, where the Germans with reckless bravery are flinging their troops against the allied forces. The French official statement indicates that an attempt to cut off the German right wing had made some progress. If, as said, the allies have established a front from Ypres to Roulers, the German line has been thrust back in a sharp angle, the point of which is considerably to the northward of British forces on the shore of the North sea. The German movement across the Yser which presented a menacing aspect to the allies, has been checked, the French war office says.

All accounts agree that the toll of human life exacted in the crucial struggle is enormous. Three meadows near Ostend, a British correspondent reports, are heaped with German dead. From the remainder of the long line of battle stretching to the south and east across France to the edge of Switzerland, there is no word.

Reports from the eastern front indicate that the greatest battle of the war in that area is impending. Austria in its latest official statement makes the claim to having thrust strong forces across the Carpathians into the face of determined resistance.

German and Austrian forces, it is said, have now a strong wall of troops along a well established line which stretches from the northern shores of the Carpathians before the long disputed fortress of Przemysl and on into the district of Plock. Before this line is arranged the main army of the Russians now said to have been reinforced by troops from the Caucasus, Siberia and Turkestan. The Austrians claim successes in engagements to the northeast of Przemysl and on the lower San.

Latest dispatches from Petrograd say that the Germans are "continuing their precipitate retreat," and have evacuated Lodz, in Poland. An attempt by the Germans to check the Russian advance, it is said, was unsuccessful. No word has come of early afternoon fighting at Tsin-Tau where a small German garrison is attempting to stand off attacks by land and sea from the combined Japanese and British forces.

DEAD MEN WERE NOT IDENTIFIED

Hicksville, Ohio, Oct. 26.—Without identification the bodies of two young men killed on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks, two miles east of here, have been buried in the Hicksville cemetery. When the fast New York and Chicago express train reached here Saturday morning the engineer reported that he had struck something east of town and asked that an investigation be made. Section men sent to the scene found the badly mangled remains of two men scattered along the track. Each was so badly cut up that recognition was impossible. Coroner Chapman came here from Defiance and finding identification impossible ordered the bodies buried. One of the men appeared to be about 24 years old and the other about 20. It is believed they were foreigners and were resting on the track and fell asleep.

OHIO CASE IS ADVANCED.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Because of its importance the supreme court today advanced for hearing one December 7 the Ohio National Guard case, involving the power of the president to order the national guard of the states to foreign territory without first having mustered them in as volunteers of the United States army. The New York Tribune case, involving the right of the government to compel a newspaper editor or reporter to divulge the source of his information and the Oregon minimum wage law cases also were advanced to the same date.

SILLIMAN MAKES REPORT ON PLAN

Mexican Body Will Substitute a Provisional President.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Official reports received here today indicated that the Mexican national convention at Aguas Calientas would today or tomorrow depose Gen. Carranza as first chief and substitute a provisional president.

American Consul Silliman reported he was reliably informed of Gen. Carranza's intention to retire under conditions that no objections would be interposed to his candidacy at a regular election, and that the tenure of the provisional government should be short. Officials here believed that while Carranza refused to take the initiative in submitting his resignation, he would abide by the convention's decision should it vote to retire him. Evidence of that was contained in official advices which reported Carranza making no extraordinary military preparations.

Conflicting reports had been received by the state department as to Carranza's attitude. While no confirmation has been received of reported disturbances in Mexico City, official advices told of a general order by Carranza deposing many commanders who were Villa adherents at the convention and appointing others in their places.

Similarly a decree was issued by Carranza informing all chiefs throughout the republic that he was still first chief and to obey orders only from him instead of the convention. The convention has discussed that in secret session, but no report of the result of its deliberation has been received.

The war department received from Col. Hatfield, commanding American troops on the Arizona border, a message saying that Governor Maytorena, of Sonora, was slowly and reluctantly yielding and the Yaqui Indians were defiantly leaving Naco.

WILL CURB ITS FURTHER SPREAD

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Secretary of Agriculture Houston, who arrived here to address the convention of the National Dairy association show, said that the epidemic of mouth disease in southern Michigan and northern Indiana was not beyond control.

He said precautions now being taken, including the extermination of afflicted animals, probably would prevent the disease from further spread.

RALSTON BEFORE THE GRAND JURY

Indianapolis, Oct. 26.—Gov. Ralston was a witness before the Marion county grand jury today when it resumed its investigation of the bill juggling in the last legislature.

The governor was at the grand jury room before the grand jury went into session and waited there some time.

He then left the rooms but returned when the grand jury went to work and was the first witness.

Special Committee on Cotton Legislation Holds a Meeting.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Plans for the administration program at the December session of congress will be discussed by President Wilson and party leaders at a forthcoming conference. The president expects the house will be busy with appropriation bills until February and the senate meanwhile may busy itself with other measures—among them the Philippine bill.

The bill for the purchase of a government-owned merchant marine would be taken up, the president said, unless something more important commanded attention.

Cotton Committee Meets.

The special committee on cotton legislation named by the house just before adjournment of congress met today to consider the situation in the south brought about by the European war. The resolution provided that this committee make a thorough investigation of the subject and report possible measures for federal aid in the cotton crisis by December 15.

Nearly all the members of both houses of congress had left Washington today.

There was considerable discussion today regarding Representative Henry's statement that an extra session would be called in November, but those close to President Wilson are of the opinion that he is not considering taking any such action.

Remains in Washington.

President Wilson plans to remain in Washington this week, but to see as few callers as possible, that he may shape his program and keep in touch with affairs in Europe and Mexico. He will go to Princeton next Tuesday to vote.

Many invitations to spend a few days at different points in the south after election have come to the white house, but so far no intention of accepting any of them has been indicated. Today the president was invited to go to Trenton for a "home coming day" in January. He may accept the invitation.

TWO ENTOMBED; MANY ESCAPE.

Fire in Coal Mine at Elizabeth, Pa., Summons Rescue Crews.

Pittsburg, Oct. 26.—Fire in Peterson mine of the United Coal and Coke company at Elizabeth, Pa., near here today entombed two men, a large number escaping when the alarm was given. A rescue crew from the Pittsburg station of the bureau of mines, aided by rescue crews from other mines in the district, are endeavoring to reach the men.

GERMANY HOLDS MANY PRISONERS

London, Oct. 26.—(3:40 a. m.)—A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam says that according to Berlin newspapers received there the number of war prisoners in Germany up to October 21 aggregated 296,869, including 5,401 officers. Of these it is said that there are 2,472 French officers and 140,897 men; 2,164 Russian officers and 104,524 men; 547 Belgian officers and 31,378 men, and 218 British officers and 8,669 men.

The Times in an editorial today dealing with the censorship question, compares the treatment accorded The Associated Press correspondents by the English and German governments to the disadvantage of the former. It says further:

"Perhaps Premier Asquith and his colleagues never heard of the great American institution known as The Associated Press. It is the most wonderful news organization in the world and nothing in Europe can compare with it. Its statements are generally accurate and are implicitly trusted throughout North America."

MARSHALL IS IN COLORADO

Denver, Col., Oct. 26.—Vice President Marshall reached Colorado today to aid the democratic state and congressional candidates in their campaign for election.

The vice president will give a reception at the democratic club this evening, after which he will make a public address in the city auditorium.

Mrs. Marshall accompanied the vice president from Washington.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

Robbers Turn on Gas in Bed Room of Couple in Ossian.

Ossian, Ind., Oct. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glass, well known residents of this place, had a narrow escape from death by asphyxiation when robbers turned on the gas in their bed room in what is believed to have been an attempt to stupefy them so that the house might be safely robbed. The marauders removed a chandelier from the sleeping room and attached a rubber pipe leading from the kitchen. Mr. Glass was aroused by difficulty of breathing and discovered that the room was full of gas. It is not believed that murder was intended. Mrs. Glass was unconscious for an hour after her husband had discovered the escaping gas.

POLICE PROBE TWO THEORIES

Finding of Body in Vault at Island Park Develops Mystery.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 26.—In attempting to solve the mystery surrounding the murder of Hazel Macklin, the 15-year-old girl, whose body was found in a privy vault, on Island Park, an abandoned picnic ground, Sunday afternoon, the police today are following two theories, as follows:

First—that the man who murdered the girl on the night of Aug. 19, the day she left home, committed suicide by drowning in the St. Joseph river.

Second—that the murderer was a resident of South Bend, and not a farmer, as was at first supposed and that he was about forty years old, about five feet eleven inches tall and of about 165 pounds weight. The man is described as being rather dark and as having a small mustache.

Saw Her Enter Carriage.

The finding of an unknown man in the east race, off the St. Joseph river, on August 29, nine days after the girl's disappearance is responsible for the first theory. This view, however, has lost considerable weight because the description does not tally with that given to the police today by an acquaintance of the girl, who has told the detectives that she saw the young woman step into a carriage, driven by a man of the above description. The last seen of the couple was when they passed Ernsperger street at Vistula avenue. This was about 7:30 o'clock. It is presumed that the couple drove to Island park, just across the river from the vicinity in which the girl stepped into the carriage.

From Charles Miller, a mason contractor, and uncle of the girl, the police have learned that she left her home about 6:30 p. m., August 19, with the intention of meeting a farmer who had advertised for a girl to do light housework. She had previously arranged by telephone to meet the farmer at the Ernsperger street car stop at 7:30 p.

FRENCH DESTROY GERMAN AEROPLANES.

London, Oct. 26.—(3:50 p. m.)—According to the Paris correspondent of the Express, five German aeroplanes were destroyed by the French on Saturday. Two Taubes were brought down at Rheims by a single French aviator, he says, who succeeded in getting to a higher altitude than the Germans and then fired on them with a revolver. Two other German "birds" were hit by the guns of the Meharicourt forts near Montididor. A fifth German airman was wounded by a rifle shot at Gravelines, a seaport 12 miles east northeast of Calais.

REPORTS GENERAL ALLIED ADVANCE.

London, Oct. 26.—(3:15 P. M.)—"Advices from the front this morning," telegraphs the Paris correspondent of Routers Telegram company, "indicate a general allied advance in the region between Nieuport and Ypres as well as to the east of Arras.

CHINA MAKES DEMAND ON JAPAN.

Peking, China, Oct. 26.—(4:05 a. m.)—The Chinese foreign minister has demanded the surrender of a Japanese torpedo boat with its crew which entered Chinese waters and substituted the Japanese flag for the Chinese dragon and attempted to tow away the wrecked German torpedo boat S-90

HELD NOT GUILTY ON FIRST CHARGE

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 26.—Ray Pfanschmidt was found not guilty of the murder of his sister, Blanch Pfanschmidt, by a jury in the McDonough county circuit court at Macomb today.

Pfanschmidt is still held on the charge of murdering his father, mother and Miss Emma Kaempen, a school teacher.

The crime with which Ray Pfanschmidt was charged was one of the most gruesome ever committed in Illinois. Charles Pfanschmidt, father of the accused; Mathilda Pfanschmidt, his mother; Blanche Pfanschmidt, a sister, and Miss Emma Kaempen, a school teacher boarder, were found dead in the ruins of the Pfanschmidt home, eleven miles southeast of Quincy, on Sept. 29, 1912. The bodies, although badly burned in the fire which destroyed the house, showed signs of having been beaten and chopped. Ray Pfanschmidt, then not 21 years of age and the only surviving member of the family, was accused. At the first trial in March, 1913, the state made an effort to prove that Pfanschmidt, heavily in debt and engaged to marry Esther Reeder, killed his father, mother and sister in order to inherit the estate.

The jury, on the first ballot, voted Pfanschmidt guilty and he was sentenced to be executed Oct. 15. A writ of supersedeas was granted and the supreme court of Illinois on a writ of error ordered a new trial.

MAY MARK NEW STEP IN "ON TO CALAIS"

London, Oct. 26.—(9:55 a. m.)—As claimed by Berlin and acknowledged by Paris, the Germans undoubtedly have crossed the Yser river between Dixmude and Nieuport, but whether or not this means a forward step in the "on to Calais" movement may depend on operations further eastward.

Rumors continue to reach London of the impending evacuation of Ostend and the reduction in strength of the German garrison in Antwerp. This does not necessarily imply preparations for a retreat, but it may mean that the Germans are throwing every available man against the allies left in their effort to conquerer the channel ports.

Along the Belgian littoral the allies' fleet continues its bombardment. The great shells, traveling three miles inland, evidently have proved very effective, judging from the tragic fate of Gen. von Tripp and the members of his staff, who were killed by a projectile from a warship.

All reports agree that the fighting in west Flanders has been terrible beyond any other during the war. Projectiles hurled from the land, the sea and the air are sweeping this flat, unprotected country, destroying villages and searching out the terror-stricken inhabitants, who delayed too long in getting out of the line of fire.

Allies Repulse Attack.

Paris reports that to the west and to the south of Lille fierce attacks by the Germans have been repulsed. The most significant part of the Paris official communication relates that the French, with their heavy artillery, now command the road which is one of the principal lines of German communication with St. Mihiel—the holding of which by the invaders has constituted one of the greatest menaces to the allied lines. Reports indicate that the French aerial service has responded to the demand for reorganization, which followed the storm of criticism levelled at it because of the ease with which German aeroplanes dropped bombs on Paris. No recent aerial attacks have been made on the French capital and it is announced along the battle front that five German aeroplanes have been destroyed by French airmen.

Without Definite Result.

Reports from Vienna indicate that along the battle line from the Carpathians to the Russian border, through Galicia, the fighting continues, but without any definite result. Petrograd claims that the Germans still are retiring from Warsaw in precipitate flight and that they are also evacuating Lodz. The Germans attempted to arrest the Russian offensive movement at Sakhatchoff, but were dislodged from their positions there with heavy losses. The question of the early return of the French government to Paris is being seriously considered. This indicates that the military situation is satisfactory from the standpoint of the allies, but the authorities believe the battle along the seacoast, because of the German advance near La Bassee will be more prolonged than was first anticipated. If the government does return to Paris, such a step undoubtedly will have a tremendous moral effect.

Essad Pasha, the chronic disturber of the peace of Albania, is said to have invaded northern Epirus. If this is true it may bring about the entrance of Italy into the conflict, according to opinion. Essad's activity may compel Italy to consider the necessity of occupying Avlona, a step which might not meet with favor in Austria-Hungary.

KILLED IN WRECK AT HANNA STREET

The unfortunate man had just climbed from the G. R. & I. train where he had repaired a broken brake beam and was starting for the crossing between the incoming freight and the siding and was leading his bicycle.

Watchman Bogart from the crossing tower saw the cars leave the rails and shouted a warning to Schallenberger, but before he could escape one of the wrecked cars struck him, dragged him over the street and tracks and crushed him against the train on the opposite track. Death, it is thought, was instantaneous.

The police department was notified of the accident and officials were accompanied to the scene by Coroner Kruse, who ordered the mangled body removed and taken to the Mungovan & Ryan undertaking parlors.

Traffic Is Delayed.

One freight car was entirely demolished and four others were badly damaged and as a result of the wreck traffic over the Pennsylvania and Wabash lines through the city was tied up for four hours. One of the Pennsylvania cars left the rails at the frog connecting the Pennsylvania and Wabash tracks and this caused the wreck.

The train was traveling at a rate of eight miles an hour at the time. It was in charge of Engineer F. W. Botteron, 511 Buchanan street, and Conductor W. C. Browne, 2437 Hanna street.

Was a Favorite.

Mr. Schallenberger was a favorite in local railroad circles and news of his horrible death has cast a spell of gloom in the local offices and shops of the company. He was a native of Germany, having been born in Hessen Darmstadt in 1862. He came to America at the age of twenty years and after living a short time in New York city came to Fort Wayne. This city had been his place of residence continuously ever since.

One year ago Mr. Schallenberger and his daughter Teresa paid a visit to his old home in Germany. He was a member of St. Peter's Catholic church and was active in the affairs of the Married Men's sodality in that congregation. He was also a member of the Holy Name society. He was also active as a member of the Pennsylvania Veterans' Relief association.

He and Mrs. Schallenberger were married February 14, 1888, and surviving besides the widow he leaves the following children: Misses Teresa, Mary and Mildred, Joseph, Leo, Lawrence, Edward and Clement Schallenberger, all residing at home. One brother survives and resides in New York city.

FRENCH LINE HOLDS FIRMLY, SAYS PARIS

Paris, Oct. 26.—(2:54 p. m.)—The French official communication given out this afternoon says that yesterday the French line between Nieuport and Dixmude was maintained.

"During the day of yesterday," says the report, "our front along the general line between Nieuport and Dixmude was maintained. The German forces which crossed the Yser between those two towns have not been able to progress."

The incessant alternatives of advance and withdrawal on the part of the allies and the Germans, particularly in the north, furnished early today no basis for a summing as a general result. The Germans, judging from their frightful sacrifices of men, seem determined to force the battle to an issue. Nevertheless the French public after analyzing the situation as indicated in the latest war office statements, continued optimistic. While awaiting further news from the front there is considerable interest in the action the institute of France will take regarding its German correspondents and associates.

The institute is expected to meet today. There has been a considerable difference of views among the members as well as the academies forming the institute, while the press has taken a large part in the discussion. The result of the statitory dispositions and decrees there has been some difficulty in reaching a decision. Incidentally one of the academicians has expressed himself in favor of returning all of the diplomats and titles received from Germany.

DEMOCRACY FAILS SAYS FAIRBANK

Former Vice President Out in Letter to Indiana Republicans.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 26.—"Democracy has been put to the supreme test. It has been given power to put its policies into effect and as usual has failed," declared Charles W. Fairbanks, former vice president, in an open letter to republicans, made public today. The letter goes on to say that under democratic rule, business has halted, the farmer has been injured and increased taxes or bonds have become necessary to preserve the public credit.

"Let us begin the work of restoring prosperity," Mr. Fairbanks concludes his letter, "by electing a senator and representatives in Indiana who will stand for republican policies and uphold the hands of a republican president who will be elected in 1916. We know full well that our cause is just and that justice will triumph. The people are aroused as they have not been in recent years, and if we shall continue to rally to our colors as we have been doing, we shall win a far reaching victory. We invite to the support of our causes all of those who may have disagreed with us heretofore."

Dr. Maurice I. Rosenthal will read a paper at the weekly meeting of the Fort Wayne Medical society in the assembly room of the court house Tuesday evening. Dr. H. A. Duemling and Dr. B. Van Sweringen will take up the discussion after the reading of the paper.

ANSWERS QUERY IN AFFIRMATIVE

Man Survives Death of His Physical Body, Says Theosophist.

Does the human being survive the death of his physical body? That was the question that L. W. Rogers, national lecturer of the Theosophical society, put to the audience last night in the Odd Fellows' hall and proceeded to answer in the affirmitive. He discussed in detail the experiments of Sir William Crookes, and in the efforts to prove that there is a life after bodily death, said that the English scientist had established three vital points: first, that there is such a thing as psychic force; second, that it is directed by intelligence, and third, that the intelligence is not that of living people. Crookes had succeeded, the lecturer said, in sending and receiving messages by the Morse telegraph code, using an inverted pencil to rap them out on the table.

After declaring that scientists of the highest standing, among whom are Crookes, Lodge, Wallace, Zollner, Lombroso, Barradue and Richet, have discovered facts that can be explained only by the hypothesis that the human being survives bodily death. Mr. Rogers cited various cases in the records of the Society for Psychical Research that corroborate the conclusions of the scientists.

RESERVE BANKS WILL OPEN SOON

Washington, Oct. 26.—Steps to set in motion the machinery of the twelve reserve banks under the new banking system, the opening for business of which has been fixed officially by Secretary McAdoo for November 16, were being taken here today by the federal reserve board.

Confidence was expressed that the early opening of the reserve banks would go a long way toward relieving conditions in the south brought on by the European war and be of assistance in the general business situation throughout the country.

JIM CROW LAW IS UP FOR ARGUMENT

Washington, Oct. 26.—The validity of the Jim Crow law of Oklahoma hangs on the outcome of the oral arguments today before the supreme court. William Harrison, for the negroes of the state, and S. T. Bledsoe came to Washington to argue the constitutionality of the law.

In addition to the usual "Jim Crow" requirements of separate cars and waiting rooms for the white and negro races, the Oklahoma statute permits the railroads to use chair cars, sleeping cars and dining cars exclusively for one race. The railroads contend that this is a justified distinction in service, as not enough negroes desire these facilities to pay the railroads for furnishing them separately.

The Buffaloes are making arrangements for a big banquet which they will give on Thanksgiving day. Each member of the lodge will be permitted to bring one friend to the feast.

The building committee of the new Hope hospital will meet Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. An architect will be chosen at the meeting to make plans and superintend the construction of the new building of the institution.

HEAR OF DELK'S ARREST.

Members of Church Say He Was Dismissed From Pulpit.

Indianapolis, Oct. 26.—Word of the arrest of Rev. John A. Delk, age 35, in Fort Wayne, yesterday, where Delk is held charged with issuing fraudulent checks, has been received here by members of the congregation of the "Christian Church of Indianapolis," believers in the "New Life" faith, Seventeenth street and Columbia avenue.

Delk was dismissed from the pulpit of the church several months ago, members say, for failure to pay debts which he had contracted with members of his congregation, and for other alleged acts not regarded proper by members of the congregation. Delk has recently been soliciting for a religious publication.

At the offices of the Fidelity Trust company it was said that about ten checks drawn on the bank had been returned during the last month. They amounted to about $50. The trust company officials said Delk had withdrawn his account about two months ago. Delk, according to a member of his former congregation, came to this city about two years ago from La Grange, Iowa, in response to a call.

Accused Woman is Released After Jury Fails to Reach Verdict.

New York, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, who was on trial in Mineola last week for the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey, was released on $25,000 bail by Justice Charles H. Kelby in the Kings county supreme court in Brooklyn this afternoon. Accompanied by her attorneys she started immediately for her home in Freeport.

MAY NEVER BE RETRIED.

Mineola, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Counsel for Mrs. Florence C. Carman, planned to appear in the supreme court today and ask that she be released on bail pending her second trial on the charge of murdering Mrs. Louise Bailey, or a decision to have the indictment against her quashed.

The jury which tried Mrs. Carman, wife of Dr. Edwin Carman, a Freeport physician in whose office Mrs. Bailey was shot and killed on June 30, could not agree yesterday after deliberating more than 13 hours. It was said the jury stood 10 for acquittal and two for conviction. The district attorney had announced that he would not seek to have Mrs. Carman tried again. Her own counsel, on the other hand, said he would demand a new trial as he would not permit the indictment to hang over his client.

Mrs. Carman was said to be in a state of collapse today as a result of the jury's failure to acquit her.

History of Noted Case.

Mrs. Carman went to trial charged with the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey, who was mysteriously shot in the consulting room of the accused woman's husband, a physician, June 30, last.

The death of Mrs. Bailey in the home of a widely known Freeport practitioner and within a few yards of the famous Merrick road, the main highway from New York to Montauk Point, excited the residents of this section to a high pitch, and today there was an enormous throng around the little red and white court house, several times as many as could possibly crowd into the room where Mrs. Carman's fate was to be decided.

Mrs. Bailey was the wife of W. D. Bailey, a well-to-do hat manufacturer. Their home life had been happy and they had two young children. On the fatal evening she had been visiting a friend and she stopped in Dr. Carman's office about 8 o'clock in the course of her trip home. There is some doubt concerning the nature of her illness. She had never consulted Dr. Carman before.

Shot While Leaving Office.

Her consultation finished, Mrs. Bailey rose to leave and Dr. Carman stepped to open the door. Just then there was a crash of glass at the window. Dr. Carman saw a revolver thrust through the hole and threw himself flat. A shot rang out. Mrs. Bailey sank to the floor, crying, "I'm shot!" and died in a few seconds.

Two men in the doctor's ante-room rushed in. Dr. Carman said he looked out the window, but too late to see anyone. He then telephoned to a physician living across the street and half an hour later notified the coroner and the police. A search of the grounds disclosed no better clew than a safety pin and the fact that a piece of shingle had been used to prop up the screen of the window through which the shot had been fired, and this screen had been unfastened from the inside.

The physician's home is in a well populated district and many persons were about. But no one had seen the murderer. Hounds were put on the scent. They ran five miles to Lynbrook, but there lost whatever trail they were following.

Mystery Deepened by Dictagraph.

Then, after a period of great mystery, came the astonishing discovery that the doctor's wife had placed a dictagraph in his office seven weeks before. The wires led upstairs to the bedroom of Mrs. Carman.

Mrs. Carman is a fine, stately, intellectual woman, 46 years old. The Carmans have been married twenty years and have a daughter 12 years old. She had decided, however, after consultation with her mother, that certain stories about her husband should be investigated. She went to a company in New York, represented herself as a dressmaker, but afterward admitted that she was the wife of a doctor, and contrived to have the dictagraph installed while the doctor was absent.

Mrs. Carman declared that what she had heard over the dictagraph wires had assured her that the doctor was absolutely faithful to her. She said she was upstairs lying down in her room at the time of the murder and had not used the dictagraph that day.

Mrs. Carman Jealous of Nurse.

Following the discovery of the dictagraph there were several stories told of seeing a woman in a white dress on the Carman lawn the night of the murder. There were various other conflicting rumors. One of them brought out the fact that Mrs. Carman had been jealous of a certain nurse to whom Dr. Carman had given money, and had struck this woman in the consulting room, where the murder occurred, a few weeks before the crime.

The versions of Mrs. Carman's movements were conflicting, too. Cecilia Coleman, the negro maid, became an important figure. According to one version, the Coleman girl admitted Mrs. Carman had run in the back door and through the kitchen just after the fatal shot, warning the maid not to tell anyone of what she had seen.

Mrs. Carman was held in such high esteem that the authorities did not wish to take hasty action against her. She appeared at the coroner's inquest and testified in a composed voice. From many angles her story of her movements on the night of the murder was attacked.

The case was brought before the grand jury, which brought in the surprising verdict of manslaughter against Mrs. Carman. Later the state laid new evidence before the grand jury and a superseding indictment of murder in the first degree was brought in.

Mrs. Carman was much affected by her incarceration in Mineola jail, and several times was reported desperately ill. Her husband has stuck to her through thick and thin.

11 Chronicles 23:1-11.

1 And in the seventh year Jehoiada strengthened himself, and took the captains of hundreds, Azariah the son of Jeroham, and Ishmael the son of Jehohanan, and Azariah the son of Obed, and Maaseiah the son of Adaiah, and Elishaphat the son of Zichri, into covenant with him.

2 And they went about in Judah, and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Judah, and the chiefs of the fathers of Israel, and they came to Jerusalem.

3 And all the congregation made a covenant with the king in the house of God. And he said unto them, Behold, the king's son shall reign, as the Lord hath said of the sons of David.

4 This is the thing that ye shall do; A third part of you entering on the Sabbath, of the priests and of the Levites, shall be porters of the doors;

5 And a third part shall be at the king's house; and a third part at the gate of the foundation: and all the people shall be in the courts of the house of the Lord.

6 But let none come into the house of the Lord, save the priests, and they that minister of the Levites; they shall go in, for they are holy: but all the people shall keep the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Levites shall compass the king round about, every man with his weapons in his hand; and whosoever else cometh into the house, he shall be put to death: but be ye with the king when he cometh in, and when he goeth out.

8 So the Levites and all Judah did according to all things that Jehoiada the priest had commanded, and took every man his men that were to come in on the Sabbath, with them that were to go out on the Sabbath: for Jehoiada the priest dismissed not the courses.

9 Moreover Jehoiada the priest delivered to the captains of hundreds spears, and bucklers, and shields, that had been King David's, which were in the house of God.

10 And he set all the people, every man having his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the temple to the left side of the temple, along by the altar and the temple, by the king round about.

11 Then they brought out the king's son, and put upon him the crown, and gave him the testimony, and made him king. And Jehoiada and his sons anointed him, and said, God save the king.

Providing More Money for Business.

The announcement by Secretary McAdoo that the twelve federal reserve banks of the new financial system will be opened for business on November 16 is one of unusual importance to the American business world, for it will mark the beginning of a new era in finance from which much is expected. Its first effect will be to provide an immense additional fund which may be used to carry on the business of the country.

Four hundred millions of dollars now held by national banks as reserves will be released for use when the new banking system goes into operation, and the loaning power of the banks will be largely increased, so that legitimate demands which can not now be taken care of may be met with safety. It is expected that this will provide leeway for an immediate expansion of business that will show its effects quickly in every section of the country.

Mr. McAdoo makes it clear that the opening of the banks has been set forward some weeks in order to aid in every way possible the extraordinary situation in the south, as well as in other sections, occasioned by the European war. Business, with exports cut down to the minimum by the turmoil across the seas, has been clamoring for additional funds with which to carry forward its operations. Under the new system the secretary of the treasury can also with prudence place on deposit over the country more generally what is known as the general fund of the United States treasury, and this will also become avaiable for legitimate business uses. The country has waited in eager expectancy for the operation of the federal reserve system, and it is building tremendous hopes upon its success as an aid to business. The nearness of the date on which it is to come into actual existence will be greeted with much acclaim by the business interests of the country.

It must be admitted that the railroads in their new plea for permission for an advance in freight rates have made an impressive showing of the need for increased revenues, and in the face of it it is difficult to see how it can be refused. The Sentinel has an impression that it will be granted and trusts it may be so. The American people are always fair, and they will insist that corporations be accorded exact justice as they claim it for individuals. There is no desire to cripple the railroads, and they should have without question what they have shown they are fairly entitled, under changing conditions, to receive.

Political experts of the Chicago Tribune, which is regarded universally as the most prominent and most influential exponent of the progressive party in the middle west, forecast a continuance of democratic control in the new congress to be elected next week. The Tribune believes that while the present top-heavy democratic majority will undoubtedly be reduced somewhat, the people are so thoroughly in accord with President Wilson and his efforts that they will not permit his hands to be tied by an adverse majority in congress.

The democratic ticket in Allen county invites your support at the polls next week on the basis of its manifest capability for high-grade public service and careful attention to official duties. It is one of the strongest tickets presented to Allen county voters in many years, and The Sentinel believes its triumph will spell efficiency, economy and fine business sense in the administration of county affairs.

Congressman Cline, returning from his work in Washington for a few addresses before the close of the campaign, is being warmly greeted by his constituents. The real expression of appreciation of Congressman Cline's services, however, will come in the substantial plurality which they will give him at the polls next week.

(By Jack Jungmeyer.)

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 2.—"Lost Eddie" killed a man without knowing why he did it. Then he mutilated him, with fiendish wantonness. That, too, he can not explain. Something merely blazed red in his stupid brain, and he expressed his bratishness with club and razor. There was no motive. There is no remorse.

That's why he has been called "the man without a soul."

"Lost Eddie" who has been locked away for life in Folsom penitentiary, was a tramp when he committed his atrocious crime. It was the "mamacher" given Emmett Coll, 18-year-old son of a Nevada mining man, by his fellow vagabonds, because he was always slipping away from his companions of the road getting lost. His victim was "The Kansas City Kid," a 17-year-old wanderer whom he had known perhaps an hour before killing him.

A man without a soul is an enormity, an incomprehensible being. I talked with this soulless boy of 18, as he was characterized by Superior Judge Ogden when sentenced to life imprisonment. I left "Lost Eddie" an hour later, peering through the bars, feeling that Judge Ogden was almost right. Once, I believe, Emmett Coll had a soul; but today he has little of it left.

Sometimes Nature seems to get tired of keeping her creatures up to concert pitch. She has a lapse. She allows a wolfish whelp to appear in a litter of high-bred dog puppies. She draws the zebra stripe down the back of a Hooded Norman colt. She creates a man without a soul, as she did in "Lost Eddie's" case. They are outcasts. They are erratic. Often they run amuck.

"I can't seem to get things through my head," he says. "I never could learn. And what I do learn I can't remember. Only thing I've done all my life is to raise hell." And he grinned again, as if seeking approbation.

"My mother died when I was three years old. I was sent to private school. Always I was running away. Books and learning made things buzz in my head. I only cared for devilment, and would follow whatever the other boys dared me to do.

"Later, when I went to work and I never liked work I was always getting 'canned' because I couldn't do the job right. Once in the woods where I worked for two months the boss fired me because I wouldn't get up in the morning. I was too sleepy. Again I was fired from a job as sheep killer because I wasn't butchering them right.

"Then I became a cowpuncher on a California ranch. I liked that because I could ride wild horses and tear across the prairies after running cattle. But by and by something told me to cut loose and wander, and I ran away again. For two years then I was on the road in Nevada, Oregon, Dakota, California."

Being "thick in the head," "Lost Eddie" can not comprehend the finer considerations in human intercourse. He's an anarchist. He wants to be alone, to hide from his kind, to penetrate deep into the untrodden forest or far out on the desert wastes, where "he can do just as he pleases."

"I think I was not made to travel with other people," he says. "There's men like me that ought to be away from other folks. That's why I was a bum when I was on the road."

The state of California has recognized what "Lost Eddie" says. It has taken him away from his kind; penned him up in stone and steel for life.

"I can not see how a man, even when inflamed with liquor, can perpetrate what you did and still possess a soul," Judge Ogden had said, as he pronounced sentence. "You seem to be one who represents the waste material of life."

Somewhere in "Lost Eddie's" lineage some one must have broken the commandments, just have outraged nature, to produce such apparently utter degeneracy as his crime upon his victim revealed. It shows in the boy's face, as well as in the foul doggerel he writes as his jail amusement a heavy, flaccic face with the venomous look of a Gila monster, and whitish eyes that are almost opaque. It is a face to puzzle a Lombroso.

And so "Lost Eddie" has "raised hell" all his life with the hulking body where the soul-kernel never developed beyond the stage of the boy who dismembers grasshoppers and frogs without compunction and without knowing why.

It wasn't all "Lost Eddie's" fault; his perhaps least of all.

"Lost Eddie" Coll, the boy "without a soul," showing the brutish physiognomy of the fiendish criminal who killed and mutilated without reason or motive, and who, while regarded as sane, feels neither remorse nor fear.

(Newark News.)

Two dry strips are notable features of the liquor maps of the United States, now that Virginia has gone for prohibition. One runs from the Atlantic to New Mexico, taking in the states of North Carolina, Tennessee, Arkansas and Oklahoma, with Mississippi serving as an extension to the Gulf of Mexico, and Kansas making a bulge to the north. The second strip is composed of the states of Virginia and West Virginia, North Carolina and Georgia, making a sweep of the Atlantic coast from Washington to Florida, with the exception of the break along the seashore produced by South Carolina. The two others of the eleven prohibition states, Maine and North Dakota, stand out all by their lonesome like foreign fortresses in a hostile territory, but there will be a desperate effort not only by the "drys" to protect them and annex more territory, but also by the "wets" to reduce them. With a number of elections this year on the saloon question, the liquor map of this country may undergo as considerable changes as the map of Europe at the close of the war.

THE HOMICIDE RECORD.

Much interest and curious information is contained in the homicide record of American cities as presented by the Spectator, a New York insurance publication, which makes a specialty of vital statistics. Pittsburgers will be interested in learning that this city stands eighteenth in a list of 30 leading cities in the matter of homicides. The average rate per 100,000 of population was for ten years 7.5, while Pittsburg had but 5.1, and for the last year 8.7 for all, and but 6.6 for Pittsburg. Still it is rather disconcerting to find that Pittsburg is charged with 37 homicides last year as against but 44 for London and 36 for Berlin, although Paris had 98 and New York 281. It may, however, be consoling to know that homicide is one thing Cleveland leads us in, with 40 last year.

Comparisons of the rates for the 30 cities from 1884 show that for the first 20 years the average remained about the same, but that in the past decade there has been an increase. This increase, however, is probably due to better methods of registration, tabulation and death certification. No effort has been made to differentiate between excusable, justifiable or felonious homicide so that the estimate of 6,250 deaths due to homicide in 1912 can hardly be set down as reflecting accurately the range of murder. Taken as a whole, the figures indicate that if homicide is not decreasing it is, at least, not materially increasing.

Some of the curious facts shown is that one woman is a victim for every four men, that most victims were between 20 and 29, and next between 30 and 40. Memphis leads all cities with a rate of 58.3 homicides per 100,000 population in the decade, and last year the rate had jumped to 68. Seven southern cities lead the list, probably due to racial differences. Milwaukee is apparently the safest city with a 10-year rate of but 2.2 per 100,000.

The weapons or methods used as tabulated show that 62 per cent of the men victims were slain with firearms and 53 per cent of the women; knives and cutting or piercing instruments killed 16 per cent of the men and a little over 12 per cent of the women. Poison and other methods were used more generally against women than men, the rates being about 33 per cent to 22. These details are adduced to show the importance of effective regulation against the sale or possession of dangerous weapons or dangerous drugs, which the statistician thinks is the chief hope of reducing America's unenviable record of having probably the highest homicide rate of any civilized country in the world. This, however, was before Europe resorted to the present homicide by wholesale.

FACT NO. 8.

Protection of the workingman and his dependents from the hazards of industry through so-called workmen's compensation acts is now accepted as one of the prime essentials of a well ordered society. This principle has long been recognized in adequate legislation in European cities. It has now become an established fact in twenty-four states of this country. Eight other states are giving the subject serious consideration. These include every state of the north having any considerable industrial development, except Indiana and Pennsylvania.

Workmen's compensation assures certain and prompt relief to the injured workingman and his family without resort to the courts. In practical effect, society takes over the burden hitherto carried by its weakest members—the dependent family of the dead or injured workman. The broken workman is put on the same basis in industry as the broken machine.

Under the old system, it is estimated that not more than one-third of the compensation for death or injuries awarded the workingman or his family by the courts ever reached their hands. The rest was divided between the lawyers and the cost of litigation.

SISTER IS BENEFICIARY.

Settlement Made for Accidental Death of Louis Nussbaum.

Miss Mary Nussbaum, a sister, was named as beneficiary by Louis Nussbaum, the young man whose recent death followed a broken neck, sustained in a diving accident at Rome City during the summer. M. J. Blitz, district manager of the Preferred Accident, has just made a settlement on the policy carried by Mr. Nussbaum. Under its terms the sister has received $5,810.71 in cash and will receive a further sum of $10 weekly for the next ten years.

Take a Cascaret tonight to cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headaches, coated tongue, a bad cold, are bilious, nervous, upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.—Adv.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

What The Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

G. W. Boerger has returned from Adams county, where he attended the Christian-Boerger nuptials.

The cells of 700 convicts in the Northern Indiana penitentiary at Michigan City are now illuminated by the Jenney electric light made in Fort Wayne.

Owing to complications presented by the Indiana laws with reference to the garnishment of wages a number of cases have been sent from this city to Chicago for collection.

The members of the city council have accepted the invitation of General Manager Saul, of the Muncie road, and will go to Cincinnati next Tuesday to inspect different kinds of street pavement.

William Korte and Henry Hagerman, employed in the Bass foundry, were terribly burned when struck by globules of molten iron thrown by the explosion of a pot of the metal which they had sought to cool by dropping a piece of cold iron into it.

John Barrett, the convicted wife murderer, is very ill at the jail and may never be taken to prison to serve his sentence of twenty-one years. Barrett has displayed many eccentricities since his conviction. He wants his son to sleep with him, has insisted on a fashionable suit of clothes and sent one of the jail attendants to purchase him a fine bed room suit to furnish his cell at the prison.

The following officers have been chosen by the local camp of the Union Veteran legion, which has just completed organization: Colonel commanding, James E. Graham; lieutenant colonel, Loudin P. Huntoon; major, S. L. Lewis; quartermaster, S. W. Stirk; officer of the day, W. H. McClelland; surgeon, Dr. John Seaton; chaplain, A. Dougherty; officer of the guard, W. S. Bidwell; adjutant, Robert H. Ellis.

The trotting race at the fair ground between Rockhill brothers' "Lorna Doone" and S. B. Bond's "Susie B." was won by Bond's little mare. The first heat was won by "Lorna Doone" in 2:36½ and the other three by "Susie B." in 2:36, 2:37½ and 2:39. The race was for $100 a side and the judges were Henry Brown, A. C. Perrin, of this city, and John Adams, of Columbia City. George Brown and Emmett Powers were timekeepers.

The stocking has been called the first national bank. This is only partly true, for people began saving before they began wearing hosiery. But the day of the stocking bank is past. It never was very safe and it never paid any interest. A real bank with burglar-proof vaults is a great improvement. Then, too, a real bank pays a liberal rate of interest on your deposits. THE GERMAN-AMERICAN is a REAL BANK, and will take even small savings and pay you 4 per cent. interest on them. Try it.

PICK A BERRY—WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THEM—BERRY SISTERS ONLY TRIPLETS ON STAGE.

Sara, Julia, and Anna Berry

No, it's not the war, nor the high cost of loving that's making their champaign lives one endless existence of trouble and worry and fret.

For once they have a job—a man-sized job it is, too. They have to—

Pick a Berry!

That's it—pick a Berry. To you and us that may seem easy enough, this picking a berry; it's only when you spell it with a big "B" that the job looks big.

And such Berrys—three of 'em—a regular measure of triplets, Sara and Julia and Anna!

The Berry triplets bobbed up on the New York stage when the new Montgomery & Stone company was being organized. At the first rehearsal the Berry triplets tripped in. They were minus on stage experience, but they had a Jim Patten corner on good looks and curls and 'figgers.'

Quicker than it takes to tell it the Berry sisters landed in "The Ballet of Youth," one of the features of "Chin-Chin."

Then Percy and Carol and Reginald and the restovem got into the running.

They began passing up the other chorus beauties for a Berry, and there never being more than three in a set of triplets—you may well imagine the scramble for a Berry.

Of course, always there is a whole sidewalk of handy supper-buyers ready to do the "picking."

But—take a slant at the picture of these Berrys. If you had to pick the prettiest Berry of the set, which would it be? And if you had to do your picking in competition with a regiment of other pickers, wouldn't that be some job?

said—"You can't fool all of the people all of the time."

For a good many years a lot of people have been fooled in the belief that coffee was good for them—that it was harmless or even a beneficial drink.

It was only when the scientific research of the medical profession began to lay bare the bones of the coffee skeleton, that people awoke to the fact that much of the Nervousness, Indigestion, Heart Disturbance, Short Breath, Headache, Biliousness, Sleeplessness, etc., were directly due to coffee drinking.

The proof came to those people when they tried the easy test of quitting coffee for a while and used

POSTUM

"There's a Reason"

Coffee contains "caffeine" and "tannin," two dangerous drugs that vitally affect nerves, stomach, heart, liver and kidneys. Efforts to eliminate these drugs from the coffee berry, except in part, have proven futile.

Postum made from prime wheat and a small per cent of wholesome molasses, roasted like coffee, and so processed as to create a mild Java-like flavour, is absolutely pure and free from the coffee drugs, "caffeine" and "tannin" or any other harmful ingredient.

YOUTH GETS SENTENCE.

Elkhart, Ind., Oct. 26.—Sentence has been passed upon Floyd Fifer in the Elkhart superior court for the killing of Emanuel A. Fink. His punishment was formally announced by the court to be imprisonment in the Indiana reformatory not less than two years, nor more than twenty-one. Present in the court room with the convicted boy were his counsel, Mr. Stookey, his father and mother. Mrs. Fifer then hysterically embraced her boy and covered his tear-stained face with kisses. Fifer then walked up to the courts bench and shook hands with Judge Harman. He next stepped to where Deputy Prosecutor Schwartz was sitting and clasped hands with him.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 26.—Rev. C. H. Schneider, for ten or twelve years pastor of the German Reformed church at Magley, is dead at Franklin, Wis. Mr. Schneider left Magley a year ago to take up work as pastor of the congregation at Franklin, where the German Reformed Mission House, or theological seminary, is located, and in which institution he also assisted in teaching. No word of his illness had been received here and it is known that only two weeks ago he attended the synod at Waukon, Iowa. A few years ago he underwent an operation for the removal of a kidney, but he had recovered his health since that time.

TO WORK TRAMPS ON STREETS.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 26.—Mayor Mock has promised Marshal Henry Fritz that before the next council meeting he will prepare a resolution for adoption which will confer upon the marshal the authority to take from the county jail workhouse prisoners and put them at manual labor on the streets. The county commissioners gave their permission for such working of prisoners several months ago. The idea is to give a club to swing over tramps to keep them out of the city.

MUNCIE OIL COMPANY SUED.

Portland, Ind., Oct. 26.—The Clifton Oil company, a Muncie concern, has been made defendant in a damage suit filed by the J. E. A PERTINENT QUESTION.

The question has been asked, "In what way are Chamberlain's Tablets superior to pills?" The answer is, "They are more mild and gentle in effect and more reliable. Besides they improve the appetite, cleanse and invigorate the stomach, correct disorders of the liver and leave the bowels in a natural and healthy condition, while the use of pills, owing to their drastic effect, is often followed by constipation." Tailor-Made Girls Right Up to Date

The "tailor-made girl" keeps right up with the fashionable procession. The "cape-skirt" and the much-frilled street suit make no appeal to her. She ignores the "latest fashions" and clings to her tailored coat with its straight lines, to the simple skirt trimmed only with patch pockets.

A Country Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis J. Vanderley, who lives near Zulu, entertained a company of friends on Saturday evening at a dancing party. Old fashioned square dances were the order of the evening. The guests enjoyed the evening, as well as the hospitality of the hosts. There were present Misses Bertha and Agnes Vanderley, Miss Hester, Arthur Floyd, Ralph Vanderley, Charles Gladieux, Mrs. Celestine Gladieux, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Oberley, Leonard Mondy, Glen Gemaux, all neighbors; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Havert, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Havert, Dallas, John and Gerald Havert, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bowser, John J. Garty, all of this city; Grace Emrick, of Fremont; Joseph Osey, Frank Getz, Charles Miller and Miss Catherine Mead, of the county.

Woman's League Board Meets.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"East Lynne" at the Majestic.

Starting today for an engagement of two days with matinees daily "East Lynne," one of the most popular dramas the stage has ever known, will be presented by Louise Dunbar and her company of players who during the past two weeks have won a large following with local theater-goers.

Additional interest centers in this engagement owing to the fact that it will mark the return of Eugene Curtis, one of the most popular members of Our Own Stock company which played here four seasons ago. During the life of that company, which played at the Majestic for two seasons, Miss Curtis made many friends by her clever work in the many roles assigned to her. For the past two seasons she has been with the Keith Stock company in Toledo, and it was just a stroke of luck that brought her back to this city. With Miss Dunbar, Miss Curtis and Mr. Preston in the present company it looks like the old days of stock at the Majestic theater.

"Husarenfieber" (The Dancing Hussars) at Majestic Wednesday.

The first act plays in a small village on the Russian frontier where a whole regiment of Hussars from the colonel down to the last private is desperately trying for new inventions with which to pass the time, especially the young lieutenants, who are so desperate that they appreciate the chasing of flies, a sensational change in the monotony of their daily lives. Unexpectedly the order is received that the regiment has been transferred to Kirchbain, a town of 28,000 inhabitants, a "city" that not only boasts of factories millionaires, a theater, but also of girls, really "young girls." The officers becomes almost hysterical with pleasure and celebrate the glad news in the merriest way. The three acts that follow play in Kirchbain, where the spirit of the "Dancing Hussars" soon begins to catch the society of the ladies and the elderly gentlemen. Everybody falls in love with the irrisistible blue Hussars from the "Kommerzienratin" down to the cook and the chambermaid, with the exception of the "Margarine Manufacturer" Nippes, who in his jealousy is trying the funniest schemes to ridicule the "winning ways" of the dashing Hussars. In the play, of course, the Hussars score a complete victory on the whole line and everything ends well with a number of engagements.

AT THE TEMPLE.

Show House Will Operate With Slashed Prices.

The Temple today inaugurated its popular priced scheme of vaudeville, with the same high grade line of all-Keith acts and motion pictures at popular prices. The daily dime matinees, with evening performances at ten and twenty cents will be features of the Temple's new plan. In the evening two shows will be staged on the continuous plan with the patrons coming and going as they please.

Tomorrow afternoon will be ladies' day at the theater and every woman in the city will be afforded an opportunity of witnessing the big current bill for a nickel. The bill is a jimdandy. Harry Gibbs and Edna Colwell present their laugh-sketch, "Via the Gas Route," in which two actors, gone broke in New York, hand you many a laugh in starting to go through with a suicide pact. Joe Burns and Murray Kissen's rendition of their own latest and most popular song hits is another feature of the bill. Emmett's trained dogs, Little Miss Jean, the diminutive comedienne, Grace Carlisle and Jules Romer in "Just a Song at Twilight," a different kind of musical act with the great Strand war pictures complete this wonderful bill of entertainment and amusement.

AT THE EMPRESS.

A miniature musical comedy of distinct class—an act that boasts of beautiful scenery, a big cast, many changes of costume, an interesting and coherent plot, plenty of laughs and the catchiest of songs is "Love in a Sanitarium," which is headlining the bill at the Empress for the first half of the week. Twelve people appear in this delightful musical offering and ten of them are charming young misses.

Two other distinct novelties appear on this bill in addition to other acts that are of unusual excellence. The Rose Troupe of marvelous acrobats puts on a novelty in "The Rising Generation," in which the members of the family rise from a very lowly position to a place among the clouds. The Purcella Brothers, dancers of class, do a novelty dance while their ankles are shackled together.

The Wonderful Organization is to Be Permanent.

To those people of Fort Wayne who do not understand, it may be of much interest to know that the Orpheum orchestra, one of the best musical organizations this city has ever known, is to be a permanent attraction here.

Manager Brentlinger says that he is constantly receiving the most flattering comments concerning the orchestra, and to the thousands who attend the popular playhouse.

Today's Program.

A play from old Ireland, with some of the most beautiful and picturesque scenery ever filmed, entitled "The Lass of Kilkarnkee," will be the big attraction today. The story, told in two reels, is from the Victor studios, which insures its perfection.

The other offering on today's program is an imp drama entitled, "The Gates of Liberty," with Little Matty Roubert, the Universal Boy, in the leading role.

"Trey O' Hearts."

There will be shown tomorrow the seventh installment of the thrilling serial, "Trey O' Hearts," entitled, "Stalemate." The situations in this installment are fully as thrilling as in any previous episode. The other offering will be an Eclair comedy entitled, "Smallpox on Circle U," with Mildred Bright, Wm. Scheerer and Stanley Walpole heading the cast.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

"OUR MUTUAL GIRL."

Makes Her Debut at the Jefferson Together With a Strong Drama of the Scottish Highlands.

"Our Mutual Girl," the pampered sweetheart of a whole nation, pays her first visit to the Jefferson today, and gives a preliminary glimpse over that marvelous chain of adventures, through the vicissitudes of which she is about to lead us. During the course of this very entertaining story, this lovely heroine meets dozens of noted celebrities throughout America, the action of the story transpires upon, and against famous backgrounds, and many of the separate episodes are written by well known authors, with the Mutual Girl as the central figure. James Montgomery Flagg, Billie Burke, Penmryn Stanlaws, Mayor Mitchell and Ex-Mayor Gaynor are a few of the notables that will appear with this charming little lady during the course of the story.

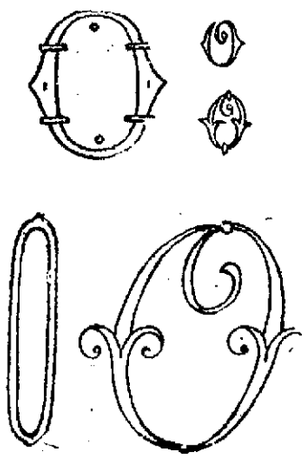
The other attractions listed show a good deal of diversity and diversity of a pleasing kind. "Black Roderick," a highly dramatic subject and a release of a London concern, provides novelty in the fact that the scenes of the story are laid in the Highlands of Scotland. "A Sheriff for an Hour" produces some excellent farcical situations, keeping the spectator in a constant uproar of laughter.

Tomorrow, Tom Terriss, the greatest impersonator of Dicken's roles in the world, comes to the Jefferson in "The Chimes," one of the best known and most beloved of all the great master's works. Wednesday and Thursday bring the mighty spectacle drama, "Julius Caesar."

AT THE LYRIC.

The Lyric management certainly turned over something when it landed the vaudeville combination that is running for the first half of the week in connection with the daily change of pictures. Each of the three vaudeville attractions is real. The Rice Brothers, former musical comedy stars, have shifted into vaudeville and their German dialect act is a riot. They get their tongues and ideas twisted in a manner that is ludicrously funny. Grace Golden, a sweet voiced chit, who might have got her name from her stage presence and the color of her hair, has a group of character songs that have already won her a home in Fort Wayne. Martinetti's comedy juggling is a mighty pleasing act.

FOR YOUR SEWING BASKET.



"Izzy and the Bandit" is the comedy-suggesting title of the humorous picture the Reliance people have furnished the Lyric for today. A dramatic offering with plenty of thrills is the two-reel Thanhouser, "The Jailbirds." A young attorney shoots a client in self defense and is convicted of murder. He escapes to New York where he finds a young artist he had advised to go to the metropolis, in the snares of a band of yeggmen. He succeeds in protecting her but is forced to disclose his own identity. He is pardoned on his return west with his artist-fiancee.

Little Economies That Really Count

Little economies count in these days of high prices it pays to watch the little leaks in the household expenses. What do you suppose your cheese cloth, dust cloths and window cloths cost a year? Whatever it is, it may be saved. Use all old soft curtains, cut these into squares, hem and find a dust cloth that will not shed lint and is soft enough to reach all cracks and corners.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

When grease or oil is spilled on the carpet, spread fine meal over the spot, it will absorb the grease.

A teaspoonful of vinegar added to the water in which black stockings are rinsed will keep them a good color.

"Second Mother to Men" is Doing Notable Work in New Jersey.

Whiting, N. J., Oct. 26.—How more than 7,000 "failures"—men whom drink had ruined—have been born to a new life in the strange home colony at Keswick, near here, has just been revealed for the first time by Mrs. Dora Raws, "second mother to men," whose patience and loving care has made the place a success.

Eighteen years ago her husband, William Raws, was reformed.

He had squandered their entire fortune in drink. But the couple were so thankful for the new strength that had been given him that they resolved to devote themselves to the care and reformation of other down-and-out drunkards. With only $1.87 in the world, they started to work. Today their colony has grown to an estate of 600 acres, with many modern buildings and equipment.

It is the love and devotion of the "mother" of the colony which has made this possible.

Almost daily despairing derelicts of men drift into the Keswick colony. All are accepted. There are bankers and beggars, doctors and even thieves among them.

"But we have to take them all in," explained Mrs. Raws. "One's heart would have to be of stone to refuse some of these poor fellows, who often have tramped all the forty miles from Philadelphia, in rain or snow, to seek refuge here.

"We put no restrictions upon them. They can come and go as they please. But we give them plenty of work to do, and make sure that happy brotherhood and democracy prevail among them. When they are cured they leave. I am even now receiving letters from successful doctors, ministers, lawyers and have one here from a mayor of a big city. All were once my patients."

The big main building of the colony was once a hotel at Tom's River, N. J. The members of the colony moved it piecemeal to Keswick and set it up again there. They have built all the other buildings on the grounds. They work like beavers just to please their "second mother," and though when they are that one of her 7,200 "children" has ever cured they drift far away from her, all over the country, the memory of her care keeps them straight.

Mrs. Raws has never received word fallen from grace again.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT?

People often accept statements with a sort of mental reservation as much as to say, "I am not convinced," which leads us to remark that there is nothing that will so thoroughly satisfy you of the excellence of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as a personal trial. Mrs. John Fishton, Perth, Ind., who used this remedy in her family for the past ten years, says of it: "I always give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to my children when sick with coughs or colds. I like it better than any other because they take it willingly and it is free from narcotics. It has never failed to give immediate relief." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

D'YE THINK YOU HAVE TROUBLES?

Consider Lot of Mayor in Town Seized by Invading Armies.

Epernay, France, Oct. 26.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Some idea of the trials and troubles of the civil authorities while a town is in the possession of an invading army is given by the mayor, Maurice Pol Roger, of this city, which was in the hands of the Germans for a week.

When the Germans entered the town late in the afternoon the mayor was summoned before the commandant, General von Plattenberg. This first interview, according to the mayor, was marked by courtesy on both sides, but that evening the mayor received a violently worded protest from the general, who complained that the water, gas and electric supply had been cut off. The mayor was told that if these were not restored at once he would be hanged. This arose because the inhabitants leaving their houses had shut off the gas, water and electricity. The mayor gave the necessary orders to have the services restored, but with other town officials he was arrested and held in the town hall as a hostage, and when a fire broke out that night the general sent word that if a second outbreak occurred he would have the mayor shot.

The next day a food requisition was made and when it was not raised in time the town was fined 176,550 francs. Then to add to his troubles the mayor was summoned to explain the shooting of a German soldier, who had been wounded in the leg by a revolver shot, and when the town's chief executive declared that the accident took place on a different street from that given in the German report, he was accused of having concealed the fact that a second German had been wounded and made way with. After this incident was cleared the mayor was taken before a group of German officers, including Prince Adelbert, son of the German emperor, and accused of having replaced the German flag on the station with a French tricolor. When threatened with a heavy war indemnity on the town because of this incident the mayor protested that the railway station was private property and therefore the town had nothing to do with any flag that might have been placed there. The mayor was then ordered to make a German flag and unfurl it from the town hall. He was told that if this flag was touched he would be shot and the town looted and burned. The mayor manufactured a German flag by using part of a French flag for the white and blue, and the black apron of the town hall housekeeper for the black stripe. This flag evidently led to an era of good feeling, for the 176,550 francs fine was repaid to the town by the Prussians, who stated that they did so out of gratitude for the kindly manner in which their wounded had been treated.

(By Morton Williams).

"Cap'n" Rockne was afraid to trust his Silver Edge football squad to defeat the Friar eleven and with the same true sportsmanship that has always characterized South Bend in athletics, he picked up as many Notre Dame players as could slip away from the university, and sent them against the local team.

Of course the Friars were beaten. They were not beaten, however, until they had shown the "cap'n" and his college players a good time and had demonstrated there have nothing to fear from any of the other Independents in this part of the state nor from the Silver Edge club with its own men in the lineup.

In addition to the defeat the deplorable spectacle of an umpire being hailed off the ground by three policemen was one of the regrettable features of the afternoon. Duggon was his name, and he was probably doing what he thought was right but the rooters rode him and finally one fellow tried to force his way out of the north stand to "get" him.

It's a pity he didn't because this Duggon was a pretty game chap and it is likely that he wouldn't have been so easily "got." He went after the rooter after he had been pulled and if it hadn't been Sunday and he had used enough good judgment not to have climbed over some ladies in the front row and frightened a number of others, Little Hame could have been attached to him.

The Friars went down under superior playing and greater speed of the South Bend team 33 to 12 in the best played game of football seen at the local lot this season.

The visitors had every advantage over the home club in all departments of the play except line plunging. In forward passes and end runs they could not be excelled. Time and again they passed straight through the center of the line for fifteen and twenty yard gains and on end runs the locals seemed unable to stop them. The ball was for the most part in the visitors' possession and only four times did the Friars have a chance to score. Punting played an important part in yesterday's game, both sides using it almost to extreme.

In the first quarter both teams played well and the ball see-sawed back and forth almost the length of the field but neither could make a score. South Bend had one fine chance for a touchdown but when within ten yards of the goal the locals tightened up and held them steady and punted out of danger. The quarter ended with the score 0 to 0 and the ball in the visitors' possession on their twenty yard line. The second quarter was a little more of interest for about half way through it Scott got the ball on a forward pass and ran fifty yards to the goal for a touchdown and a moment later Wood kicked goal. The Friars kicked to receive but on their second down Smith intercepted a pass and scored another touchdown. Wood kicked goal. The period ended with the score 14 to 0 in favor of South Bend.

The third started with a short kick by Laird and South Bend's fumble and recovery of the ball. On the locals' first down McKay received a beautiful forward pass and made twenty yards before he was thrown. Line plunges gave no substantial gain and another pass to McKay netted the Friars a goal. Dennison missed the kick. South Bend tightened up and the play went up and down the field until the quarter ended with the Friars in possession of the ball on South Bend's forty yard line. On the getaway a pass to McKay gave thirty-five yards and a moment later the same play netted twenty more. Another forward pass, this time to Dennison, helped along with fifteen more and still a fourth pass to McKay gave the Friars their second touchdown. After the kickoff the locals were penalized fifteen for holding, and when the ball went over was only five yards from the visitor's goal. Laird, while attempting to make a forward pass, was downed back of South Bend's goal for a safety, giving Silver Edge two more. The last score was made by Smith, the visitor's quarterback, who got the ball on a fumble and with a clear field before him ran thirty yards to goal for six more points. Burns kicked goal. The game ended with the ball in the locals' hands in the middle of the field.

The star of the day was Smith, the Silver Edge quarterback, whom the locals seemed unable to stop. McKay was the Friar star of the game, having all the locals' points to his credit. The line-up and score:

He promises a further search for any missing books or papers.

manipulated by Gen. von Kluck came as a distinct surprise here. It was said last week that he had been superceded by Gen. von Ornim, but the latest version has him remaining on the Aisne while Grand Duke Albrecht, of Wuerttemburg, and others are guiding the destinies of the armies in Belgium. If this is true it robs the British writers of one favorite phrase—"Von Kluck's hard pressed right."

Of the dispatches unfavorable to the Germans was one saying that Antwerp was being put in a state of defense and entrenchments were being prepared to protect the road to Bruges. Among the reports held here to be ridiculous was that Germany was building huge submarine transports with which she hoped to land troops on British soil.

New York, Oct. 2.—The needless roar and racket of a big city is a direct cause of the city's crime, according to Dr. John D. Quackenbos, of this city, a national authority on diseases of the ear and nervous system.

In a statement just issued he says: "There is no great difference between a bad soul and a bad cell. Noise, as I interpret it, makes a bad brain or nerve cell, and so is a direct contribution to moral deficiency. Noise helps to swell the ranks of our criminal classes by directly lowering the power to resist temptation. It thus represents an assault on the moral health of the nation, and from this viewpoint assumes an importance that cannot be ignored."

The manner in which the noise of cars, trains, gongs and whistles causes crime is explained by Dr. Quackenbos as follows:

"The jar of the brain, by reason of the continual reception of vibrations engendered by noises of this character, accounts in greater measure than is generally supposed for that irritability which impels to indulgence in alcoholic stimulants and drugs, for that imbalance, subconsciously wrought by subtle subtractions from the quality of brain protoplasm, which destroys susceptibility to moral control and so invites to crime. From a long experience in psychotherapeutics I have reached the conclusion that a criminal is a criminal by reason of some physical defect in the brain, invisible to the microscope and indistinguishable by chemical analysis."

Adopted Family of Chicago Millionaire Grows Steadily.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Gordon Strong, Chicago millionaire who gained fame two years ago by originating the "bachelor-father" movement, has just added an adopted mother to his five adopted children.

The mother was Miss Louise Anne Snyder, the millionaire's stenographer. She is now Mrs. Gordon Strong, and she has a family of five adopted boys on her hands.

In 1912 Strong launched his "father" scheme. He asserted that all wealthy bachelors ought to adopt poor boys whose parents were in want, and give them a home and opportunity. He adopted Kenneth and Floyd Keefe, 2 and 5 years old, whose widowed mother worked in a big department store. Later he adopted three more children, and built a home for them at Dickerson, Md.

The new member of the family whom Strong has taken into his home showed from the beginning great interest in the millionaire's undertaking. Long consultations in his private office over ways and means for bringing up the children became more and more frequent. Finally the stenographer's desk was moved into the millionaire's office—and thus the progress of the courtship was moved out of the ken of the other employes.

But they have long expected the outcome, which has just been realized in the secret marriage of pretty Louise Anne Snyder to Millionaire Strong.

The will and the way. We have the "will" to sell you. You have the "Way." It leads to the "Big Store" on Court street. Thousands have found that "way." Have you? Foster's.

GET REA TESTIMONY.

Head of Pennsylvania Talks Before Commission About Rates.

Local officials of the Pennsylvania company have received copies of the official testimony of Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania system before the interstate commerce commission in the matter of increased freight rates. Mr. Rea devoted considerable time to the discussion of railroad conditions in this country because of the European war and among other things said:

"The abnormal conditions brought about by the war affecting so directly the ability of any borrower to secure new capital, and requiring forcible reduction of all expenses and husbanding all resources, are strong reasons to remedying at least in part, and doing so as quickly as possible, the fundamental unsoundness—war or no war—that had been previously shown to exist in the railroad industry.

FT. WAYNE LOSES 1916 CONVENTION

After Long Struggle Muncie is Selected as Next Meeting Place.

The delegates from this city to the biennial convention of the Christian Endeavor societies of the state of Indiana, held at Logansport last week, returned late Sunday evening and announced that after a long and hard struggle Muncie was selected as the next meeting place in 1916.

Fort Wayne delegates did everything in their power to land this meeting and it would have been awarded to them had the committee not considered the relative strength of the two cities. Considering that Muncie was one of the weakest organizations in the state and that it would be a good chance to build it up at the convention in 1916, it was awarded the honor of entertaining the next meeting.

At the beginning of the meeting Muncie, Fort Wayne, Peru, Marion and Terre Haute were contestants, but after the first day the last three dropped out. Telegrams, fourteen in number, were sent from this city to the convention church asking for the 1916 convention. The spirit in which the Fort Wayne delegation took the defeat was commented upon by the assemblage.

While W. H. Schanfelberger, yell leader for Muncie, was thanking the convention people for the next meeting, the Fort Wayne people presented him with a large bouquet of chrysanthemums bearing a card on which was written: "Compliments from the Fort Wayne delegation to Muncie for the 1916 convention which we will help to make the largest meeting of the C. E. societies ever held in the state of Indiana."

A mass meeting of the C. E. societies of this city will be held on November 17, at which time echoes of the convention will be given. Mrs. L. E. Seller, of Logansport, and W. H. Schanfelberger will be present and give talks.

The annual election of officers of the Lutheran league was held Sunday afternoon at Concordia Lutheran church and the result was as follows: President, Charles Dickmeyer; vice president, Otto Breimeier; secretary, Frieda Wermuth, and treasurer, Paul Neiter.

Reports of officers read at the convention disclosed the fact that there are now over 1,200 members in the league and that all committees, as well as the treasury, is in good condition. A vote of thanks was given to the outgoing officers who rendered valuable service during the past year.

Donations were voted to the German Red Cross fund, the Indianapolis Lutheran Orphans' home, the deaf mute institution at Logansport and the poor students' fund of Indiana. The scope of new work for the coming year was discussed and the executive committee was instructed to take up the matter of the official emblems in the near future.

TRIO OF MOTOR DRIVERS FINED

Two Were Drunk and One Was Speeding and Each Pays $50 and Costs.

A trio of automobile drivers were arraigned in the city court Monday morning and on pleas of guilty each paid a fine of $50 and costs—two of them for driving motor vehicles while drunk and the other for speeding.

Charles F. Leonard, who stated his home was in Paulding, O., was cutting some fancy figures with his car and endangering other traffic when Officer Godfrey took him off the street. Albert Hutchison, who also claim to hail from Ohio, was unfit to be in charge of a car and was taken in after hitting things up about Fort Wayne streets. In assessing the $50 fines in these cases Judge Kerr expressed his regret that he could not proceed against the two culprits to have their licenses revoked.

Charles Krick was doing thirty miles an hour when Motorcycle Officer Dan Klintz "clocked" him. Krick's only excuse was that he had no speedometer on his machine and did not know how fast he was going. Krick resides in Monroeville.

Spring Record on Thief.

After Prosecutor Callahan had flashed some police records on him, Charles Williams admitted that he had been arrested many times instead of one or two, and on his plea of guilty to petit larceny Judge Kerr took the case under advisement until Tuesday morning. Williams stole seven boxes of cigars from the Wayne Tobacco company and two boxes from G. H. Bursley & Co. a week ago and was arrested while trying to peddle them to dealers on Calhoun street. Williams says he is 21 years old and that he has been a student in Butler university at Irvington, near Indianapolis, and at Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y. That he is thoroughly confirmed in wrongdoing is proved by his record. He was arrested several times in Indianapolis.

Negro Will Claim Self-Defense.

Other City Court Cases.

James Freeman, a youth who drew a revolver on Patrolman Lawhead, of the Pennsylvania railway police Aug. 14, and threatened to kill him, was bound over to the circuit court under $1,000 bond on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill.

The following drunks were disposed of: Lucas Aurantz, $5 and costs; Thomas Mosier, $1 and costs; Albert Ott, $5 and costs; John Schlerts, $1 and costs; Ray Kelly, $1 and costs; William Schomeyer, $1 and costs; William Knepper, $1 and costs; Paul McBride, $5 and costs; Jack Duffy, Henry Brown, George Stanton, Joe Morgan and John Nieman, turned loose, and Charles Buckley, continued until Tuesday.

Sam Ray and Chadia Rhoades, a colored pair arrested for living in adultery, were fined $15 and costs and given fifteen days each in jail. The woman, who is married, ran away from Dayton, O., with Ray.

Alex Ponaska was drunk and abusing his wife at Hayden and Chute streets, when his two brothers gave him a beating and then turned him over to the police. He drew $1 and costs on a disorderly charge.

Paul Liebenguth pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct. He followed a young woman from Calhoun street to her home and when she refused to have anything to do with him he persisted. Her father came out, gave him a punch in the face and Officer Ward Hall arrested him. He got $5 and costs.

Charles Young, a negro, created a disturbance at the Weber hotel restaurant when he was refused service, said he could do things to Officer Collins, and was arrested. He was turned loose.

Anton Meloff, proprietor of a poolroom, was fined $10 and costs for carrying concealed weapons. He had tried to have another man arrested on the same charge when it was found he was armed.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 26.—Two paragraphs in the petition, asking for an injunction to prevent a strike of the street car men in this city were dismissed today when the hearing on making the injunction permanent was begun before Federal Judge A. B. Anderson.

A law put on the statute books in 1793 during the presidency of George Washington was the basis for the dismissal of the two paragraphs in the complaint. One paragraph charged a conspiracy among labor leaders to arouse the dissatisfaction of the members of the local street car men's union and the other charged a conspiracy to harrass and to weaken the street car company during the strike last year by filing a suit for receiver against the company.

Suit for the injunction was filed about a month ago by the Guaranty Trust and Safe Deposit company of Philadelphia, which holds a number of bonds of the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company, which operates the street car system here. Later the street car men asked an injunction which virtually calls upon Judge Anderson to interpret the contract and award of the Indiana public service commission, which held a hearing on the difference between the men and the company under the agreement which terminated the strike of last November. In addition to lengthy arguments by the attorneys for both sides, a number of witnesses have been summoned to testify at the hearing, which probably will occupy at least three days. W. H. Latta for the company, spoke this morning.

The first distinct fall of snow for the present season came in Fort Wayne shortly before 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. Earlier in the day dispatches had noted the presence of snow in Chicago.

Early risers Sunday morning saw the ground covered with hoar frost. The temperature Saturday night fell low enough to cause the formation of the minute ice crystals, which covered the ground during the early hours of Sunday morning. It was the first of the season.

The late frost caused an unusual growth of vegetables, according to reports of different farmers. Green corn was on sale on the market as late as last week.

Boys will be busy for the next couple of weeks harvesting nuts, for it is the old tradition that after the first frost is the best time to do it.

PRISON AUDITOR IS SENT TO JAIL

New York, Oct. 26.—John J. Malloy, auditor of Sing Sing prison, was committed to jail today in contempt of court for refusing to answer questions before the grand jury investigating automobile rides and other favors alleged to have been granted to David A. Sullivan, an inmate of Sing Sing.

Sullivan is serving a term in prison for wrecking the Union bank of Brooklyn of which he was president. Complaints that he had been transacting his private business from the prison, had collected money which belonged to the assets of the bank and that he had been taken on automobile rides about the country while he was supposed to be in prison caused an investigation by District Attorney Cropsey, of Brooklyn.

SCHOOL HEAD IS RAPPED BY COURT

Cleveland, O., Oct. 26.—J. M. Frederick, superintendent of the Cleveland schools, today was found guilty of contempt of court by Judge William B. Neff, of the Cuyahoga county court, and ordered to reinstate within a week six teachers whom he failed to reappoint last spring because, it was alleged, of their activity in the "teachers' union."

Superintendent Frederick was accused of contempt for violating an injunction issued June 9 last restraining school heads from refusing to reappoint pro-union teachers. Attorneys for the teachers assert that the decision paves the way for the unionization of teachers in all the larger cities of the state and will result in higher and more uniform wages. If Superintendent Frederick reinstates the six teachers he will clear himself of the contempt charge, the court intimated, in finding the superintendent guilty. Superintendent Frederick, however, is cited to appear Friday for sentence.

Board of Works to Forward State Street Paving Project.

The board of works at a very early day will adopt a resolution and order plans for the paving of State street, from the St. Joe river to the point where it becomes State boulevard and passes under park board jurisdiction. The procedure must be hastened, contract awarded and temporary assessment rolls prepared in order that the trustees of the state home for feeble minded youth may know what sum they must ask the legislature to appropriate to pay the state's share of the improvements. The state property has a frontage of about 2,000 feet on State street and its assessments will be quite heavy. The board also intends to provide for the building of sidewalks on the street, which is to be widened from the St. Joe east. The state school authorities will have to obtain authority from the legislature to yield the strip of ground necessary for the widening along the state frontage and for building the sidewalk. The board purposes to establish the sidewalk lines on the north side of the street so that the outer row of fine maple trees will be preserved. This will bring them between two rows of trees.

LAYING CONCRETE ON ONEIDA.

Final Operations on First of This Type of Pavement in City.

Mayor Hosey and the members of the board of works watched with much interest the pouring of concrete for the Oneida street pavement in Lakeside Monday morning by the Moellering Construction company. This will be the first pavement of this type to go down in Fort Wayne. The mayor has strongly favored the laying of some pavement of cheaper grade than asphalt and brick and kindred sorts in order to determine if it will not answer quite as well for the less traveled streets as the more expensive kinds of improvements. The Moellering company expects to have the street completed at an early day.

OFFER SITE FOR BATHING POOL.

The board of park commissioners will have for consideration soon the offer of Ephraim Arter and L. R. McAfee the offer of a site 300x350 feet in dimensions as the site of a bathing pool. The land lies north of Fourth street between Spy run and Lawton park. Messrs. Arter & McAfee have told President W. A. Bayer, of the city council, and Secretary C. J. Stelss, of the park board, that they will donate the land.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 26.—"One side! One side! I'm a bad guy from Montana!" announced Joe Long last night as he marched down Main street. He accompanied his remarks with a whoop that was surcharged with wild western atmosphere. When the curbing occupants noticed a glittering object in his right hand he got the room and consideration he demanded.

A policeman found Joe delivering a pre-funeral oration to five shivering hoboes who adhered industriously to a wall while Joe strode up and down and declared agreeably:

Joe and the policeman left together for headquarters, leaving five heartfelt sighs of relief behind them.

"Huh?" inquired Joe, placidly. "Zish whatchu mean?" He held up a new pair of gas pliers.

PRETTY GIRL'S PICTURE ONLY ADDRESS ON LETTER SENT TO NEW ORLEANS.

This Missive May Miss the Mysterious Miss It's Meant for. It Was Sent to the new Orleans Postmaster to Be Delivered to the Girl Whose Picture it Bears. Above, an Enlarged Picture of the Girl.

New Orleans, Oct. 26.—Postmaster Voegtle, of New Orleans, and assistants, just now are busy hunting for a certain very pretty girl among 375,000 people here.

It's a pleasant task, this scrutinizing faces of all the pretty girls, but it's a rather dangerous and tedious task.

The postmaster fears he may be taken for a masher!

The photograph of a pretty girl is the only address on a letter the postmaster received the other day from Savannah, Ga.

"It beats anything that we have ever gone up against," said Postmaster Voegtle. "I wonder if the sender thinks the postmaster is going to stand on the street corners and scrutinize every woman and that passes for the purpose of finding the one pictured on the envelope. A pleasant task, no doubt, especially in the south—but, well, I guess I'll leave most of that to my assistants."

On the envelope is written:

"Mr. Postmaster: Kindly endeavor to have the letter delivered to the lady for whom it is intended. Otherwise return to 'M. D., Box 1172, Savannah, Ga.'"

DESTRUCTION OF LIFE FRIGHTFUL

London, Oct. 26. (4:40 a. m.)—The correspondent of the Daily News, who has been in an armored train to the banks of the Yser, gives a good description of the battle in the northwest. He says:

"The battle rages along the Yser with frightful destruction of life. Air engines, sea engines and land engines death-sweep this desolate country vertically, horizontally and transversely. Through it the little frail human engines crawl and dig, walk and run, skirmishing, charging and blundering in little individual fights and tussles, tired and puzzled, ordered here and there, sleeping where they can, never washing and dying unnoticed. A friend may find himself firing on a friendly force and few are to blame.

"Thursday the Germans were driven back over the Yser. Friday they secured a footing again and Saturday they were again hurled back. Now a bridge blown up by one side is repaired by the other; it is again blown up by one side, is repaired by the other; it is again blown up by the first or left as a death trap till the enemy is actually crossing.

"Actions by armored trains, some of them the most reckless adventures, are attempted daily. Each day accumulates an unwritten record of individual daring feats, accepted as part of the daily work. Day by day our men push out on these dangerous explorations, attacked by shell fire, in danger of cross fire, dynamite and ambuscades, bringing a priceless support to the threatened lines. As the armored train approaches the river under shell fire, the car cracks with the constant thunder of guns aboard. It is amazing to see the angle at which the guns can be swung.

"And overhead the airmen are busy venturing through fog and puffs of exploding shells to get one small fact of information. We used to regard the looping of the loop of the Germans overhead as a half-brained piece of impudent defiance to our infantry fire. Now we know it means early trouble for the infantry.

"Beside us as we crawl up snuffing the lines like dogs on a scent, grim train loads of wounded wait soundlessly in the sidings. Further up the line ambulances are coming slowly back. The bullets of machine guns begin to rattle on our armored coats. Shells we learned to disregard, but the machine gun is the master in this war.

"Now we near the river at a flat country farm. The territory is scarred with trenches and it is impossible to say at first who is in them so incidental and separate are the fortunes of this riverside battle. The Germans are on our bank infilading the lines of the allies' trenches. We creep up and the Germans come into sight out of the trenches, rush to the bank and are scattered and smashed. The allies follow with a fierce bayonet charge.

"The Germans do not wait. They rush to the bridges and are swept away by the deadliest destroyer of all, the machine gun. The bridge is blown up, but who can say by whom? Quickly the train runs back.

"'A brisk day,' remarks the correspondent. 'Not so bad,' replies the officer. So the days pass."

Chicago, Hamilton and Dayton trains out of Fort Wayne inaugurated a ten-minute change in time Sunday. The train reaching here in the past at 11:05 is now scheduled at 11:15 and the train that has been leaving at 12:45 now departs at 12:55. The local freight, also carrying passengers, continues to leave at 6:45 o'clock in the morning.

New York, Oct. 26.—Miss Barbara Rutherford, daughter of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, is one of the richest and one of the busiest girls in New York.

Society claims very little of Miss Rutherford's time; she declines invitations for cotillions and teas to visit the model tenements her mother has erected on the east side, or to help carry on the work of the Big Sisters society.

Miss Rutherford has a talent for music and if she were not heiress to a fortune she would probably be a star in grand opera.

Prof. Ross Predicts Rush as Result of War in Europe.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 26. "It is likely that the immigration at the close of the war will include more of the weak, unfit and aged than hitherto," is the assertion of Prof. Edward Alsworth Ross, the great sociologist of the University of Wisconsin, whose recent book, "The Old World and the New," has aroused much discussion.

Ross advocates new restrictions on immigration in order to guard the American people against the lasting harm which he predicts as a result of this after-the-war immigration. But he sees some promising elements in the new influx from Europe.

"Undoubtedly America will receive a stream from Belgium. In view of the advancement of the Belgians in civilization this influx will be very desirable," he says.

"Again, we might expect a renewal of that German immigration which practically came to an end twenty years ago. The sweeping of Germany's foreign commerce from the ocean has been such a shock to manufacturing industries that nothing but a complete triumph of German arms can brighten her economic prospects after conclusion of peace sufficiently to keep her industrial population at home. On the other hand, if there is great destruction of life, there may be a dearth of men in the more agricultural parts of Europe, so that the outflow from Slavic countries may actually lessen.

"And here is a very significant possibility," continued Professor Ross. "In the past, men have greatly preponderated in the new immigration. I now look for a rapid increase in the immigration of women widowed or otherwise bereaved by the war. This may have a serious and lasting influence upon the social position of women in this country. Such an influx might break down barriers the trades unions have tried to maintain against the employment of women in 'men's work.' From the standpoint of the employer, bereaved immigrant women, lashed by hard necessity, would be quite ideal strike breakers."

MISSOURI TO TRY NEW PLAN.

Columbia, Mo., Oct. 25. The "eye of the camera" will be fixed on Missouri ballot boxes on next election day. And the man who votes twice, and the man whose vote is "fixed" may expect to find his picture in the suffragists' "rogues' gallery" the day after election.

In their efforts to check fraud at the ballot boxes when the suffrage amendment is voted on in November, the women suffragists have organized camera squads of women; they will be stationed at every voting booth, and every man who shows evidence of slipping from the straight path of political righteousness will be "snapped," and his picture kept for future reference.

Mrs. Walter McNab Miller, of Columbia, and president of the Missouri Equal Suffrage league, declares that victory for the suffragists is assured, and the camera squad is going to do a lot to secure a full vote and an honest one.

UNCLE SAM'S LAW FREES TWO CHINESE DOMESTIC SLAVES.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 26.—The first Pacific coast conviction on a charge of peonage, a new federal statute, came in Federal Judge Dooling's court here when Mrs. Wong Sam was held guilty of slavery.

Mrs. Wong was accused of holding Chinese girls as domestic slaves. The girls, Loy Kum and Tom Sun Ying, were lured to San Francisco from China on promise of wealthy marriages and were then smuggled into the Chinese quarter and sold as domestic slaves.

Upper: Tom Sun Ying, domestic slave, and, below: Mrs. Wong Sam and Loy Kum.

They were rescued by Donaldina Cameron, head of the Chinese Presbyterian Mission, and the police after a raid in which the doors of the den where they were confined were battered down.

But Loy Kum fell into the clutches of the Chinese again, for her owner was able to prove by perjury that the girl was American born.

"I was sold then," said Loy Kum, "to Wong Sam and I saw her pay my former owner $3,500 for me. I tried to send word for the immigration authorities to come and rescue me, as I was afraid of my life."

FATHERS HAVE CLUB IN IOWA

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Oct. 23.—"What kind of a father are you?"

It was Stymest Stevenson, a Council Bluffs business man, who put this question squarely up to the heads of families in Council Bluffs, a year ago last May, when he invited them to help him organize the Fathers' club, the first organization of its kind in the world.

Less than thirty fathers accepted Stevenson's invitation to meet him at the Madison avenue school and talk over the importance of being fathers.

Every one of the fathers admitted that they had been leaving the business of bringing up the children to the mothers and the teachers; they sort of thought that if they earned the money that paid for the shoes and the clothes the youngsters wore, and the food they eat they were doing their whole fatherly duty. But after they talked it over they agreed that too much family responsibility had been placed on "mother's" shoulders and it was up to the men folks to be real heads of the families, and not merely providers of clothes and food.

It was then the Fathers' club was founded. Now there are fourteen clubs of fathers in Council Bluffs with an average membership of fifty. Last July the clubs united as the Federated Fathers' clubs.

The federation's motto is "Make the indifferent different." Some of the topics the members debate at their monthly meetings are "How Can Home and School Be More Closely United?" "Choosing a Vocation," "The Gang and Boys' Club," and "Should We Have More Men Teachers?"

Mothers are occasionally invited to the fathers' meetings, but they take no part in the programs.

Nearly Half in Error, Is Declaration After Investigation.

New York, Oct. 26.—That nearly 15 per cent. of the scales which weigh out to the American housewife her groceries and other necessities are in error from 3 to as high as 12 per cent. develops from a nation-wide investigation recently conducted by the federal bureau of standards.

Because of these and other grave variations which permit of a very general defrauding of the consumer, the convention of commissioners on weights and measures, which will be held here shortly, attended by delegates from more than a dozen states, will recommend federal regulation of weights and measures. The United States today is the only one of the great nations which does not enforce a uniform standard for weighing and measuring instruments.

"The public seems to enjoy being defrauded," said Dr. Lomis A. Fischer, of the bureau of standards, discussing the investigation. "Scales were found which had been manufactured purposely to defraud the buyer; while an endless variety of measures with false bottoms and false interiors were discovered."

Diplomatic Exchanges Over Two Steamers Are Friendly.

Washington, Oct. 26.—President Wilson expressed confidence today that the American steamer Brindilla, captured by a British cruiser, soon will be released. He said satisfactory progress was being made in the negotiations over the Platuria another captured steamer, but that he did not know what the outcome would be.

The president described the diplomatic exchanges with Great Britain over the tank steamers as friendly and said he was satisfied that the situation would be cleared up.

TOM GUNN, CHINESE AVIATOR, AND HIS SWEETHEART, LILLIE TONG, CHINESE BELLE.

San Francisco, Oct. 26.—The fact that Tom Gunn, the revolutionary Chinese aviator of this city, has a price of $5,000 on his head, offered by Yuan Shi Kai, and that she would probably share his fate if captured, will not deter Lillie Tong, his sweetheart, from traveling 6,000 miles to join him at Manila.

They plan to be married at the island capital, Gunn having established headquarters there in order to be near the scene of probable future revolutionary activities. He conducts an aviation school there.

Lillie Tong is the belle of Chinatown here. Gunn's prowess as a daring aviator won her heart instantly. The peril in which her lover finds himself now has but served to strengthen the bonds.

Tom Gunn left this country some time ago as head of the Chinese army aviation corps, upon invitation of Gen. Lan Tien Wei while the latter was visiting here. Before Gunn reached the orient, however, the administration changed in China and instead of being received as a hero, he had a price placed upon his head.

Yuan Shi Kai feared that Gunn was one of a conspiring body of celestial aviators who were believed to be planning the destruction of Peking by bombs. Gunn has been active in connection with Dr. Sun Yat Sen and other Chinese revolutionists.

HAS VERY BIG JOB ON HANDS

Paris, Oct. 26.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The American embassy, under its obligations to represent German and Austrian interests in France, is looking after about 80,000 persons who are detained as alien enemies in eleven localities in France. These were Germans and Austrians living in the country at the outbreak of the war. The French government provided special trains going to neutral frontiers for two days after hostilities had begun, and all those remaining within France after those days were obliged to report themselves to the police and go to those towns in France to which they were assigned.

The state department at Washington has attached H. Percival Dodge, formerly minister to Panama, to the embassy here as special agent to have charge of German and Austrial affairs. The third floor of the embassy office building is taken entirely for this work and a considerable staff of secretaries and interpreters are at work.

The reason that France holds 80,000 civilians as prisoners of war appears to be as hostages for the proper treatment of French citizens who are similarly held in Germany and Austria, and to have in hand a means of reprisal should there be any ill-treatment of French soldiers captured by German and Austrian armies. The most distinguished prisoner is probably Count Pejacsewich, member of the Hungarian cabinet for Croatia, Slavonia and Dalmatia. He happener to be at Vichy taking a cure when the war began. He is allowed to remain in his hotel and has entire freedom of movement within the town. A good many hundreds of German and Austrian subjects have been allowed to remain where they were, in each case because of special reasons; other hundreds upon the representation of the American embassy, have been allowed to leave the country, in each case also for special reasons, usually those of ill-health. But there are still about 80,000 who had to go to the detention camps. These are usually in barracks formerly occupied by troops. There is a good deal of crowding and the food is probably about what French soldiers receive. There appears to be every intention on the part of the French government to treat these involuntary hostages as well as they can under the necessities of war. There is in France a great deal of suffering among French people. It is likely that millions are less well fed than the German and Austrian prisoners. Nevertheless these prisoners, being forced to live away from their own homes, find life difficult and full of inconveniences. They are allowed to receive money and spend it as they please. They also write and receive letters freely except that they are all read by censors.

Switzerland has undertaken to conduct the exchange of prisoners and among the first that are being exchanged are French people caught in Germany and Austria by the war, and Germans and Austrians detained in France. Germans and Austrians are taken by French police to the Swiss border and turned over there to Swiss agents, who in turn transfer French citizens to the French representatives.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—Adv.

WAR WILL RESULT IN UPBUILDING OF U. S. COTTON INDUSTRY.

Oakland, Cali., Oct. 26.—With European and English mills closed to the cotton crop of the United States since the outbreak of the war, the California Cotton Mills of this city, the only mill of its kind on the Pacific Coast, is working to capacity, doing its share to consume the vast amount of cotton turned out from the plantations of the great cotton centers of this country.

Five hundred employes are turning the spindles of the extensive Oakland plant, which covers eight acres, manufacturing towels, table-cloths, comforters and all sorts of twine. All of the fish cord used in the great Alaska salmon fisheries industry and the greater portion of the hop twine, of which the factory makes 8,000 pounds each season, is turned out by this extensive plant.

RESTRICTS USE OF WHIP.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 26.—Corporal punishment has been abolished in the public schools here, except for extraordinary cases, as a result of the petition of George E. Dieckmann, chairman of the Humane society executive committee, who maintained that St. Louis was the only one of the big, progressive cities in which this "brutal and ineffective punishment" was preserved.

The new regulation adopted by the board of education provides that corporal punishment may be administered only in incorrigible cases, with the consent of the parent and in the presence of the principal. A thin rattan is to be used. Slapping, shaking and boxing the child's ears are all absolutely prohibited.

Dr. Mollan was assisted by County Agent Henry. When the men arrived at the farm they found several sick hogs penned for the "post." One of the hogs was killed and dissected. The lungs, kidneys, bladder and intestines were found spotted as in the case of cholera. The official spent some time in demonstrating the effects of cholera on the hog and told how the disease may be found in a pen of hogs. Following the examination Dr. Mollan had each farmer present disinfect his shoes with a wash prepared. This was done to prevent carrying disease germs to farms where there is no cholera.

Arrangements are now being made to have Dr. Mollan here within the next two weeks to give a number of illustrated lectures throughout the county on disease prevention. The dates for these have not yet been set.—Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette, October 18, 1914.

Other members of the committee are William C. Schwier, W. A. Johnson, George W. Lindemuth, Martin H. Luecke, Louis S. C. Schroeder and Maurice Niezer. Congressman Cyrus Cline and Edward G. CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Free selling led by one of the largest concerns here, more than counteracted in the wheat market today the influence of bullish cables. After opening ¼c to ⅞c higher the market receded below Saturday night's level. The close was steady at ⅝c decline.
Clear, cold weather that favored the curing and shipment of corn, made the market for that cereal weak. The opening, which varied from ⅛@¼c off to ⅛c up, was followed by a decided general sag.
Oats traders took their cue from the action of wheat and corn. Business lacked volume.

m., and from that point drive to the farmer's home.
The girl, although only fifteen years old, was unusually well developed for her age and had the appearance of a girl of eighteen. Both relatives and police today refuted any statement that she was inclined to be wayward and her habits bear out the statement that she was of excellent moral character.

Shirt Knotted About Neck.

Around the neck of the corpse was knotted a man's shirt. It is believed the girl was strangled to death and her body thrown into the vault.
The body was discovered by Lewis H. Murdock, who in looking into the vault saw a red waist. Calling a companion he made a closer examination and uncovered the body.
When the girl left home August 29 it was with the intention of meeting a farmer at Springbrook Park, opposite Island Park, with whom she was to spend the balance of the summer. It is known that she left a Mishawaka car at the park, but nothing more was heard of her until yesterday. The girl's relatives do not know the name of the man she was to meet, the arrangements for the meeting having been made over a telephone as the result of an advertisement which the girl's relatives had inserted in a newspaper. They desired that she get away from the city during the hot weather.
John Slick, who was passing Island Park on August 19, said that he heard a woman scream, but made no investigation as the cry was not repeated.
An examination of the girl's body disclosed the fact that rings and jewelry which she wore when she left home had not been stolen. Coroner T. J. Swartz and the police are greatly puzzled over the failure to find her dress suit case. They have searched every portion of Island Park for it without result.
That the murderer may have committed suicide was suggested to the police by newspaper men who recalled that on August 28 the body of an unknown man was found in the East race. It is thought that the suicide jumped into the St. Joseph river at Island Park and after drowning was carried by the current toward the dam and then into the race. All efforts to identify the suicide failed and he was buried in a pauper's grave.
The police do not accept this theory. Mrs. Charles H. Miller, aunt of the murdered girl, could not talk of the case last night because of her nervous condition. Mr. Miller, however, stated that the girl had lived with them since her parents separated some time ago.
Island Park, where the murder is thought to have taken place, was used for picnics some years ago, but it has been deserted and rarely visited except by an occasional wanderer. It is a very lonely place.
When the jewelry taken from the girl's body was examined, the initials "H. M." were found on a ring. The police went through their records and found that Hazel Macklin had been reported as missing about a month ago. Mrs. Miller was called and she identified the body by means of the clothing. It was learned that the disappearance was reported by the Macklin girl's Sunday school teacher, but it was not made public until yesterday when the body was found.
The girl's father is John Macklin, a traveling salesman of Hammond, Ind. Her mother lives at Bremen, Ind.

COMMENDS "TWILIGHT SLEEP."

New York, Oct. 2[illegible].—"The Freiburg method of producing that state of mind called twilight sleep is bound to become the method of the future in treating women in childbirth."

This is the opinion of Dr. William Wellington Knipe, professor at the New York Post Graduate Medical school, who has just returned from Freiburg, Germany, after making an exhaustive investigation of the marvelous new method of painless childbirth as practiced there.

Dr. Knipe went to Freiburg as an avowed skeptic, and hence American physicians consider his complete conversion extraordinarily significant. In an article in the current number of The Modern Hospital, the famous surgeon says: "It was only after repeated demonstrations of successful twilight sleep that at last I became a convert, and was forced to admit the poor results we had obtained previously were due to the fact that we did not follow the Freiburg method."

The doctor's article describes carefully the method of inducing the sleep by injection of scopolamine and morphine, and insists that the treatment will have to be carried out exclusively in a hospital.

South Dakota Man Says Farmers Lack Efficiency.

Such was the statement of Thomas Cooper, director of the South Dakota experiment station, made before the International Dry Farming congress here.

"Estimates indicate that the average farmer in this country receives 45 to 55 cents from each dollar expended by the consumer," he said, "while farmers in most European countries receive 60 to 65 cents.

"In an investigation of groups of farms located in townships in Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, it was found that one farmer out of every twenty-two received a labor income of more than $2,000 a year; one of every three paid for the privilege of working."

Ben-Hur court No. 15 will give its annual masquerade party Wednesday evening, October 28, in the K. of P. hall for members only. Prizes will be awarded to the most comically masked person, the best masked, etc. During the evening refreshments will be served.
